France Accepts Invitation; Lloyd George, Briand To Be At Disarmament Conference

JAPAN REPLY AWAITED AT WASHINGTON

London Predicts That Nippon Government Will Take Part in Parley; No Other Course Is Open To Tokyo

Enthusiasm in Paris Parliament When Premier Announces Decision; Two Conventions May Be Necessary

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Receipt of the formal acceptance by France of President Harding's invitation to join in an international conference on limitation of armaments and Far Eastern problems was announced today by the State Department. This was the first formal reply to the invitation to be received.

LONDON, July 12.—Premier Lloyd George will attend the Washington disarmament conference, it was officially announced this evening.

Premier Briand had already informally announced his intention of participating personally in the conference, and with the precedent set by Lloyd George, it was believed that Italy and Japan may also be represented by the heads of their governments.

FRANCE ACCEPTS PLAN OF HARDING.

PARIS, July 12 (By Associated Press.)—The French government will accept with pleasure and without reserve an invitation to a conference on the limitation of armaments, according to a letter sent to the American embassy here by the government today for President Harding. Premier Briand later publicly expressed thanks to President Harding for his "noble initiative," while the Chamber broke into cheers.

The Senate in its turn was aroused to unusual enthusiasm in approval of President Harding's idea when the announcement regarding the government's action was made in that body

"France," said Premier Briand in his address to the Chamber "replies eagerly to the suggestion for a conference from which we may hope will come to final peace to the world."

The whole house broke into prolonged applause. Briand added:

PRESIDENT OF U. S. THANKED BY BRIAND.

"I am sure I interpret the sentiment of the Chamber when I thank the head of the state who has taken this noble initiative and who thought at once of associating our country with it. It is a homage rendered the pacific sentiments always shown in the gravest circumstances.

The French government makes no reservations regarding the proposed conference, being willing, it is stated, to discuss the limitation of land as well as navy armament, always with the proviso that ample protection be assured against any further eventual aggression from the east.

The general impression made upon France by Harding's move is most favorable, as indicated by expressions on all sides. Financial circles are particularly appreciative, in view of the prospect held out of great economies in the maintenance of the navy and the army, and the consequent relief of pressure upon the treasury.

LONDON PREDICTS JAPAN'S ACCEPTANCE.

LONDON, July 12.—It was understood in government circles today that Japan is sending a note formally accepting President Harding's invitation to an international conference.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—At the Japanese embassy today it was stated that it probably would be some time before a reply was forthcoming from Japan because of the fact that the invitation will have to be considered by several councils and bodies.

WORD FROM JAPAN EAGERLY AWAITED.

By A. L. BRADFORD,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Japan today is expected to accept or reject President Harding's invitation to participate in a disarmament conference. France and Great Britain having accepted, Japan was the only one of the "big three" which had not made known its attitude.

Japan held the center of the stage. Word from Toyko was eagerly awaited in Washington.

Japan's reported reluctance was said to have been based on the inclusion in the discussion of Pacific and Far Eastern questions. These reasons were cited to show that Japan probably cannot refuse.

She would be put in the position of being the only nation unwilling to join disarmament parleys.

Japanese statesmen have promised their people to discuss disarmament if the chance is offered.

Japan needs the friendship of Great Britain, whose colonies, if not the mother government, would resent strongly a Japanese refusal.

If Japan should refuse, this country would lay its case before the world, it is understood.

Oakland to Get Another Motor Company Plant

Severin Automobile Factory To Be Moved Here From Kansas City.

Oakland and the Eastbay region as an automobile manufacturing center took another upward turn today with announcement that the Severin Motor Car Company of Kansas City now is arranging removal to this city and has taken options upon land for a new factory here

The announcement was preceded by the filing at Sacramento of articles of incorporation of the Severin Motor Car Corporation of Oakland with a capital stock of $1,000,000 in $10 par value shares.

The incorporation was announced from the office of E. E. Keyes and F. W. Cunningham, attorneys in the Federal Realty building. Both are named directors in the incorporation.

Beside the two the other incorporators are L. M. Severin, president of the Kansas City company; C. R. Morse, who is connected with the company, and J. R. Elrod of the Harvey Wheel Company of Oakland, which company has been agents for the Severin machine.

Severin is due to arrive in Oakland on Friday after a trip to the Kansas City plant, where he was said to be making arrangements for the removal. The plant has machinery valued at a quarter of a million dollars.

As to the location of the new plant decision has not been made, according to F. W. Cunningham today. The attorney said that several pieces of available land had been secured by option pending the determination.

It is proposed, Cunningham said, to make application as soon as possible to the commissioner of corporations for permit to make a market offering of the stock in the new plant here.

Pending arrival of Severin, it was stated, no further general announcement was to be expected.

Woman Fires Clothing, Dies From Burns

Mrs. J. J. Rodgers, Fearful of Being Cripple, Ends Life in Flames.

Brooding over the fact that she was a helpless crippie and would be in such condition for the rest of her life, Mrs. J. J. Rodgers, 1033 Eighty-sixth avenue, set fire to her clothing after pouring kerosene on them and was so badly burned that she died before assistance could be secured, according to the police.

J. J. Rodgers, the woman's husband, left his home for the corner grocery store shortly after 2 o'clock today, and Mrs. Rodgers, crawling from her bed to the kitchen, seized a can of kerosene, the police say, and poured it over her night clothing and then touched a match to it. When her clothes flamed up and she felt the sting of the flames, Mrs. Rodgers, evidently realizing what she had done, the police said, began screaming for help.

Tom Brown, 1238 Eighty-ninth avenue, and J. H Appieto, 1242 Eighty-eighth avenue, passing the house, heard the woman's screams. Breaking down the front door they rushed to her assistance. They found Mrs. Rodgers running about the kitchen a human torch. As they rushed for a blanket she fell to the floor, dying almost immediately from shock and first degree burns.

Ignited by the flames from her clothing, the walls of the kitchen caught fire and it was several minutes before the flames could be extinguished. When Rodgers returned home he was told of the circumstances under which his wife had died. The body was taken to the morgue and Police Inspector Robert Tracy detailed by Captain of Inspectors Richard McSorley to investigate. Mrs. Rodgers was 46 years old.

EDGERTON IS NAMED CHIEF OF WATER CO.

Former Railway Commissioner Elected As Successor To Wiggington Creed, Who Resigned For Power Work

Promises Cooperation With Consumers and Increasing Efforts To Develop Supply To Meet Population Need

Edwin O Edgerton for nine years a member of the State Railroad Commission, and resident of Oakland for the past ten years, was today elected president of the East Bay Water company, to succeed Wigginton E Creed

The election of Edgerton by the board of directors of the public utility company came after Creed had announced his intention of retiring from the presidency Creed will remain connected with the company as a member of its executive committee and will continue his interest in its affairs

Edgerton, who lives at 6 Prospect Drive, Oakland, is a native of California. He was born at Yreka and has lived in Oakland for the last ten years. Four years of the nine he served with the Railroad Commission he held the place of president of the board. This position, his record of service, and the special research he has given to the subject have given him a wide knowledge of public utility affairs.

CREED PAYS TRIBUTE TO SUCCESSOR.

"It is with extreme regret that I retire from the presidency of the East Bay Water Company," said Wigginton Creed today, "but other obligations compel me to do so I shall, however, remain connected with the company as a member of its executive committee, and continue my interest in its affairs.

"The company is fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Edgerton, and Mr. Edgerton will find under him a trained and efficient organization which has rendered substantial service to the Eastbay communities."

Creed is president of the Pacific Gas & Electric company, a position which he has held less than a year and which has brought with it a large load of new duties, and is also head of a long list of smaller organizations. In the development of hydro-electric power in the state and in the program which his company is taking so large a part he has been particularly active of late. He was also called upon in position of leadership in placing the position of the untility corporations before the state legislature during the argument over the King tax bill. He is a graduate of the University of California and his home is in Piedmont.

EDGERTON PROMISES PUBLIC SERVICE.

In taking over his new duties today Edgerton issued a brief statement of policy. He said:

"The retirement of Wigginton E. Creed from the presidency of the East Bay Water company is a loss to the whole community, as well as to the company. He is today recognized as in the foremost rank of competent and progressive public utility executives.

"The fine standing of this company today is largely the result of his courageous and enlightened conception of the relations of such a company to the public. At all times he has insisted that the primary obligation of East Bay Water company is to give service, but also that the obligation of the people is equally clear to treat the owners of this company fairly and to acquiesce in rates sufficient to enable it to operate properly.

GOOD WILL OF PUBLIC WILL BE SOUGHT.

"The service of water by East Bay Water company is a very intimate and important part of community life, and in order that the rapidly growing and expanding East Bay communities may enjoy the greatest benefits from this service the spirit of co-operation must continue and grow between the consumers and the company

"The people and the company should work together to produce the finest service at the lowest reasonable cost. The interests of the people and the company are joint and mutual, not separate and hostile, and it should be the duty of all concerned to make this clear in order that hurtful suspicion and hostility may not arise and judgments be based upon facts and understanding.

"It is the earnest desire of the officials of East Bay Water company that it be made of the highest usefulness to the community, as its property is dedicated to the public use. The company will go on with its work without any change in policy."

IRISH TRUCE IS VIOLATED BY SNIPERS

Shooting Continues in North Ireland Despite Armistice; Serious Rioting in Belfast As Peace Men Go to London

Full Opportunity For Settlement To Be Given Envoys At Meeting With British Premier: Smuts To Aid

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON, July 12.—Violence continued in the North of Ireland early today, despite the truce which became effective yesterday

Sniping was under way in Belfast, when bells tolled the beginning of the armistice, following two days of serious rioting and after nightfall the disorders increased

With the dawn of "Orangemen's Day"—the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne—the sniping was augmented by several instances of mob violence.

LONDON, July 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—Satisfaction felt by the people of England over the arrangement of a meeting on Thursday between Eammon de Valera, Irish Republican leader, and Prime Minister Lloyd George, was tempered by disappointment today over the situation in Belfast. The rioting which began in that city on Sunday continued yesterday with diminished severity.

WILL EXPLORE ALL PEACE POSSIBILITIES.

The parliamentary correspondent of the London Times says the arrangements for the meeting of Premier Lloyd George and Eammon de Valera are not to be "cut and dried," adding that General Jan Christian Smuts, the South African premier, is not to be present at the opening of the interview, but that it is understood that if De Valera desires the overseas dominions represented formally or informally "his wish will meet with cordial acquiescence."

The plan of Thursday's interview, according to the correspondent, will be, in the words of the premier, to "explore to the utmost the possibility of a settlement"

News received at the Irish office and reported by the parliamentary correspondent indicates that the last Sinn Fein shot was fired at 11:55 a. m. today at Kingscourt, County Cavan, where a revolver was aimed at a police patrol. No one was injured, and the shot was not returned.

DUBLIN, July 12 (by the Associated Press) — Irish Republican leaders chosen to participate in the conference with British government authorities in London on Thursday left Dublin today for London. They were Eamonn de Valera, leader of the Irish Republicans; Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein; Austin Stack and Robert C. Barton, the last two being Sinn Fein members of the British parliament. The delegates were accompanied by Laurence O'Neill, Lord Mayor of Dublin, who recently visited America, and by Count Plunkett.

ORANGEMEN CELEBRATE BATTLE OF BOYNE.

BELFAST, July 12 (by the Associated Press). — Nearly 40,000 Orangemen took part in the 12th of July demonstration here today in celebration of the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne.

The demonstration was the largest witnessed in many years. Up to noon it had not been attended by turbulence of any kind, the utmost good order prevailing throughout the morning. The procession, an impressive display, made its way through streets gaily decorated for the occasion.

Western Pacific Finances Are to Be Investigated

Interstate Board Orders Probe of Practices of Three Rail Lines

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

WASHINGTON, July 12.—An investigation into the financial operations, accounts and practices of the Western Pacific Railway company, the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad company and the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad company was ordered today by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The investigation, the commission announced, will undertake to establish the relations of the roads with each other and "determine the manner and methods" in which the business of the companies has been conducted with a view to making a report and issuing orders that may be proper in connection with the issue of securities by the companies.

Navy Budget Bill Signed By President

WASHINGTON, July 12.—President Harding late today signed the navy bill. The measure carried appropriations of $403,000,000.

The measure contains the Borah resolution calling for a conference on disarmament between the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Harding Warns on Soldier Bonus

Tells Senate of Financial Perils

President Says Small Bonus At This Time Would Be Poor Palliative To Millions Who Now Face Unemployment

Decreased Taxation Declared Safest Remedy For the Present Serious Situation That Confronts the Nation

PRESIDENT HARDING

Executive Would Be Ashamed of Country If It Failed in Its Duty To Gallant Men Who Fought To Save It

Asks That Congress Stick To Tariff Revision and Tax Reduction; Foreign Loan Adjustment Also Urged

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The text of President Harding's message to the Senate this afternoon was as follows:

Mr President and gentlemen of the Senate: There has come to my attention the pending unfinished business before the Senate, and it is an imperative duty to convey to you the probable effect of the passage at this time of the proposed act providing for adjusted compensation to our service men in the world war If this measure could be made effective at the present time without disaster to the nation's finances and without hindrance to imperative readjustment of our taxes it would present an entirely different question than that which is before you. In a personal, as well as a public manner, which ought to be a plight of good faith, I have commended the policy of generous treatment of the nation's defenders, not as a part of any contract, not as the payment of a debt which is owing, but as a mark of the nation's gratitude. Every obligation is to the disabled and dependent. In such reference as has been made to general compensation there has been a reservation as to the earliest consistent time for such action if it is taken Even without such reservation, however, a modified view would be wholly justifiable at the present moment because the enactment of the compensation bill in the midst of the struggle for readjustment and restoration would hinder every effort and greatly imperil the financial stability of our coubtry.

Would Imperil Discharge of Obligations

More, this menacing effort to expend billions in gratuities will imperil our capacity to discharge our first obligations to those we must not fail to aid.

I am addressing the Senate directly because the problem is immediately yours, as your unfinished business, but the executive branch of the government owes it to both houses of Congress and to the country frankly to state the difficulties we daily are called upon to meet and the added peril this measure would bring.

Our land has its share of the financial chaos and the industrial depression of the world. We little heeded the growth of indebtedness or the limits of expenditure during the war because we could not stop to count the cost. Our one thought then was the winning of the war and the survival of the nation. We borrowed and loaned —individuals to the nation and the government to other governments and to those who served the nation with little thought of settlement. It was relatively easy then because national life was at stake. In the sober aftermath we face the order of reason, rather than act amid the passions of war and our own land and the world are facing problems never solved before. There can be no solution unless we face the grim truths and seek to solve them in resolute devotion to duty. After a survey of more than four months, contemplating conditions which would stagger all of us were it not for our abiding faith in America, I am fully persuaded that three things are essential to the very beginning of the restored order of things.

Adjustment of Foreign Loans Among Problems

These are the revision, including reduction of our internal taxation, the refunding of our war debt and the adjustment of our foreign loans. It is vitally necessary to settle these problems before adding to our treasury any such burden as is contemplated in the pending bill.

It is unthinkable to expect a business revival and the resumption of the normal ways of peace while maintaining the excessive taxes of war. It is quite as unthinkable to reduce our tax burdens while committing our treasury to an additional obligation which ranges from three to five billions of dollars. The precise figures no one can gave. If it is conceivably true that only two hundred millions a year will be drawn annually from the treasury in the few years immediately before us, the bestowal is too inconsequential to be of real value to the nation's defenders; and, if the exercise of the option should call for cash running into billions, the depression in finance and industry would be so marked that vastly more harm than good would attend.

Our government must undertake no obligation which it does not intend to meet. No government fiat will pay our bills. The exchanges of the world testify today to that erroneous theory. We may rely on the sacrifices of patriotism in war, but today we face markets, and the effects of supply and demand and the inexorable laws of credits in time of peace.

Merest Prudence Calls Out Warning to Nation

At the very moment we are obliged to pay 5¾ per cent interest for government short time loans to care for our floating indebtedness, a rate on government borrowing, in spite of tax exemption, which ought to prevail in private transactions for the normal interest charges of financing our industry and commerce Definite obligations amounting to seven and a half billions in war savings certificates, Victory bonds and certificates covering floating indebtedness are to mature in the two years immediately following and the overburdening of the treasury now means positive disaster in the years immediately before us Merest prudence calls out in warning

Our greatest necessity is a return to the normal ways of peace activity. A modest offering to the millions of service men is a poor palliative to more millions who may be out of employment. Stabilized finance and well established confidence are both essential to restored industry and commerce

The slump which is now upon us is an inevitable part of war's aftermath It has followed in the wake of war since the world began There was the unavoidable readjustment, the inevitable charge off, the unfailing attendance of losses in the wake of high prices, the inexorable deflation which inflation had preceded. It has been wholly proper to seek to apply government relief to minimize the hardships, and the government had aided wherever possible and is aiding now, but all the special acts ever dreamed of all the particular favors ever conceived, will not avoid all the distresses nor ward off all the losses. The proper mental state of our people will commit us resolutely and confidently to our tasks, and definite assurances as to taxation and expenditure will contribute to that helpful mental order

The only sure way to normalcy is over the paths nature has marked throughout all human experience.

War Accentuates Burdens of Nation

With the approval of Congress the executive branch of the government has been driving toward that decreased expenditure which is the most practical assurance of diminished taxation. With enthusiastic resolution your administrative agents are making not only conscientious effort to reduce the call for appropriations, but to reduce the cost of government far below the appropriation you have already provided. It is easy to believe that the only way to diminish the burdens which the people must pay and to cut the outlay in which public moneys are expended. War is not wholly responsible for staggering costs; it has merely accentuated the menace which lies in mounting cost of government and excesses in expenditure which a successful private business would not tolerate.

I can make you no definite promise in figures today but I can pledge you a most conscientious drive to reduce government cost by many millions. It would be most discouraging to those who are bending their energies to save millions to have Congress add billions to our burdens at the very beginning. Even were there not the threatened paralysis of our treasury with its fatal reflexes on all our activities which concern our prosperity, would it not be better to await the settlement of our foreign loans?

At such a time it would be a bestowal on the part of our government when it is able to bestow.

The United States participates in none of the distributable awards of the war, but of the war, but the world owes us heavily and will pay when restoration is wrought. If the restoration fails world bankruptcy attends. I believe the world restoration is possible but only with honest, diligent work in productivity on the one hand, and honest and diligent opposition to needless public expenditure on the other

Deeply Concerned in Welfare of Disabled

If the suggested recommittment of this measure bore the merest suggestion of neglect or a hint of national ingratitude I would not urge it. It has been my privilege to speak to Congress on our obligations to the disabled and dependent soldiers and the government's deep desire to prove its concern for their welfare I should be ashamed of the republic if it failed in its duty to them. Neither armistice nor permanent peace puts an end to the obligations of government to its defenders or the obligations of citizens to the government. Mindful of these things, the administrative branch of the government has not only spoken, it has acted and has accomplished.

In view of some of the things which have been said, and very carelessly said, perhaps I ought to report officially some of the things which have been done In the department of war risk insurance there have been filed up to July 7, 1921, compensation and insurance claims numbering $13,442 Of these 747 786 have been adjudicated, at an expenditure of $471,946,762 There were 300 000 claims pending when the war risk department was reorganized late in April, this year, and the number of pending claims has been reduced by 154,344 All work in this department will be current by the twenty-first of this July; that is to say, all action which the bureau may take on a given case will be current, though new claims are being filed at the rate of 700 per day.

Less Than 14,000 Await Attention

There have been requested 887,614 medical examinations and less than 14,000 await medical action. Up to July 7 there have been 26,237 disabled soldiers hospitalized, and in government-controlled hospitals today there are 6000 available beds without occupants. You are always aware of the progress made toward the construction of additional government hospitals, not because we are not meeting all demands, but to better meet them and the better to specialize in the treatment of these who come under our care.

There has been paid out in allotment and allowances the sum of $578,465,658, and nearly $4,000,000,000 of government insurance is in force.

In vocational training and rehabilitation of disabled soldiers there have been enrolled to date 107,824 men. Today there are 75,812 men who are training with pay, at the maximum cost of $160 per month, $208 training without pay, but at a tuition and supply outlay of $35 per month. Four thousand disabled men have completed their training and have been returned to gainful employment. These earned an average of $1,051 per year before entering the army, and are earning today, in spite of their war disability and in spite of diminished wage or salary levels, an average of $1500 per annum.

It is an interesting revelation and a fine achievement, attended by both abuses and triumphs. Congress has appropriated $65,000,000 for this noble work for the current year, but the estimated acceptance of training for the year before us contemplates an average of 95,000 disabled men and the cost will be in excess of $163,000,000, or nearly a hundred million more than Congress has provided. This additional sum must be made available. With the increase of availability to training, as recently urged upon Congress, the estimated additional expenditure will be $68,000,000 per annum, until the pledge of training is discharged These figures suggest neither neglect nor ingratitude. It is more than the entire annual cost of federal government for many years following the civil war, and challenges every charge of fault to deal considerately with our nation's defenders

I do not recite the figures to suggest that it is all we may do,

Drive for Economy Is Pledged

Every obligation is to the disabled and dependent.

Enactment of the compensation bill in the midst of the struggle for readjustment and restoration would hinder every effort and greatly imperil the financial stability of our country.

It is unthinkable to reduce our tax burdens while committing our treasury to an additional obligation which ranges from three to five billion dollars.

We never have neglected and never will neglect the dependent soldier.

I pledge you a most conscientious drive to reduce government cost by many millions.

It would be discouraging to those who are bending energies to save millions to have congress add billions to our burden at the very beginning.

Even were there not threatened paralysis of our treasury, would it not be better to await the settlement of our foreign loans?

The defenders of the republic would be the last of our citizenship to wish its stability menaced by an individual pittance of peace—(From President Harding's message).

SMALL BONUS NOT PROPER REMEDY NOW

Lower Taxes, Refunding of War Debt and Adjustment of Foreign Loans Declared To Be Normalcy Essential

"Overburdening of Treasury Now Means Positive Disaster in the Years Before Us," says the President

WASHINGTON July 12.—A small bonus to ex-service men at this time would be a poor palliative to the millions who are faced with unemployment. President Harding declared today, in asking the Senate to delay action on the soldier bonus measure.

It is unthinkable that the administration could reduce tax burdens if the treasury is committed to an obligation of from three to five billions, he also said

Harding declared he would be ashamed of the republic if it failed in its duty to those who fought to save it, but he warned that immediate action on "this menacing effort to expend billions in gratuities will imperil our capacity to discharge our first obligations to those we must not fail to aid."

HUGE EXPENDITURES CITED BY PRESIDENT.

He recited the huge expenditures already made through the war risk bureau for disabled soldiers and promised more at a more auspicious time.

Three things are essential for return to normalcy, the President said——

1. Lower taxes.
2. Refunding of the war debt.
3. Adjustment of foreign loans.

PROCEED WITH TARIFF TAX BILLS.

"The overburdening of the treasury now means positive disaster in the years immediately before us." President Harding warned "Merest prudence calls out in warning."

He emphasized that Congress should proceed on the tariff and tax bills for which the special session was called.

President Harding confessed "disappointment" that "so little" had been done toward reducing war-time taxes.

He read his message to the Senate, leaving the White House for the capitol shortly after the cabinet meeting.

Senator Penrose, Pennsylvania, chairman of the finance committee, moved recommittment of the bonus bill to that committee within two minutes of the conclusion of Harding's address.

Penrose made his motion "with the assurance that careful further consideration would be given the measure."

ROBINSON SAYS IT MEANS BILL'S DOOM.

"Let no one be deceived by the statement of Senator Penrose," said Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas. "If the motion to recommit prevails the bill is dead, not only in this session, but in all probability for some years."

Referring to the President's address, Senator Robinson said that all of the President's facts "in the main, had been within the knowledge of the Senate for a long time."

Robinson referred to the President's appearance "as a dramatic performance to be used by those little souls who had pledged themselves to vote for the bill as a shield behind which they can violate their pledges." He denied that the motion to recommit the bill was prompted by the condition of the treasury.

Let's wait until tomorrow to vote on this recommitment motion," he said.

Deranged Woman Throws Herself Through Window

Physical Injuries Not Serious But Mental Condition Declared Menace.

Believed to have been suffering from temporary mental derangement, Miss Emily Gunlach, 39 years old, 335 Thirty-fourth avenue, this morning attempted to end her life jumping from a second-story window in an apartment house, which she manages, at 78 Twelfth street. She was taken to the Emergency hospital, where it was announced that her condition was serious, but that she would probably recover. Hospital attaches declared that she was not injured by her fall and that he case was entirely a mental one.

Miss Gunlach spent the night at the apartment house which she manages. Shortly after 9:30 o'clock this morning she opened the window of a room on the southeast corner of the building and, before the eyes of the people on the streets below, threw herself out. She landed on the sidewalk.

C. C. Terry of 34 Eighth street, employed in a garage across the street, notified the police. She was taken to the hospital in a private automobile. Due to the fact that none of the residents of the apartment house was in the building when Miss Gunlach attempted to commit suicide, police inspectors investigating the case had considerable difficulty in identifying the woman. Her mother, Mrs. R. M Monti, 335 Thirty- fourth avenue, was located though letters found in the room and identified the injured woman as her daughter, who, she says, some times went under the name of "Rose Jane."

According to her mother, the woman's mental condition came about as a result of her studies in "higher psychology."

FRANCE JOINS IN U. S. MOVE FOR WORLD PEACE

FRANCE ACCEPTS INVITATION OF PRES. HARDING

Welcomes Opportunity To Take Part in Disarming Discussions.

disarmament agreements can be reached the causes of international misunderstandings must be removed, else nations will not agree to limit armaments.

This expression was taken as a certain indication that Far Eastern affairs will come before the conference before disarmament, because it is in that region that the cause for misunderstandings now exist.

The Anglo-Japanese alliance is one of the matters sure to come up early in the conference, it is believed. The action of Great Britain in postponing any definite action on this treaty for one year was obviously pleasing to this government. The Yap matter will also come up if it is not settled before the conference.

NAMES SUGGESTED FOR U. S. DELEGATES.

By RAYMOND CLAPPER, United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Questions of procedure brought up by the call of the disarmament conference were under official consideration today, despite the fact that the actual gathering of delegates is still some weeks away.

Leading in speculation here is what part President Harding will take in the conference, and whom he will appoint to represent this government. While there has been no announcement, the course generally favored seems to be:

The President to take no active part in the discussions of the delegates, but to advise them frequently.

The appointment of a delegation of about four men to represent this country in the parleys.

Secretary Hughes, in all probability, would head the American delegation. There would probably be a senator, and the names of Knox and Lodge are mentioned in this connection. The names of Nicholas Murray Butler and Elihu Root are heard frequently as other members of the delegation.

It is also possible that one Democrat would be appointed. This brings up the names of William Jennings Bryan and Robert Lansing, both former secretaries of state.

League of Nations Not Threatened

By NEWTON C. PARKE, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, July 12.—Foreign office officials today scoffed at the view expressed in some quarters in England and France that President Harding's proposed international conference may be the first step in the creation of an association of nations rivaling the League of Nations. It was pointed out that President Harding's proposal for a meeting to discuss disarmament and Far East problems received the hearty endorsement of the dominion premiers, who are the strongest adherents of the League of Nations.

Lord Robert Cecil, chief exponent of the League of Nations in Great Britain, said he welcomed the proposal for an international conference.

"I see no threat against the supremacy of the League of Nations," declared Lord Robert Cecil.

Premier Meighen of Canada, in an interview printed in the Times today, praised the American offer. The Canadian premier was quoted as saying:

"To a distracted world the message offers new hope and promise of relief. Nowhere is President Harding's proposition welcomed more eagerly than in Canada. I hope it will be thoroughly successful in bringing nearer the time when wars will cease entirely."

Suggestions are being made that there should be a preliminary conference to discuss the technical aspects, thus shortening the work of the real international conference when it meets in Washington.

It is believed that if President Harding's proposition is successful, the disarmament and Far East conference will be convoked at Washington about the middle of autumn.

Hope of Nations To Be Realized

BERLIN, July 12.—(By The Associated Press)—The Volks Zeitung describes President Harding's invitation to a disarmament conference as a "political event of foremost importance," and says:

"If the American President succeeds in carrying his undertaking to a successful conclusion then the nations of the world will have realized the longing of centuries and President Harding will have set up for himself a monument more durable than the fame of all the generals of history."

The Tageblatt believes that President Harding has seized the opportunity to take the initiative which had almost been lost, through Great Britain's suggestion that the Anglo-Japanese pact be made the subject of discussion among the three powers.

"If the complicated experiment proposed by President Harding succeeds, it will, in all probability, resolve itself into a gigantic clearing house enterprise," is the Tageblatt's prediction.

"At any rate, says the Tages Zeitung, "the spirit in which President Harding's invitation will be received will be a valuable index to the attitude of the different nations toward the project.

The Vossisiche Zeitung declares that in designating Washington as the place for the conference President Harding proposes to avoid the error made by "his isolated predecessor" at Versailles, as both the President and the American delegates then would be in a position to keep in close touch with Congressional and public opinion.

Pope Pleased With Plan of Harding

By EDWARD C. STRUTT, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

ROME, July 12.—President Harding's invitation to the big powers to an international conference to discuss disarmament and Far East problems has created an excellent impression at the Vatican.

It was learned from an authoritative source today that Pope Benedict is preparing a document for public circulation encouraging the idea. It was pointed out that the Holy See of the Roman Catholic church has been a powerful supporter of disarmament.

Personages close to the Vatican, in discussing the need for international harmony, said that "the presence of an authorized American envoy at the Vatican might prove most useful in the present juncture." Those favoring the sending of an American envoy to the Holy See pointed out that the combined spiritual influence of the Roman Catholic church and the powerful political prestige of America would go far in working out the future salvation of humanity.

Premier Presents Britain's Position

LONDON, July 12.—In concluding his address in the House of Commons yesterday on the subject of the discussions inaugurated by Great Britain, and which led up to President Harding's proposal of a disarmament conference, Lloyd George said:

"The object of our discussions was to find a method of combining all factors in a policy that would remove the danger of a heavy naval expenditure in the Pacific, with all the evils that such expenditure would entail, and that would insure the development of all legitimate national interests in the Far East.

"We had first to ascertain our exact position in regard to the Anglo-Japanese agreement. There had been much doubt as to whether the notification to the League of Nations last July constituted denunciation of the agreement.

DISCUSSION WITH PACIFIC POWERS.

"If it did, it would be necessary to decide on some interim measures regarding the agreement, pending fuller discussion with the Pacific powers, and negotiations with this object in view already are in progress.

"If, on the other hand, it did not, the agreement would remain in force until it was denounced, either by Japan or ourselves, and would not be exactly determined until twelve months from the date on which notice of denunciation was given.

(Cable section missing here.)

"A broader discussion of the Far Eastern and Pacific policy to which we then turned showed a general agreement on the main lines of the course which the imperial cabinet desires to pursue. I have already explained that the first principle of our policy was friendly cooperation with the United States. We are all convinced that upon this, more than any single factor, depends the peace and well-being of the world.

FRIENDSHIP FOR JAPANESE EMPIRE.

"We also desire, as I have stated, to maintain our close friendship and cooperation with Japan. The greatest merit of that most valuable friendship is that it harmonizes the influence and activities of the two greatest Asiatic powers and thus constitutes an essential safeguard to the well-being of the British empire and peace of the East.

"We also aim at preserving the open door in China and at giving the Chinese people every opportunity for peaceful progress and development.

"In addition to these considerations we desire to safeguard our own vital interests in the Pacific and preclude any competition in naval armaments between the Pacific powers.

"All the representatives of the empire agreed that our standpoint on these questions should be communicated with complete frankness to the United States, Japan and China, with the object of securing an exchange of views which might lead to more formal discussions and a conference.

FOREIGN ENVOYS ARE CONSULTED.

"Lord Curzon accordingly held conversations last week with the American and Japanese ambassadors and the Chinese minister, in which he communicated to them the views of the imperial cabinet and asked in turn for the views of their respective governments. He expressed at these conversations the very strong hope that this exchange of views might, if their government shared our design in that respect, pave the way to conferences on the problems of the Pacific and the Far East."

The prime minister then made his reference to President Harding's invitation, which he spoke of as "momentous."

"Let me add one word," said the premier, "as to the part played in these events by the gathering of the imperial conference. I venture to say the action taken by that conference would not have been taken in so prompt, effective and unanimous a fashion but for the intimate personal consultations between the premiers of the empire and the representatives of India, which this gathering enabled us to enjoy. We have taken counsel together without reserve.

"With this result before us, I need not elaborate the value of intimate collaboration in the conduct of the empire's affairs."

Japanese Chamber Asks Disarmament

OSAKA, Japan, July 12.—The Chamber of Commerce has followed its recent investigation of the question of reduction of armaments by sending to the cabinet a memorial expressing the hope that the government will take the initiative in proposing a reduction of armaments, so that it can be carried out in conferences with the British and American governments. The memorial continues:

"The principal reasons for our advocacy of the reduction of armaments are, first, our desire to avoid, from the humanitarian point of view, the ravages of war, such as were wrought by the recent European conflict; secondly, our desire to safeguard the world's peace by avoiding endless competition among the powers in military expansion; and, lastly, our desire to lessen the burden of war expenditure, so as to enable the powers concerned to perfect their cultural undertakings and industrial development.

"The reduction of armaments is now supported by public opinion among the powers. It seems quite opportune that Japan, which has always done good work for the sake of humanity, and been solicitous of the maintenance of the world's peace, should take the lead in proposing the reduction of armaments at a time when the League of Nations is working for the establishment of the world's peace."

NEW HOPE GIVEN TO WORLD SAYS CANADA PREMIER

Entire British Empire Offers Support To Plan of Harding.

LONDON, July 12.—(Canadian Press.)—The world is on the eve of one of the most epochal events in history. This is the verdict of the newspapers and statesmen here following President Harding's offer and the British government's acceptance.

The scene in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon when Premier Lloyd George announced Great Britain's hearty acquiescence in the proposal was a memorable one. The premier spoke to a hushed and crowded chamber and when he declared that the government welcomed such a move and would do its utmost to make it a success, there was a crash of applause from all quarters which, in the opinion of old journalists, has never been equaled since the announcement of the armistice with Germany.

Lloyd George spoke with an earnestness worthy of the momentous subject and placed great emphasis upon the declaration that if the conference failed, it would not be because the British empire withheld its support.

The British press is unanimous in voting that the step taken by President Harding was made possible only by the conference of premiers, which laid the foundation for what had been done.

The London Times carries the following statement from Arthur Meighen, the Canadian premier, who will represent Canada at the Washington conference:

"It was with the greatest satisfaction that I learned of President Harding's notable announcement. To a distracted world it offers new hope and a promise of relief from the uncertainties and apprehensions that have clouded the future. Nowhere will it be welcomed more eagerly than in Canada, and Canadians will unquestionably seek every means to insure successful results from this momentous proposal."

While the conference in Washington is not likely to be held within a couple of months, the dominion premiers, it is understood, will probaly cut short their deliberations here and return home to prepare for it. Discussion of the naval problem is now out of the question and it is not likely that anything of importance will be done in regard to the constitutional changes.

Mme. Tingley's Bond Defective, Must Pay

SAN DIEGO, July 12.—Immediate execution of the judgment of $100,000 against Mme Catherine Tingley in favor of Irene F. Mohn has been ordered by the appellate court, it was learned here, because of a flaw in the bond of Mme. Tingley. Her attorneys state that a new bond will be filed and that their appeal will not be heard. A jury awarded the sum to Mrs. Mohn for the alleged alienation of her husband's affections by Mme. Tingley.

"Lost" Liner Callao Arrives in New York

Comic Section Artists Are All Wrong; Their Dry-as-Dust Professor a Fraud

BERKELEY, July 12.—Perhaps you think the fourth dimension and Plato's Dialogues and the "Critique of Pure Reason" and psychological complexes and inhibitions are the chief subjects of discussion in a university.

Perhaps you suppose that professors really are the dry-as-dust creatures that the comic columns picture.

Perhaps you guess that college students are engaged in the study of abstruse matters that draw furrows in their brows.

Well, they're not. Among the things that are being studied in the present summer session at the University of California are ice cream, cantaloupes, the history of high-powered beverages, habits of burglars and the character of foremen and straw bosses. Below, for instance, are excerpts from the recent utterances of members of the faculty:

Eating Ice Cream in Melon Horrifying

The opinion of Eric W. Allen, Professor of Journalism at the University of Oregon, and head of the University of California Summer Session journalism courses, for those who eat ice cream in a cantaloupe, is voiced in an editorial appearing today in the "Summer Session Californian." He likens them to "people of depraved taste" and as one "from whom one instinctly recoils."

His editorial follows:

"There are some people from whom one instinctively recoils.

"Deformity of body and even of mind can be overlooked but who can be friendly with the person of depraved taste?

"It is terrible on this campus, where there is so much to lead one to the beautiful and the ideal, to find such people—to find students, brazenly, in the daylight, in public places, eating ice cream and cantaloupe together.

"One shudders and turns away, yet one can't forget. It is impossible not to be saddened by such a spectacle. Even here there are such people!

"They are the people, of course, who wear scarlet sweaters with cerise skirts, who try to read magazines and listen to music at the same time, who approve of the head of Lincoln impaled upon the side of the Campanile. But this somehow seems more than their other crimes, a more fearful and false juxtaposition.

"To take a crisp, juicy melon, needing only a dash of salt to set off its luscious delicacy and to put into it—actually to put into it a food so antipathetic as ice cream, with its melting richness, its velvet smoothness, to put them together, we say, to eat them together, and then to like the result! It's horrible, it's unnatural, it's almost unbelievable!

"Alas, it's the same tendency that one sees in the neurotic verse of today, where raciness is secured through a vile association of ideas each in itself decent and wholesome. It is a sign of the decadence, of the moral degeneracy of the age."

Pilgrim Dads Not So Dry, He Says

He is needed—for argumentative purposes only—at the University of California summer session. Comes now a professor who says the Pilgrim fathers were "not averse to a round with King Alcohol."

The savant is Professor M. M. Knight, of the department of economics, and he spoke yesterday on the important place alcoholic beverages held in foreign trade.

He said the log-book of a Massachusetts bay colony ship discloses the fact that the ship carried ten times as much liquor as water. The book contains an account of two young Puritan women who were locked up "for drinking too much of strong waters."

Strange Topics Which Agitate U. C. Faculty

WOULD a real person eat ice cream in his cantaloupe?

What example did our forebears set for us in the drinking habit?

Is thinking in the discard?

What's a burglar without a system?

Childless Homes Are Held Menace

Warning against race suicide among the whites particularly in view of the more rapid propagation among the yellow races, was delivered to his class by Dr. R. G. Gettell of Amherst college, who is in the summer faculty. Civilization he said, would soon pass to the Asiatics, unless the condition was righted. Dr. Gettell said:

"The progress is so slow today, due to the fact that the educated and favored class of people do not reproduce fast enough.

"The result of all this is that civilization is constantly being recruited from less fortunate classes. This forces the generations that come after to begin near the beginning and go through many of the same experiences as the preceding generation.

"Education raises the standard of living. With a limited income it is not possible to have large families, if these ideals are to be maintained."

Professor Gettell predicted that the white race is simply building for the yellow.

Burglars' Union Has Short Night

Professor Edward O. Heinrich, Berkeley microanalyst, who is giving a course in criminology at the University of California summer session, says professional burglars have almost as regular working hours as business men. He explained to his class:

"From 5 o'clock in the afternoon until 11 o'clock at night the professional burglar is busy. Thus he conforms to the 8-hour law. After 2 o'clock in the morning all strange noises heard in the house are due to wind or other natural causes."

He explains that a burglar prefers a $100 diamond to a $12,000 violin, because of the ease of hiding the diamond. He says they usually carry a cheap pistol, when they are armed at all, instead of using an automatic, as is generally believed.

He advises the householder to leave the house always with an occupied look about it, for he says a burglar always stays away from a house which he believes is occupied.

Thinking Is Lost Art, Savant Says

Most people never think, according to Professor Madison Bentley of the University of Illinois, who is a lecturer on psychology at the University of California Summer Session. He told his class:

"Defining thought as the process by which the human organism solves the problems which arise in individual experience most people never think. Under this definition no thinking is accomplished unless an individual problem is solved or a predicament overcome.

"Problems of the race are not thought-provoking. They are taken care of satisfactorily by impulsive and instinctive action, a racial inheritance distinct from birthright."

Professor Bentley says the trend of the age is toward the elimination of thinking. He says there are so many ready made opinions which fit any occasion that it is easier not to think.

Darn Good Scout Makes Best Boss

Every foreman of an industrial plant, or other establishments should crave to be known as "a darn good old scout," according to Dr. Charles O. Prosser, director of the William Hood Dunwoody Industrial Institute, and lecturer on vocational training at the University of California Summer Session. He says even a "stronger" word than "darn" is really more appropriate and denotes a more intensive degree of appreciation of a "boss."

Professor Prosser says a great deal of the industrial unrest of the present day can be traced to the fact that present day relations between foreman and workman do not permit of such intimate opinions.

The foreman, formerly the top sergeant of industry has no chance now in the maze of efficiency experts, engineers and inspectors to make possible a feeling of actual human interest between the workmen and the management, says the savant. The only hope for the salvation of industry is to break up into smaller units, which tendency has already made its appearance, he concludes.

Explorer's Ship, Abandoned in Ice, Is Towed to Port

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Captain Raold Amundsen's exploring schooner Maud has been found in the Arctic ocean by the coast guard cutter Bear and is now safe at Whalen, Siberia, the coast guard service was advised by radio from the Bear. The message said that as soon as the weather moderated the Maud would be towed to Nome, Alaska.

The Bear was despatched from Nome some time ago to search for the Maud, which Captain Amundsen reported on his arrival at the Alaskan port was stuck in the ice off the Siberian coast. So far as was reported, the Maud was undamaged.

DISCOVERY SAVES TIME FOR EXPLORER.

SEATTLE, July 12.—Captain Raold Amundsen expressed himself as "delighted" when informed by the Associated Press here that his exploring schooner, the Maud, had been located by the coast guard cutter Bear off the Siberian coast, and that it would be towed to Nome.

"I hope that the Maud can be towed to Seattle shortly, so that repairs may be started immediately," Captain Amundsen said. "Of course," he added, "it will be impossible for me to start on my Arctic expedition again this year. But towing of the Maud to Nome will nevertheless save valuable time.

"There was never any question about the safety of the Maud. Beyond the loss of her propeller the ship was undamaged. She might have had difficulty in getting to Nome under her own sail, however, as Behring strait is narrow and something might have happened."

Stepparents' Slayer Convicted By Jury

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

VISALIA, July 12.—A verdict of manslaughter was returned by a jury in superior court here last night against T. T. Condley, who was on trial a second time charged with murder for the killing of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Silva, stepfather and mother of Condley's wife, on March 16 last. The court announced Condley would be sentenced Friday. At that time a motion for a new trial also will be heard. The jury deliberated less than two hours.

President Warns Senate On U. S. Financial Perils

or ultimately ought to do. It is inevitable that our obligations will grow and grow enormously. We never have neglected and never will neglect the dependent soldier and there is no way to avoid time's remorseless classifications. Contemplating the liability which the government never will shirk, I would be remiss in my duty if I failed to ask Congress to pause at this particular time, rather than break down our treasury, from which so much is later on to be expected. The defenders of the republic amid the perils of war would be the last of our citizens to wish its stability menaced by an individual pittance of peace.

I know the feelings of my own breast and that of yours and the grateful people of this republic.

Major Tasks Urged For Extra Session

But no thoughtful person possessed with all the facts, is ready for added compensation for the healthful, self-reliant masses of our great armies at the cost of a treasury breakdown which will bring its hardships to all the citizens of the republic. Its enactment now in all probability would so add to our interest rates that the added interest charge on new and refunded indebtedness alone may exceed the sum it is proposed to bestow. When Congress was called in extraordinary session, I called your attention to the urgent measures which I thought demanded your consideration. You promptly provided the emergency tariff and good progress has been made toward the much needed and more deliberate revision of our tariff schedules. There is confessed disappointment that so little progress has been made in the readjustment and reduction of the war-time taxes. I believe you share with me the earnest wish for early accomplishment.

It is not expected that Congress will sit and ignore other problems of legislation. There are other urgent problems which must enlist our attention. I have not come to speak of them, though the reorganization of the war risk and vocational training now pending would hasten the efficient discharge of our willing obligations to the disabled soldier.

But I want to emphasize the suggestion that the accomplishment of the major tasks for which you were asked to sit in extraordinary session will have a reassuring effect on the entire country and speed our resumption of normal activities and their rewards which tend to make a prosperous and happy people.

Beauty Asks $70,000 Ex-Mate Withholds

CHICAGO, July 12.—Miss Elida Piza, Costa Rican beauty, whose romantic marriage to Herbert P. Crane of Chicago ended in the divorce courts last fall, has started proceedings to collect the remaining $70,000 of a $100,000 cash settlement awarded her.

Crane accused Miss Piza of stripping his country home, alleging that she took everything but a stone chair weighing 2000 pounds, a hot stove and an iron cannon. Miss Piza's action is a cross bill in which she says Crane's allegations show disrespect to the court and asks for the rest of the $100,000 she says is due.

SABOTAGE CLAIM MADE BY OWNERS OF STEAMSHIP

Disabling of Liner Hawkeye State Is To Be Investigated.

Plans are under way for an immediate investigation, based on suspected sabotage following the arrival in the harbor of Salina Cruz, Mexico, yesterday of the new Matson liner Hawkeye State, which limped into port in a sinking condition, with her fresh water tanks flooded with salt water and her engines almost disabled.

There was a large number of passengers aboard the Hawkeye State booked for Los Angeles and San Francisco. The vessel was due to arrive in San Francisco from Baltimore tomorrow. According to radiograms received from Captain Charles A. Petersen, master of the ship, by the Matson Navigation company, the Hawkeye State will be laid up in Salina Cruz harbor for several days for repairs.

According to word received here from shipping men in Los Angeles and San Francisco, the vessel had been allocated by the United States shipping board to the Matson line for service between San Francisco and Honolulu.

Further details as to the mishap are awaited today. The general belief among the vessel's owners and the officials of the shipping board is that it was a case of sabotage, that the seacocks had been deliberately opened, allowing the salt water to flood the fresh water tanks and cripple the engines. The owners today expressed the belief that the Hawkeye State, which was overhauled at Baltimore before starting on her trip, was in first-class shape.

The Hawkeye State is the fourth United States shipping board vessel to be disabled recently in an unexplained manner.

CHAMBERS QUITS CONTROLLER JOB FOR BANK WORK

Four Named As Likely To Be Named By Stephens To Succeed Him.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

SACRAMENTO, July 12. — Announcement that he had sent his resignation to Governor Stephens at Los Angeles, with the request that his successor be appointed by July 16 was made here today by State Controller John S. Chambers.

Chambers resigned to become a vice-president of the Bank of Italy and manager of its Sacramento branch, recently established.

Chambers has been State Controller since 1913, when he was appointed by Hiram Johnson, then governor. Previously he was managing editor of the Sacramento Bee.

Chambers' letter of resignation said in part:

"If you are not prepared to name my successor by the 16th I shall be willing to remain a little longer in official harness in view of the necessity that exists for the signing of warrants, claims, etc., but I am anxious to be relieved of my duties here and will appreciate prompt action by you.

"Kindly advise me of the receipt of this letter, so that I will know it reached you in due time.

"Also, I would be glad to have you assure my successor that if I can be of assistance to him in the discharge of his new duties I shall be very happy to render it."

Among those under consideration as Chambers' successor it is understood are: Ray L. Riley, State Real Estate Commissioner; Ed J. Kay, assessor of Sacramento county; W. G. Neumiller, Stockton, tax collector of San Joaquin county, and W. O. Welch, Los Angeles county tax collector.

Army Surgeon Will See Nurses Graduate

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12. — Major General Merritte W. Ireland, surgeon general of the United States Army, has crossed the continent to attend commencement exercises of what he declares is one of the largest classes of nurses ever graduated in the world, when on Thursday several hundred young wommen receive their sheepskins from the Army School of Nursing at Letterman Hospital. General Ireland arrived last night. Major Julia C. Stimson, dean of the Army School of Nursing, and Miss Annie W. Goodrich will arrive today.

A reception to the surgeon general will be given tomorrow night at the Red Cross Recreation House in the Presidio. Officers from all the bay posts will be in attendance.

Gaelic Dances To Be Features of Festival Sunday

MISS AILEEN HICKEY, assisting in arranging for the Gaelic Festival at Shellmound Park Sunday.

Contestants Will Be From San Francisco, Oakland and Vallejo.

Gaelic dancers in ancient costume to the music of popular Irish songs will compete for honors Sunday at the big Gaelic festival, which will be staged in Shellmound park, Oakland, San Francisco and Vallejo are entering their cleverest dancers for the event. The festival is arranged by the original Gaelic dancing clubs of Oakland and San Francisco. The program includes athletics, bicycle races and dancing in the pavilion.

P. J. Kelleher has been elected chairman of the day, the proceeds of which will be contributed to the American Irish Liberty league.

Fifty bay city women are members of the general committee on arrangements. Miss Aileen Hickey is among those who are working for the success of the festival. A final conference of the committee will be held on Friday night.

HAS FINE AUTO CAMP.

SUTTER CREEK, July 12.—One of the finest auto camp grounds in the state now awaits tourists here. The city has prepared two acres for this purpose. It is shaded by many tall cottonwoods and has an abundance of cold spring water. All the conveniences usually found in the best camps have been provided.

MISSIONS SCHOOL IN REDWOODS IS DRAWING LEADERS

Many From Bay District Are Taking Part in Activities At Mt. Hermon.

MT. HERMON, July 12.—Scores of registrations have been received in the Federate School of Missions, according to an announcement made today. The registration began at the auditorium at Mount Hermon Saturday afternoon in charge of Mrs. R. E. Beach and Mrs. Miles E. Fox, both of Oakland. Among the people from the bay region who are at Mount Hermon are:

From Oakland—Mrs. J. M. Davis, Miss Dorothy Davis, Mrs. Miles E. Fox, Mrs. Clarence Caldwell, Miss Rose Flathman, Mrs. Charles C. Lombard, chairman of the Federate school; Mrs. L. Thorpe, Rev. and Mrs. Fraser, Miss Mary Fortin and sister, Dr. Robert Sutherland, Miss Margaret Lobb; from Berkeley—Mrs. Ruckius, Miss L. E. White and Mrs. D. Goodsell; from Alameda—Mrs. Esther Thomas.

Dr. Harvey Hugo Guy of Japan was the speaker on Sunday for the Federate school, preaching in the morning on "The Challenge of the World Situation to the Church" and in the evening on "The World's Greatest Leader." Dr. Guy speaks a number of languages, notably the Japanese, having been fourteen years a missionary in Japan. On Sunday afternoon he spoke on Siberia and the Far East. Dr. Guy was sent with the United States expedition to Siberia in 1918. Reaching Vladivostok, the only man he saw in the crowd whom he knew was President Barrows of the University of California. German prisoners handled the soldiers' baggage.

Packers To Testify In Illinois Probe

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 12.—Two officials of Chicago packing companies were summoned today to appear before the Sangamon county grand jury investigating alleged juggling of $10,000,000 in State funds.

Sheriff Masters went to Chicago to subpena Fred W. Crowell, treasurer of Armour & Company, and L. A. Carton, treasurer of Swift.

Claims that these two companies were permitted to borrow $10,000,000 from the State, on which only 2 per cent interest was received by the State Treasurer, are being probed by the grand jury.

In case the evidence presented the grand jury warrants, the former treasurers may also face charges.

Engagement Off; Hero's Pay Not Enough For Two

ROCKAWAY, N. Y., July 12.—Cupid was given another beating by H. C. L. today when it was learned that Lieutenant A. L. Kloor, heroic naval balloonist, can't get married because he is too poor.

Kloor, pilot of the balloon which came down in the frozen wilds of Canada, near Moose Factory, last winter, is unable to wed on a lieutenant's pay—$2000 a year.

Mrs. A. J. Flowerton, mother of Miss Alexandria Flowerton, to whom Kloor was engaged, gave this as the reason in announcing that the engagement was terminated.

SPANISH TEACHERS TO HOLD MEETING

The Northern California chapter of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish will hold a meeting on Thursday afternoon, July 14, at 2 p. m., in room 101, California hall. This will give a chance for the members of the chapter and all teachers of Spanish in the bay region as well as students in the summer session to make the acquaintance of Professor J. P. Wickersham Crawford, visiting professor in Berkeley from the University of Pennsylvania, and of Professor J. D. Fitzgerald of the University of Illinois, at Stanford for the summer.

Professor FitzGerald, president of the association, will speak on "The Ideals of the Teacher of Spanish," showing the field before the teacher. Professor Bransby of the University of California will recite a poem in Spanish. Dr. Alfred Coester of Stanford University, national secretary-treasurer, will preside. All teachers and the public are invited.

Retailers Organize To Reduce Prices

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—Thirty retail trade organizations have been brought together in an organization which has for its objects the attacking of all conditions which tend to keep up the retail prices. The Retail Merchants' Association of San Francisco, newly-formed, will have an educational department, research department and publicity bureau. Its officers are: President, Marshal Hale of Hale Bros., Inc.; first vice-president, Frank I. Turner of Hastings Clothing Company; second vice-president, W. D. Fennimore of the California Optical Company; third vice-president, George R. Hughes of Wiley B. Allen Company; secretary-treasurer, W. J. Talbot of Hansen Elrich's; and managing director and vice-president, C. W. Bryant.

FISTS AND FEET USED IN ATTACK BY BRUTAL THUG

J. B. Mullane Waylaid and Robbed On San Pablo Ave. At Late Hour.

Badly beaten by a bandit who stopped him at Sycamore street and San Pablo avenue late last night as he was returning home, and robbed him of $40 after knocking him to the ground and kicking him several times in the face, J. P. Mullane, 60 years old, of 3109 Filbert street, is recovering from serious cuts and bruises at his home today, while police are conducting a search in an effort to apprehend his assailant.

When Police Inspectors Joseph Enright and Eddie O'Donnell arrived at the scene of the robbery in response to a telephone call, Mullane refused to discuss the details and declared that he did not know how much he lost. Later at the emergency hospital where he was taken to be treated he told the entire story.

He told the police that he was returning home late last night and when he reached Sycamore street and San Pablo avenue a man jumped out from the shadows and knocked him to the ground. His assailant kicked him several times in the face, he said, and took $40 which he had in his trousers pocket and then ran ran away.

FORTY PER CENT OF ALAMEDANS BUSY AT WORK

1920 Census Reports 11,698 Persons in Gainful Occupations.

ALAMEDA, July 12.—There are 11,698 persons engaged in gainful occupations in Alameda out of a total population of 28,806, according to the census figures for 1920, made public today. The report on the general population survey, while not yet complete, is held to be approximately correct. It will be a year before the number of persons employed in each occupation will be ready for publication.

Of the gainful workers of Alameda in 1920, 9273, or 79.3 per cent, were males and 3425, or 20.7 per cent, were females. The male gainful workers constituted 79.7 per cent of all males 10 years of age and over, while the female gainful workers constituted 19.6 per cent of all females 10 years of age and over.

There were 3996, or 34.2 per cent, engaged in manufacturing and mechanical industries; 940, or 8 per cent, in transportation; 2023, or 17.3 per cent, in professional service; 935, cent, in public service; 1108, or 9.5 per cent, in professional service; .35, or 8 per cent, in domestic and personal service; 2110, or 18 per cent, in clerical occupations, and 364, or 3.1 per cent, in all other occupations.

POLICE WARNED BY WOMAN AND HOLD-UPS FAIL

The wife of a prominent doctor frustrated the plans of two men to stage several holdups in Berkeley early this morning. The woman was waiting for her husband, in an auto at Twenty-sixth and San Pablo avenue, when she overheard the men talking as they passed by.

One said: "We will split here and meet in Berkeley at 3:20 in time to pull off that job."

The second man said: "If that job goes all right we will stage the other job in Oakland tonight."

When the doctor came out the couple drove to the police station and the Berkeley police were warned.

Gilroy Man Victim Of Bandits in S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12. — Albert Erickson, of Gilroy, unfamiliar with San Francisco's streets after dark, wandered into a lonely section and fell a victim to robbers early today. At New Montgomery and Mission streets he was seized by a trio of footpads, severely beaten and $150 taken from him. He went for treatment to the Harbor Emergency hospital.

WALKS FAR FOR SENTENCE

PORTLAND, Ore., July 12.—E. L. Dole, 62, walked from Florence, Ore., to Portland in order to receive a sentence of four months in jail. Dole was convicted two months ago of setting fire to a national forest near Florence, but was released on bail. When time for sentence arrived he had no money to pay his fare to Portland, so, he said in court, he walked.

FOREIGN BOOZE CARGOES BARRED WITHOUT PERMIT

Liquor For Transshipment in This Country Is Ruled Law Violation.

WASHINGTON, July 12. — All cargoes of intoxicating liquors shipped into this country from foreign countries without a prohibition permit have been ordered seized and forfeited, George W. Ashworth, chief of the treasury customs division, announced today. Orders to all customs collectors are effective July 15, Ashworth said, under the recent opinion of Attorney-General Daugherty, affirming a previous ruling by former Attorney-General Palmer that shipment of liquor from one foreign country into this country for trans-shipment to a foreign destination was in violation of the prohibition laws.

ORTO RICO SUGAR GROWERS SEEKING CROP PROTECTION

nsold Supplies in New York Are Held to Blame for the Losses Sustained.

JAN JUAN, P. R., July 12.—Efforts sugar producers and others to get ether in some concerted effort to leve the present depressed sugar uation so far have failed.
R. Aboy Benitez, president of the gar Producers' Association, has en in favor of the formation of a ling committee, the holding of gars until better prices prevail, and ending of the practice of shipping gar to New York unsold to be ked about the market and finally rchased at any prices the refiners er. Aboy Benitez is of the opinion st unsold sugars in New York have lped bring about the unbroken drop all sugar prices during the past v weeks.
While there are some other procers and others interested in the gar business who agree with Mr. oy Benitez, there are apparently ge number of interested parties o are convinced that Porto Rico gars are too small a factor in the uation to affect the market one y or the other.
With the gradual winding up of the inding season in the island, it has come apparent that there are more an 200,000 tons of sugar here availle for shipment at a time when ices are lower than any time dur- a five-year period and meaning a s on every pound of sugar sold.
It is generally estimated that an erage cost of $6 per hundred unds for producing this year's gar crop is conservative and that y price under that will mean a loss most of the producers in the and.

BUFFALO BILL'S TROPHIES TO BE KEPT IN TEPEE

DENVER, July 12.—The rustic museum building atop Mount Lookout, erected for the purpose of displaying the famous trophies of Buffalo Bill (Colonel William F. Cody), is nearing completion, and the structure, which will be called "Pahaska Tepee," is one of the finest in the Rocky Mountains.

The memorial museum is close to the grave of the late "Wild West" idol and has been built "in the rough."

Giant lodgepole pines from the slopes of Mount Evans nearby form the foundation and principal supports of the big structure. Not a piece of planed lumber can be found in the building. Carpenters employed axes almost exclusively in building the tepee. Oregon redwood shingles, split by hand, cover the rough exterior of logs.

The building is 130 feet long and thirty-eight feet in width. The ground floor contains a large reception room, with one of the most magnificent and rugged fireplaces to be found in any structure in the mountains of the west.

The room that will be used for the exhibition of Buffalo Bill relics is located at one end of the structure, on the ground floor.

A balcony surrounds the reception room, and the building has a number of artistic porches, the finest of which is a large veranda at the front. From this veranda a remarkable view of the surrounding mountains and plains below may be had, with the city of Denver within the range.

The memorial was built by the city of Denver, and the museum room will be presided over by "Johnny" Baker, foster son of the late Buffalo Bill.

This Airplane Will Go 300 Miles An Hour

ROME, July 12. — An airplane capable of landing without the need of a large aviation field, able to rise without a long run beforehand, able to travel more than 300 miles an hour and, if necessary, to meander along at but a few miles an hour, is announced as the invention of an Italian engineer, Epaminonda Bertucci of Rome.

The inventor claims that he already tried out the machine on a small scale and regards his first experiments as indicative of the success of the invention. The new machine is primarily intended for aerial chasing and is to be armed with a machine gun. It is a monoplane.

ONEIDA INDIANS PLAN CENTENNIAL

GREEN BAY, Wis., July 12.—Oneida Indians plan a centennial homecoming celebration here in August to mark the hundredth anniversary of the coming of the Oneida Indians to Wisconsin after they had been crowded out of their hunting and fishing grounds in New York state.

When they settled here in the fall of 1821 this part of the country was a vast wilderness with few white settlers.

Several thousand Indians are expected for the celebration which takes place August 1 to 5. The Menominees, Chippewas, Stockbridges, Munsees, Brothertowns, Pottawatamies and Canadian Oneidas are looked for in great number.

Old Indian customs will be observed. Indian games will be played and an Indian council will be held.

This centennial celebration may be the Oneidas first and last to be held, as the Indians are rapidly forgetting their old ways and are entering commercial and buisness life of every community.

Personal invitations will be extended by the Indians to President Harding, Commissioner of Indian Affairs Burke and Governor Blaine of Wisconsin.

Two Rhodes scholarships to the University of Oxford are assigned to each state in the Union.

WA FARMER BOY INS BIG FORTUNE N SASKATCHEWAN

ıes S. Fields Entered Canda in 1907 Penniless; Is Hailed Now As Champ.

EGINA, Sask., July 12.—Back in a farmer boy bundled his bride his hopes in a white-topped ie schooner and turned northfrom Cedar Rapids, Iowa. He wed the road straight into Saskhewan, settled on a tract near and was soon "head over heels" ebt.

iat was fourteen years ago. This the profits of the once penniless will run into many thousands ollars. He is being hailed in da and other nations as a world apion wheat and oats grower.

mes S. Fields won second prize wheat at the 1915 Denver interıal show; first prize and sweepes at the 1917 Peoria exposition; id prize at the big international hicago in 1919, and took first at Kansas City the same year. prizes and sweepstakes for were won at the Kansas City Chicago expositions in 1919.

the scientific development work Fields is partly attributed the ged acreage production in the districts along the lines of the adian National Railways. Upon houlders this year rests the task making wheat growing more table in New Zealand. The Government has sent a cargo of his best seed to that country.

He has followed a simple system of plotting grain for special seed, a system which has resulted in agricultural experts placing him among the few grain wizards of the world. This year he will try for premier honors at the big International Hay and Grain Show at Chicago. The prizes, offered by the Chicago Board of Trade, total $10,000. His wheat runs as high as fifty bushels to an acre, while a twenty-acre tract of selected oats seed returned 142 bushels to the acre.

The Fields farm is one of the Western Canadian places. It is a composite example of scientific grain raising and mixed farming, the aim of every farmer in the West. It represents the determination of a poor farmer boy.

State Teachers In Session At L. A.

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—Several hundred teachers from Southern California points met here yesterday for two days' discussion of pedagogic problems in an annual meeting of the Southern section of the California Teachers' Association. Administrative responsibilities, intelligence testing, vocational guidance and rehabilitation, citizenship building, social functions of the schools and kindred subjects form the program.

Professor George R. MacMinn of the aCliforna Institute of Technology will talk on "Literature of the Bible," and Professor F. W. Blackman of the University of Southern California will discuss "Justifiable Individualism" at today's session.

Chuck Ward, who has been on the shelf all season with some muscular ailment that baffles physicians, put on a uniform last week and took light practice with the Brooklyn team. Doctors finally concluded Ward's trouble was in his back and they put him in a plaster cast for several weeks.

MOTORS REPLACE ISLAND ANIMALS

HONOLULU, Territory of Hawaii, July 12.—The day of the horse has ended in Hawaii, and, as in other parts of the world, his place has been taken by the motor car. Thousands of pleasure cars, trucks and tractors are now in service in the islands, and the automobile business is in a decidedly flourishing condition.

On the large sugar and pineapple plantations the mule and the horse, which for years pulled the plows and cultivators, have about disappeared, and this work is now being done almost exclusively by tractors and motor-driven plows.

This innovation has reduced operating expenses considerably, at the same time accomplishing increased and more satisfactory work. Several of the plantations are now manufacturing their own motor fuel.

When the delegates to the Press Congress of the World come to the territory in October for a two-weeks' session, they will find that splendid automobile roads lead to every point of interest in the islands, even up to within a few hundred yards of the rim of the active volcano of Kilauea on the island of Hawaii. The territory is spending millions yearly on its roads, and one of the largest road-building programs in its history is being carried out, for which the advent of the automobile is largely responsible.

ARMY UNITS MOTORIZED.

Each of the four larger islands is encircled by a splendidly constructed belt road, from which branches out other highways, forming a veritable network of good roads. The various army units in the territory are now completely motorized, and this is another reason why the territorial and county governments are placing emphasis on good roads. An effort is now being made in congress to obtain an annual appropriation of federal funds for additional road building in the islands.

Nancy University Recovers From War

NANCY, France, July 12.—Nancy University, under fire throughout most of the war, has plugged the holes in its walls, enlarged its facilities and is opening its doors to American and Allied students. Immediately after the armistice several hundred American officers and men were assigned to the university for various courses and out of this contact with a large group of foreign students grew the idea of developing such work.

Nancy University is reputed for its application of science to industry.

Congress To Sanction New Philippine Debts

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Completion today of legislation authorizing an increase of the Philippine public debt from fifteen million dollars to thirty million dollars is planned by Congressional leaders. Senate and House conferees reached an agreement on the bill, the House managers agreeing to the Senate amendment authorizing an increase of ten million dollars in temporary certificates of indebtedness.

WILL SELL ROAD BONDS.

SACRAMENTO, July 12. — State Highway bonds amounting to $4,800,000 will be offered for sale at the offices of State Treasurer Friend W. Richardson, on Thursday, July 14. The bonds will bear 5¼ per cent interest.

Overcharge For Beer Shipments Claimed

DULUTH, Minn., July 12.—Examiners of the Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday heard the cases of the Duluth Brewing and Malting Company versus the director-general of the railroads as agent for the Northern Pacific railroad. The case involved the alleged violation of the traffic rates by this railroad in the matter of a charge of 22 cents, instead of 19 cents per 100 pounds on 42 carloads of beer shipped to Illinois.

BLIND HAVE WHISTLES.

NEW ORLEANS, July 12.—When blind pedestrians cross a street in New Orleans hereafter they will blow a police whistle to let traffic and the traffic policemen know they are coming. The suggestion, made of Superintendent of Police Maloney a week ago, was adopted yesterday.

Wisconsin Women Given Equal Rights

MADISON, Wis., July 12.—Wisconsin women gained every right possessed by male citizens under civil law when Governor Blaine signed the bill placing this state as the first in the Union to extend full legal equality to its new voters.

The measure removes every restriction, even giving women the right to "wear trousers and stand on the street corners chewing tobacco," as senator said when they discussed the bill in the legislature.

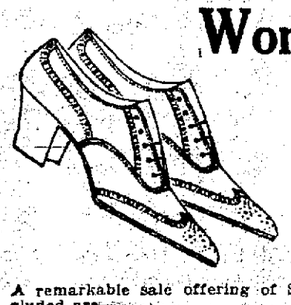

After today the women voters of Wisconsin "have the same rights and privileges under the law as men in the exercise of suffrage, freedom of contract, choice of residence for voting purposes, jury service, holding office, holding and conveying property, care and custody of children and in all other respects," the law reads.

GOVERNOR ASKS FOR SUPPORT OF SOLDIER BONUS

Promises To Work For Farm Bond Issue Until Polls Open in 1922.

SACRAMENTO, July 12.—Declaring that "men do not go as willingly to war to fight for a boarding house as they do to defend a home of their own and of their neighbors," Governor W. D. Stephens, in a statement given out at the executive offices appeals to citizens of California to urge their friends to vote for the $10,000,000 bond issue which will provide extensive farm and homesite loans for ex-service men.

Although the issue will not be submitted to the electors until November, 1922, the Governor believes that the campaign for its passage should be started at once and asserts: "I will urge its passage everywhere that I go and in every place that my voice is heard."

HIS STATEMENT.

The Governor's statement in part follows:

"I must use the greatest care and impartiality in selecting these men (members of the welfare board) who will preside over the destinies of all the veterans in this State and while there is a wealth of material for these positions, I am going to scrutinize the men and the positions with the utmost care.

"The State Legislature has passed and I have signed a significant group of bills having to do with the ex-service man in this state. In order to administer this legislation for the veterans, a veterans' welfare board has been created by one of the bills. And this board will have charge of the settlement upon the land of veterans of past wars, the vocational training as provided by the state, the granting of opportunities to acquire homes and homesites, and other vastly important opportunities in behalf of those who answered the country's call.

WORK TO BEGIN.

"The United States Government is making progress toward the coordination of all soldier legislative action in one welfare board, but California has taken the steps and is ready to act. With three and one-half millions appropriated by the last legislature which will be available August 1, a beginning is to be made in the placing of ex-service men on farms of their own, with the first preference going to disabled men. Farms may be obtained by those who wish to follow the profession, which I believe is the noblest by far of any of the human occupations. Homesites may be had by those who do not wish to farm on a large scale. Vocational opportunities are offered, opportunities for the creation of institutions and soldiers' homes have been made through these bills, and the ex-service man is protected and benefited in many ways by other legislation.

"It devolves upon me as Governor of this State to carry out the provisions of these bills, and to do so in such a way that there will be the least amount of criticism, and that criticism constructive. My whole heart is in this legislation. I worked to bring about this legislation; I signed the bills with great satisfaction, and I now contemplate with unbounded faith and enthusiasm the carrying out of the provisions of these bills in the spirit in which they have been enacted.

"Aside from the fact that the benefits of these acts are due to the ex-service man as his right, I look upon this preparation for the future care and for the creation of opportunity of the greatest arm of defense that this State can contribute to the nation. I often think of the motto of one branch of the service, which was 'Treat 'Em Rough.' That's what the men of this country did to the enemies of this country. And now would hang up a motto in this State that would read, 'Treat 'Em Right,' which would relate to the manner in which we shall administer affairs for the benefit of those men who unquestionably did 'treat 'em rough.'

"Men do not go as willing to war to fight for a boarding house as they do to defend a home of their own and of their neighbor. Therefore, while according only that which is due, we are at the same time preparing a defense in unquenchable patriotism when we put these men on the farms, where the soil beneath their feet is their own, and where the home that shelters them is also their own.

"The legislation that has been enacted only provides for the initial work of creating homes and farms for these men. With the three millions we can only make a start. But another bill passed provides for a bond issue to be voted upon at the general State election, in November, 1922, when the people will be asked to vote ten millions in bonds to furnish a revolving fund for the purchase of land on a large scale for apportionment among ex-service men.

"I will urge its passage everywhere that I go and in every place that my voice is heard. And I want to select the best ex-service men obtainable to serve on this board."

Magistrate Fines Himself Dollar On Traffic Violation

JAMESTOWN, N. D., July 12.—The records of the police magistrate's court here show that J. A. Murphy, the magistrate, fined himself $1 on a charge he lodged against himself for driving his automobile on the wrong side of the street to avoid an accident. Murphy was arrested by a patrolman who thought the magistrate was "trying him out." He paid the fine.

California Men in Search of Alaska Oil

SEATTLE, Wash., July 12.—Search for oil believed to be secluded in Uncle Sam's last frontier along the Arctic coast from Point Barrow to the Canadian boundary line at Demarcation Point will be undertaken by two exploration parties from California, now at Nome, outfitting for the trip, according to advices here.

The existence of a "lake of oil" in the far north of Alaska was reported five years ago by a teacher at Point Barrow. Natives later described the same lake, telling of oil bubbling through the tundra in large amounts.

While this oil lake, a few miles east of Point Barrow, near the Arctic coast, is said to be the object of the California prospectors, it is understood they will investigate the entire Arctic slope from Point Barrow to the Canadian line, a distance of nearly 300 miles. Alaskans who have visited that region said they believed oil would be found there.

Women Fight Duel To Death Over Man

PHILADELPHIA, July 2.—Two women at Edensboro fought a duel to the death for the love of a man. The dead woman is Mrs. Caretta Noey, a young widow. The police are searching for Miss Cora Turley. The women drew revolvers in the presence of the man, who had aroused their jealousy, according to the police, and fired until Mrs. Noey fell. Miss Turley is believed to have fled with the man.

WAS DESPONDENT SAYS MISS NELSON

"Besides getting my health back I have also gained seventeen pounds in weight, and I just feel that I never can praise Tanlac enough," declared Miss Minnie Nelson, 1415 Seventh Ave., Seattle, Wash., recently.

"For nearly four years I had an awful time with stomach trouble. My digestion was so poor that I had to give up eating all the things I liked best and I finally got to where I was almost starving myself. I would have cramping pains that were almost unbearable, and gas would form and rise up into my chest and throat and press so against my heart I would become too weak to stand up. My back hurt me dreadfully and at times my head ached like it would burst. I slept poorly, fell off terribly in weight and often just had to give up and go to bed. Sometimes I felt that I had all the trouble in the world and hardly cared whether I lived or not.

"But thank goodness my suffering is all over with now. Tanlac has meant more to me than I can ever tell and I feel so grateful that I often cut out the testimonials in the papers and send them to some friend who I know needs Tanlac. I have gained so much in weight and strength that I never felt better in my whole life. I gladly give this statement because it was through the testimonials I read that I learned of Tanlac and I think it's my duty to do all I can to let others know about it."

Tanlac is sold in San Francisco, Oakland and Berkeley by the Owl Drug Co.—Advertisement.

To Ward Off Summer Complexion Ills

To keep the face smooth, white and beautiful all summer, there's nothing quite so good as ordinary mercolized wax. Discolored or freckled skin, so common at this season, is gently absorbed by the wax and replaced by the newer, fresher skin beneath. The face exhibits no trace of the wax, which is applied at bedtime and washed off mornings. Greasy creams, on the other hand, are apt to appear more conspicuous than usual these days of excessive perspiration. Just get an ounce of mercolized wax at any drugstore and use like cold cream. This will help any skin at once and in a week or so the complexion will look remarkably young and healthy.

Sun, winds and flying dust often cause squinting and other contortions which make wrinkles. You can quickly get rid of every line, however caused, by using a harmless wash lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint of witch hazel.—Advertisement.

SHE TOOK HER FRIEND'S ADVICE

Now is in the Best of Health Because she took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Detroit, Mich.—"I was not feeling well for several years and never was able to eat any breakfast and always complained of a headache or tired feeling which at times required me to stop my work and rest. I have never had a physician and never took any medicine for it until yours was recommended to me by a neighbor whom I used to visit frequently. I took four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I am in the best of health and enjoy doing my work every moment of the day."—Mrs. L. M. DARRAS, 46 Howard St., Detroit, Mich.

It is not always in business that a woman is forced to give up her work on account of ill health. It is quite as often the woman who does her own work at home. When backaches and headaches drive out all ambition, when that bearing-down sensation attacks you, when you are nervous and blue, the one great help for such ailments is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

THE CHARM OF A CLEAR, SMOOTH SKIN

And How To Attain It

Every one knows the added charm of a clear, smooth skin—a complexion with the tint of youthfulness. Just how to successfully clear the skin of unsightly blemishes has been the greatest desire of women for ages.

Black and White Beauty Bleach is a delightfully perfumed cream that will remove pimples, tan, sun and wind freckles and similar complexion blemishes—make the skin clear, soft and youthful.

Black and White Soap will aid Beauty Bleach in removing skin blemishes and its regular use will keep the skin in perfect condition.

Your favorite drug or department store sells Black and White Beauty Bleach, 50c; Black and White Soap, 25c. Clip and mail this adv. to Black and White, Box 1507, Memphis, Tenn., for free literature and samples of Black and White Talcum and Face Powder.

AMATEUR SOLVES CRIME CLEW THAT BALKS EXPERTS

Detective Novice Rounds Up Evidence That Results in Conviction.

As a general rule, the exploits of the amateur detective are confined to the pages of fictional romances where the non-professional sleuth invariably uncovers clues and turns up leads which have escaped the trained eyes of the headquarters men. But, in real life, it is almost invariably the members of the regular force who succeed in landing their quarry, while the amateurs usually get tired of the strain of the search and return to easier pursuits. However, there are exceptions to this rule—and one of the most striking of them is the case of Isaac Deforest White, formerly a reporter on a New York newspaper, and now at the head of that paper's department for the investigation of matters of public interest.

It was White who identified the man who attempted to assassinate Russell Sage a number of years ago—with nothing more to work on than a button covered with a peculiar kind of cloth—and it was White who was instrumental in breaking up the system of peonage which existed on the oyster boats in the Chesapeake Bay. But the outstanding achievement in a long list of criminal cases handled by this amateur detective was in connection with the libel suit for $100,000 filed against White's paper by a man named Bell.

Bell had been arrested by Lieut. Petrosini of the New York central office, and was held on a charge of having sent threatening letters through the mail and with forwarding an infernal machine, so arranged as to explode the moment the box was opened. Practically all of the New York papers printen accounts of Bell's arrest, together with the details of the case, and it appeared to be a foregone conclusion that the man would be found guilty. After examining the evidence collected by the police, however, the District attorney came to the conclusion that the case was not sufficiently founded to withstand the attacks of a clever lawyer—particularly the one whom Bell had retained—and the whole affair was dropped.

The next day Bell announced his intention of suing the different New York newspapers for libel, claiming that they had made false and defamatory statements about him. The first case to come to trial was decided in his favor, and, emboldened by the payment of the damages, Bell's next step was to sue the newspaper with which White was connected for the sum of $100,000, and the chances looked extremely bright for his collecting at least the major portion of the sum.

When the matter came up for his official consideration, White argued against a compromise and advised the newspaper's attorneys to play for as much time as possible in order to give him an opportunity to dig further into the matter.

"There's something phoney about this case," he declared. "The New York police force isn't in the habit of going off half-cocked, and Petrosini in particular is generally pretty careful not to make a false arrest. His record in connection with the Black Hand outrages is good proof of that. Maybe they didn't gather enough evidence to hold Bell for trial—but that's not saying that the evidence isn't there. And, if it is, I'm going to find it!"

"You mean that you're going to try to succeed where the entire force failed?" queried one of the attorneys.

"Not exactly that," and White smiled, "but I am going to try and finish something which they started. Professional detectives, you know, are a rather busy bunch. They usually handle half a dozen cases at once, and therefore haven't the time nor the opportunity to thoroughly untangle most of the complicated ones, unless they are quite important. A hundred thousand dollars is a lot of money, though, and it would be well worth my while to do nothing else for the next six months but to try to save that for the paper."

Accordingly, White set to work in much the same manner in which he had solved the mystery surrounding the identity of the man who had made the attempt on Russell Sage's life. After obtaining from the police all the evidence in their possession—including the original letters and a fragment of the paper containing the address on the infernal machine—the former reporter began to trace Bell's life backward from the time when he had first made his appearance in New York.

Washington, Chicago and Baltimore all contributed their bit to the story which White was finally able to piece together, for, in each of these cities the newspaper man found evidence to support his belief that Bell had really been guilty of the crimes with which he was charged. Long-forgotten letters were dug out of the files of business houses where Bell had applied for positions; memoranda bearing his signature were brought to light together with a number of letters which he had written to personal friends and every one of these bore certain unmistakable characteristics of handwriting which, to the experts in such matters, was proof positive that the same hand which had written these had also penned the threatening communications some six years later. Further, to clinch the matter, the two sets of evidence contained mistakes in spelling and in English which were identical.

But White was not content with stopping here. In spite of the fact that the police had been unable to trace the infernal machine which had figured in the case, White also tackled this end of the trail, and found that the contrivance had been made from two cigar boxes, each of which had contained a different brand of cigars, and the only store in New York which handled the two brands was situated next door to the livery stable where Bell had been accustomed to keep his horse and wagon.

This evidence, coupled with unimpeachable testimony which showed that Bell had been guilty of perjury during the progress of the suit which he had won against the other New York newspaper, was sprung at the trial which ensued, and, practically without a moment's hesitation, the jury brought in a verdict in favor of the defendant. Then, as soon as it was announced that the newspaper had won its case, White turned the evidence over to the district attorney, and Bell was finally convicted and sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary—after the professional detectives had entirely abandoned the case against him.

2000 JAPANESE SMUGGLED INTO U. S., IS CLAIM

Sensational Charges Become Basis of Suit Brought in Tokyo Courts.

TOKYO, June 21 (By Mail) —That over two thousand Japanese have been smuggled from Lower California into the United States by pulling the wool over the eyes of the Japanese foreign office is one of the sensational charges made in a suit brought in the Tokyo courts by a Japanese named Harada against the so-called Japan-Mexico Industrial Development Company. Harada also charged that Japanese Consul Oyama of Los Angeles issued fraudulent certificates in connection with the activities of the corporation.

Harada charged that the corporation entered the smuggling business as a side line, charging from $500 to $800 per head to bring each Japanese across the line. The foreign office issued a statement, however, stating that it believed that the number of smuggled Japanese to be highly exaggerated because it had no records and the steamship companies had no records which would indicate that such a number of Japanese emigrated to Mexico.

Land purchased by Harada in Sinaloa was reported to be cut up into small tracts for settlers. The complaint states, however, that the tract was arid and furthermore a valid title did not vest in the company, which merely pretended that it owned it. Large amounts have since that time been obtained from would-be settlers and investors, the complaint charges, one of the principal dupes being a postmaster near Osaka, who invested 70,000 yen. He was recently arrested on a charge of having embezzled large sums from the government.

Consul Oyama, it is alleged, certified to intending purchasers that the company's title was good and has been giving the concern every assistance possible.

When the land was found by the would-be settlers to be arid, those connected with the company, it is charged, proceeded to charge from $500 to $800 to smuggle them into the United States by way of Lower California.

Chinese Labor Is Opposed By A. F. L.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor and other representatives of organized workers appeared before Chairman Johnson of the House immigration committee to protest against a pending resolution giving the President authority to admit Chinese labor into Hawaii temporarily to relieve the shortage of agricultural labor.

Gompers argued that the resolution, which was offered by the delegate from Hawaii, would permit the importation of 50,000 Chinese coolies into the island possessions. He declared that there was no question of a labor emergency.

Chairman Johnson read a number of telegrams which he said had been received from labor organizations on the Pacific Coast and asked if Gompers had done anything that might have inspired them. President Gompers replied that he had wired the circumstances regarding the resolution to all labor organizations.

Three Men Injured In Sacramento Fire

SACRAMENTO, July 12.—Fire of undetermined origin broke out in a cabinet shed of the Sacramento Lumber Company, on the Twelfth Avenue road, yesterday, and for a time threatened the adjoining business houses.

Two firemen were overcome by smoke. The cabinet shed was partly destroyed by the flames, which spread rapidly to the lumber piled in the yard. A north wind fanned the flames and in a short time the entire yard was ablaze.

Damage was estimated at $60,000. The entire property of the company, including several buildings, is valued at $1,000,000, officials said.

Al Johnson, employed as a railroad clerk by the Southern Pacific Company was burned about the face and hands while fighting the fire when scalding water fell on him.

Thirty men are employed in the yard.

Best Home Treatment for All Hair Growths

(The Modern Beauty)

Every woman should have a small package of delatone handy, for its timely use will keep the skin free from beauty-marring hairy growths. To remove hair or fuzz from arms or neck, make a thick paste with some of the powdered delatone and water. Apply to hairy surface and after two or three minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be free from hair or blemish. To avoid disappointment, be sure you get real delatone.—Advertisement.

SEA ENGINEERS VOTE ON BREAK WITH A. F. OF L.

Secretary States Union Not Satisfied With Policy of Parent Body.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—Withdrawal of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association, No. 35, from the American Federation of Labor is being discussed today at a special meeting of the organization called by Ernest F. Peggs, secretary.

"The federation has forced the marine engineers to give up many of their duties and forced allotment of former repairs on ships to shore unions, such as pipe-fitters, boilermakers and other crafts," said Peggs in explaining the reasons for the call. "This condition is making mere starters and stoppers of the engineers, and if it is continued, our incomes will suffer and our profession lose its high place. Formerly we did everything aboard ship it was possible to do in our department. This arrangement with the A. F. of L. cuts down an engineer's usefulness and burdens his employers."

If the local association votes for the separation steps will be taken at once for the break with the federation, Pegg said.

No Owner Found For Mystery Automobile

MANTECA, July 12.—The mystery attached to the Stearns car found in the brush along the Stanislaus river is a deeper mystery than ever, since the San Francisco police report that W. R. Schmitt, in whose name the auto is registered, is not known at the address given, 2227 Taylor street. They further state that no report of a stolen car has been made by the owner. Constable Graves holds the machine meanwhile. It is in perfect condition, except that the engine was missing when found. The car had been hidden away in the brush for fully three weeks, from all indications.

According to word from Yosemite Lodge the Tioga Road into the high Sierras will be officially opened for motor travel not later than the 15th of this month.

The information sent down from the valley mentions that a crew of 35 men have been engaged in the repair of the Tioga road and are remedying a condition that has needed betterment for the last two or three years.

Several cars have already negotiated the Tioga summit but the snow and mud has been a barrier to regular travel.

As a matter of fact, quite a number of motorists are not waiting for the road to be repaired, they are that anxious to get into the High Sierras around Tenaya, Lake and Tuolumne Meadows, where is some of the finest camping and fishing country in the world. Several cars have traveled the road every day for the last week.

"You can't make any time, of course, but the road is passable," was their verdict. A motor stage was run to Tahoe from Yosemite Sunday, in preparation for the opening of regular daily service on the 15th.

The heavy snow of last winter tore up the road surface badly, but not worse than in years past, according to official reports. Near Tioga Pass there still is a stretch of snow to be traversed.

As the government's fiscal year began July 1, Superintendent Lewis now has funds to put a large gang at work just at the time the work is most needed, which he is not able to do when roads into Yosemite Valley are opened in the spring. That is the big argument for permitting National Parks to use automobile fees collected by them, as suggested by the California legislature, instead of turning the money into the United States Treasury. Such a course would give the parks a steady income when travel was heaviest and the upkeep most necessary and most expensive. The fine condition of the Tioga road will demonstrate the theory this week.

HARRISON GETS PROMOTION.

The selection of Carey Harrison as general manager of the Auto Electric Service company has brought forth many favorable comments from his friends in motor trade circles.

Although comparatively a stranger in the Eastbay cities, Harrison has built up a large acquaintanceship among the local automobile men and they are glad to know that he will direct Willard policies in Alameda county.

Harrison came to the local organization from the Willard factory branch in San Francisco. With that concern he had made a creditable record in a very short time.

Prior to joining the Willard forces, across the bay, Harrison had been a captain in the army, serving Uncle Sam with high honors.

WEATHER BOOMS TIRE SALES.

The hot weather California has experienced for the last thirty days has improved every branch of the automotive industry. Tire men have profited from this boom and Diamond tires received more than their expected share of trade, according to M. H. Granfield, secretary of the Granfield Easton Tire and Supply Company.

Granfield declares that Diamond tire sales this year are the largest in the history of his firm and also greater than this line ever has had in this state.

ANTHONY GETS BIG MAN.

With George Bury at the helm of the Earle C. Anthony Inc. business in Northern California Packard and Durant sales, which Anthony will control, should show a consistent increase.

Bury is rated one of the biggest sales executives in the motor car industry and Anthony made a wise move in annexing his services.

For fourteen years Bury has directed the sale of Packard products and this period covers the time that Packard has been a factor in automotive circles. The new executive's title will be that of assistant general manager, and his headquarters will be in San Francisco.

PLANS UNDER WAY TO MERGE FOUR STATE ACTIVITIES

Meeting Called of Directors of Each Organization For Friday Morning.

Preliminary to the organization of the new state department of labor and industrial relations, as provided for in the reorganization plan passed by the last legislature, the various organizations which are to form the department will meet in the Flood building in San Francisco on Friday morning. The Industrial Accident Commission, Industrial Welfare Commission, Commission of Immigration and Housing and the Bureau of Labor Statistics will be represented.

The new department, it is claimed, is to effect economy in the four departments without interfering with the local autonomy of each. Plans to prevent duplication of work by existing commissions are to be worked out at Friday's meeting.

A governing board of four from the present commissions already has been chosen. It consists of Will J. French, Industrial Accident Commission; Simon J. Lubin, Immigration and Housing Commission; Mrs. Katherine Phillips Edson, Industrial Welfare Commission; John P. McLaughlin, Bureau of Labor statistician.

The board will have power by law to transfer the activities and functions of one commission to another and will draw up a report on the question of further consolidation which shall be submitted to the legislature of 1923.

ROBBERS' VICTIM DIES.

ASTORIA, Ore., July 12.—Murphy Chung, an aged Chinese cook, died here, and developments led officers to believe he was murdered for the purpose of robbery. Chung was found last night in the basement under a store room occupied by Douglas Roberts as a bootblack stand. Roberts was arrested on an open charge.

LOST BABE IS STOWAWAY IN DAD'S AUTO

PETALUMA, July 12.—Frantic and distracted, the parents of a 5-year-old child set part of the residence district agog and the officers of the law in motion hunting for their offspring, supposed to be lost. Leaving home in care of their children at 6:30 last evening in an automobile and returning at 9 o'clock, the parents discovered the youngest, a boy, missing, the older ones being in the belief that he was with the parents. Dad raced through town in his machine and ma raised the neighborhood. After a long search pa and ma met on F street, he wild-eyed in the auto and she wringing her hands and sobbing on the curb. Oh, where, oh where can he be?" wailed the mother. "Here I be, ma," said a sleepy voice coming from beneath the rugs in the back seat of the machine. "I'se been 'sleep." Then the town clock struck 12.

Legless Veteran and S. F. Girl Married

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—Augusta H. Hill of this city is today the bride of Joseph Schiefer, A. E. F. veteran, wounded in the battle of the Argonne, who referred to the loss of his legs as a "mere scratch." The wedding occurred yesterday. Schiefer gave his age as 21 and his address as 1461 Fulton street. The bride is 18, and lived with her mother at 1230 Union street.

Numerous friends and relatives were present at the wedding ceremony. Schiefer was a member of the 363d Infantry. He was wounded in October, 1918. In writing to his father, an official in the Anglo-London Paris Bank, Schiefer referred to his wound as a scratch.

WISCONSIN FAIR SEX WIN RIGHTS OF MERE MALES

They May "Wear Trousers and Chew Tobacco," Says Senators in Debate.

MADISON, Wis., July 12.—Wisconsin women gained every right possessed by male citizens under civil law when Governor Blaine signed the bill placing this state as the first in the Union to extend full legal equality to its new voters.

The measure removes every restriction, even giving women the right to "wear trousers and stand on the street corners chewing tobacco," as senators said when they discussed the bill in the Legislature.

Faustina Vindicated In Suit Over a Note

SAN LEANDRO, July 12.—J. E. Faustina, well-known local real estate broker, yesterday was given judgment in full against George A. Pattberg in an action brought by Faustina to collect a note for $1000 made in his favor by Pattberg. Pattberg relied for his defense upon an allegation of fraud, but Judge W. J. Gannon, before whom the action was tried, held that there was no evidence anywhere of fraud and gave judgment for the full amount with costs of court. Faustina was represented by Attorney John T. Wentz of San Leandro.

LANE'S FRIENDS RAISE MEMORIAL FUND OF $100,000

Bronze Tablets To Be Placed in U. S. Parks; Widow To Receive Portion.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—In testimony of the esteem in which he was held, friends of the late Franklin K. Lane have raised a memorial fund of $100,000. Eventually the principal of this fund will be used for the erection of monuments in memory of the late secretary of the interior in all of the national parks which were under his jurisdiction, and in the development of which he took the greatest interest during his incumbency of office. Pending that, however, the interest on the fund will be paid to his widow during her life.

The idea of creating the Franklin K. Lane memorial fund is said to have originated with Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover at the time the memorial services for the former secretary of the interior were held in this city. Calling together a small group of Lane's intimate friends, Hoover presented the project, and the collection of the fund was immediately started. Adolph C. Miller, a Californian and member of the Federal Reserve Board who had served as the assistant to the secretary of the interior during the first two years of Lane's incumbency of that office, is the treasurer of the fund.

While it is provided that Mrs. Lane shall have the interest on the memorial fund, it is also stipulated that the trustees of the fund may pay over to her a certain portion of the principal in the event of certain contingencies. The ultimate use of the fund, however, will be to create lasting memorials which will carry forward the inspiration he gave to the American people in his famous apostrophe to the American flag. His friends, the creators of this fund, believe that the meaning of the American flag to every citizen of this country has never been brought home in more beautiful language or more succinctly than in that speech.

Bronze tablets bearing this speech are to be cast, and they are to be placed on the bases of decorative flagpoles which will be erected in every one of the national parks of the United States.

Couple Take Place of Horse in Shafts

LIVINGSTON, Mont., July 12.—Compelled to take the place of his horse in the wagon shafts when the animal fell dead on the road near Missoura, a man with his wife three children and their few possessions arrived within a few miles of Livingston in a pitiable condition. Misfortunes had beset them from the beginning. Repeated crop failures had driven them from the western part of the state and their destination was North Dakota, where they hoped to receive aid.

The man had dragged the light wagon for miles and when he gave up exhausted his wife took his place until a passing motorist saw the plight and summoned help. The Red Cross here provided food and clothing and will devise some way to send the family on.

ACTIVITIES OF WOMEN

Tea Is Medium Of Divulging Betrothal

A tea given Saturday afternoon by Miss Aileen Mason was the medium through which the betrothal of Miss Genevieve Power, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Power of College avenue, and Reginald Seabrook of Bakersfield was announced. The affair was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James H. P. Mason of Ward street to which guests were bidden to meet Miss Octavia Johnson, fiancee of Leroy Bush. Baskets of midsummer blooms were placed about the drawing rooms and the betrothal secret was made known to the guests through individual telegrams.

Miss Power was graduated from Miss Barnard's school in Berkeley.

Seabrook is a graduate of the University of California and a Sigma Nu fraternity man. He is in business in Bakersfield. Guests at the tea Saturday were the Misses Leah Corde, Ruth Jackson, Sydney Vincent, Dorothy and Helen Hooper, Hazel Brown, Grace Wilson, Marian Woolsey, and Mrs. James Dorst, Francis Frost, Russell Wood, Frank Morgan, Sydney Vincent and George Mavor.

Another bride-elect to surprise her friends Saturday with the news of her engagement was Miss Helen Hambley, betrothed of George Cunningham. The interesting news was imparted at an afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. E. A. Railton of Ashby avenue. Little Suzanne Kendall, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Kendall of this city, carried a basket of golden arrows with the cards attached.

Miss Hambley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Hambley.

Cunningham is the son of Mrs. Annie B. Cunningham of Parker street and is a brother of Dr. Ruby Cunningham. He is a member of the Kappa Sigma, Tau Beta Pi and Theta Tau honor societies. He served with the Twenty-ninth Engineers in France for fourteen months.

MRS. JOHN M. DENBO of Woolsey street, Berkeley, who has returned from a motor trip to Lake Tahoe. Mrs. Denbo has just left for Los Angeles for a month's sojourn to be the guest of her father. (Boye Portrait)

GARDEN CLUB TO CONVENE.

Mrs. Frank Stringham of Berkeley will be hostess at the next meeting of the Garden club of Alameda county Sunday afternoon at her home in Tanglewood road. The spacious gardens offer excellent opportunity for botanical study, which is the motif of the society. Its personnel includes about seventy-five of the Eastbay families who have lovely gardens adjoining their homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Bart L. Thane, with their attractive daughter, Miss Thane, are comfortably located at Wawona for the summer. All are accomplished equestriennes as well as enthusiastic golfers.

Miss Emily A. Davis and Miss Marguerite Davis, of Oakland, are stopping at the Alexandria, Los Angeles. The Misses Davis are being extensively entertained by the younger set of Los Angeles, during their stay there.

Mrs. F. M. Boyce and Miss B. Bischoff, also of Oakland, are guests at the Alexandria, Los Angeles, during their visit to Southern California.

TEA TO BE GIVEN SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

Half a hundred invitations have been sent out by Mrs. Howard L. Leese and Miss Gladys L. Girard for a tea to be given July 17 at the home of Miss Girard in Webster street. Miss Pearl Tatman will render vocal selections.

Mrs. Walter Dean Brian of Bonita avenue, Piedmont, returns this week on the Yale for a visit to her mother, Mrs. Clarke, who recently bought a beautiful home in South Pasadena, formerly the Menderson place.

Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Kane and their daughter, Henrietta, are sailing July 13 on the Matsonia for Honolulu. The doctor and his family have been residents of this city for many years but moved recently to San Francisco where they are registered at the Warrington apartments.

Rescue Work in Mine Disasters Is Taught

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 12.—Carefully planned mine disasters will be staged here early in September under Federal supervision. Workers will be rescued from burning shafts, following their entombment in corridors of suffocating gas or smoke-filled mine galleries.

From such enactment the members of the International First Aid and Mine Rescue Association will be taught how to save human lives. The United States Bureau of Mines will have charge of the exhibition, and an especially constructed "mine" will hold forth in the Coliseum here.

Every important mining center in the United States will have delegates present at the meeting, according to information received from the Bureau of Mines at Washington.

Prizes of gold medals, loving cups and banners will be awarded to winning rescue teams in the life-saving competition planned for the meet.

Indian Uprising Is Reported in Ecuador

LIMA, Peru, July 12.—The arrest by the authorities of an Indian chieftain in the province of Chimborazo, Ecuador, resulted in a general rising of Indians in that province that spread terror among the inhabitants for more than a week, according to advices received here from Guayaquil. The insurrectionists, it was said, had sworn to liberate their leader.

A newspaper correspondent reported that the villagers had organized defense committees in various parts of the province to protect the families of farmers, a number of whom had been kidnaped, and that there had been sanguinary encounters between troops and the Indians.

The advices said additional troops had been sent to the disturbed districts and that it was believed order soon would be restored.

Wreck Victims Held As Tong Murderers

FRESNO, Calif., July 12.—In what is believed by officers to be an outbreak of a tong war, Ah Wah, Chinese of Fowler, this county, was shot to death on a ranch there, according to reports reaching here. Two Chinese who are believed to be his assailants were injured when the automobile in which they were riding hit a telephone pole. They were placed under arrest and are now in a sanitarium at Fowler, chained to their beds. They gave their names as Sing Hing of Fresno and Quong Jan of Los Angeles. Ah Wah was a member of the Bing Kong tong.

Loss of Autonomy Feared By Filipinos

MANILA, P. I., July 12.—If the Filipinos persist in being independent, they will be independent, Manuel L. Quezon, president of the Philippine Senate, said at a banquet tendered him on the eve of his departure for Washington, D. C., July 12.

"To what extent American opinion will be prejudiced against granting independence by biased press despatches even before the report of the Wood-Forbes mission is published is impossible to determine here, said Quezon. "One object of my trip is to ascertain this right on the ground.

"Another question concerning our people is that which has to do with the autonomy we at present enjoy. Certain people here not only think autonomy will be withdrawn, but that since the arrival of the mission the Filipino's part in island government will be purely nominal.

"I firmly believe that change will not be effected without the express consent of the Filipino people, and affirm that if the Filipinos persist in being independent, they will be independent."

Mouser Goes Into Insurance Business

R. H. Mouser, better known as "Bill Stinger," formerly with the Oakland Y. M. C. A., has gone into the insurance business in this city, having signed a contract with the Oakland agency of the Equitable Life Insurance Company under the management of Benjamin F. Shapro.

Fire Endangers Thousands of Acres

SAN LUIS OBISPO, July 12.—Fire broke out at noon yesterday on the Jackson ranch, at the head of the Rinconada valley. Forces of men have been gathered from Carisa plains, upper Salinas valley, and San Luis Obispo in an attempt to check the flames. Call was sent out last night for more men at a dollar an hour to fight the fire.

Fire fighters are back-firing near the Salinas river in an attempt to prevent the fire from jumping the river. If the fire is not checked at the river it will burn the thousands of acres of grain in the Rinconada valley and cause heavy damage.

Cause of the fire is not determined, but it is believed that most of fires which occurred within the ten days have been of incend origin.

Mexico City Shows Population Ga

MEXICO CITY, July 11.— population of Mexico City has creased more than 100 per cent ing the past ten years, accordin recent estimates based on statis which fix the figure at approxima 1,000,000. This is far above the mal increase and is attributed to influx of persons due to revolutio Housing conditions, as a result, bad and suitable dwellings are premium.

When it rains, everyone wants coal at the same time

It isn't only what coal costs—it's what service costs which helps to make the fuel bill high.

When dealers are expected to maintain an organization, delivery equipment and storage facilities—when they are compelled to tie up huge sums in coal for many months in order to supply the demand during a few months, the people must expect to pay for the service.

When it rains, everyone wants coal at the same time. Extra men have to be employed to deliver it. Wet streets add to the cost of operating trucks. Service is slow compared to what it would be under favorable weather conditions—more expensive as a result.

Such a state of affairs would be bad enough, from an economic standpoint, even if plenty of coal could be assured. But dealers have no facilities for storing coal in sufficient quantities to supply a season's demand.

If everyone would only purchase, at least part of their winter's fuel during the summer months, the price of coal throughout the nation would be less.

In order to help abolish a twisted, vicious, economic condition, the Coal Dealers have reduced the price $1.00 a ton on coal bought now for immediate delivery.

Be wise, economize! Take advantage!

POLICEMAN USES GUN IN MAKING DOUBLE ARREST

Joseph Suppe Shot in Hip By Charles Nightengale During Fight in Room.

Joseph Suppe was shot in the hip by Officer Charles Nightengale when he resisted being arrested on a statutory charge in a rooming house at 710 Clay street. According to the police report Suppe and Pasquale Gillie are accused by a young school boy. Nightengale was in the room waiting to catch the men in the act of committing the alleged crime.

When he placed them both under arrest Suppe started to struggle with him and as a result Nightengale shot him in the hip. He was taken to the Emergency hospital where he was treated and latter removed to the county hospital. Gillie is being held in the city prison for investigation.

Chief of Police James Drew and Deputy District Attorney Frank Shea went to the Emergency hospital and took a statement from the wounded man. According to Drew, he admitted his guilt. Drew says that Nightengale did not shoot until both of the men attacked him.

Uion Workers Are Arrested in Matewan

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 12.—Five members of the United Mine Workers, including A. D. Lavender, an organizer, were arrested Monday at Matewan, according to word received today by C. F. Keeney, president of District No. 17, United Mine Workers of America. Lavender previously had been arrested charged with the violation of the proclamation of martial law for carrying a pistol, but was released recently on a writ of habeas corpus by the state supreme court.

BELLEAU BURIAL ASKED.

PARIS, July 12 (by the Associated Press).—Lawrence L. Kent, historian of the graves registration service, who was gassed six times during the war when he was sergeant in Company B, 42d Engineers, was found dead in bed here with a bullet in his heart. Kent left a letter asking his commanding officer to have him buried with his fallen comrades of the Second division in Belleau Wood.

San Francisco News

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—Definite information to the effect that John Exnicios, federal supervising prohibition agent, had been appointed federal prohibition district supervisor, arrived here today from Washington. Exnicios will consolidate his office with that of Federal Prohibition Director E. Forrest Mitchell.

Exnicios stated today that bay city breweries were making 5 per cent beer and over without having first secured a permit from the federal prohibition director. He said he had given orders to investigate every brewery listed.

Application for a rehearing in the case of the inheritance tax award to the state, from the lands of the late William Lamb, wass denied today by the State Supreme Court, and the petition of James L. Atteridge, Sacramento, and John W. Carrigan, Los Angeles, state inheritance tax attorneys, was characterized as "flippant, disrespectful in tone and insulting." The decision of the lower court awarded the state $42,248 inheritance taxes on the Lamb property, on the grounds that the taxes were computed on the value of the land at the time of Lamb's death two years after it had been transferred to his wife, Elizabeth Lamb.

Weighing more than a ton, the body of a 15-foot walrus was washed up on the beach below Mussel Rocks today. Appearance of the sea animal in Central California waters is unusual, as the walruss, as a rule, is found only in Arctic waters.

A woman able to support herself, and who has been doing it for several years is not entitled to alimony, declared Superior Judge George Mogan yesterday in granting a divorce to Ann Winkleman, 150 Joyce street, from Alvin Winkleman, ticket agent. Judge Mogan found, after questioning Mrs Winkleman, that she was able to support herself and there were no children

Mrs Minna B. Condon, 3224 Twenty-fifth street, in filing suit for separate maintenance against Falter G. Condon, advocated a Ku Klux Klan in San Francisco to settle all scores with "vampires and home breakers." Mrs. Condon charged that during her absence from home, her husband became infatuated with a woman from San Leandro whom she declared was married. Mrs. Condon asserted in her complaint that she would gladly join an association of night riders to preserve the integrity of the home.

Formal complaint charging Mrs. Helen Burke with murder was made and hearing of the case was postponed yesterday by Police Judge O'Brien. Detective Timothy Bailey swore to the charge of murder. The case was continued until July 21. Mrs. Burke is alleged to have shot and killed her husband Saturday night while they were walking near St. Dominic's church on Pierce street.

Three indictments against Otto Swoboda, charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses were returned last night by the Grand Jury Swoboda is alleged to have obtained $2525 for importation of furniture from Austria and Armenia which has never arrived.

Milk prices have dropped one cent a quart, making the retail price 14 cents from milk dealers and 13 cents from grocers, resulting in the lowest prices since the war According to William Moore of the Milk Dealers' Association, the low prices were made possible by the reduced wholesale cost of 17c a gallon by the producers.

Suit for $2500 was filed today against the estate of John T O'Brien by Miss Florence Adams, who was riding with O'Brien when he was killed, when his automobile overturned near Gilroy in October, 1920. Suit is based on a check made in her favor May 24, 1920, for $2500.

A spectacular automobile chase of forty blocks from the waterfront to 217 Fillmore street, in which two motorloads of customs inspectors from the office of Surveyor of Customs J. S Irby, figured as pursuers ended in the capture and arrest of Albert E. Johnson, alias A. A. Liljefelt, an Austrian, and the seizure of ten barrels of aged Canadian whisky, valued at $8000.

The wild race through crowded city streets was the thrilling climax to a 72-hour vigil kept by the customs men over the unusual consignment of lime for the "American Lime Company" on the steamer Admiral Dewey from Vancouver, B. C. Liljefelt was placed in custody, and the whisky seized, pending efforts of the customs officials of the northern city to locate the sender

Thomas Jones, trayboy, employed at a sanitorium in Los Gatos, operated by Dr William Voorsanger, has just been informed that he owns property valued at $53,000, but he intends to stick with his present job. Jones purchased land at $7 an acre several years ago in Louisiana and several months ago he received a request from relatives to bore for oil there. Jones told his employer yesterday that he believed there was a joker in the offer somewhere and that he intended to hang on to his job.

Mrs. Marie Abelein, a San Francisco woman, proprietor of a shop at Geary and Stockton streets, was granted a divorce from Teo Abelien in the superior court, when she produced letters and other evidence that her husband had been a major in the German army during the war and that he had willingly fought against the allies until taken prisoner three years after the war began. She showed letters in which her husband charged her with infidelity

Move Made By State in Pickford Hearing

RENO, Nev., July 12.—As the first step in an appeal from the Mary Pickford case decision of Judge Langan last week, in which he granted the motion to quash the service of summons to the actress to show cause why her divorce should not be set aside, the state attorney-general has filed his bill of exceptions at Minden courthouse. He takes exception to the ruling that the state was represented by the court itself at the hearing and also to the ruling that the granting of the decree stopped the state from further proceedings.

OREGON WAGES CUT.

SALEM, Ore., July 12.—Licensed employment offices in Oregon for the first six months of the year 1921 placed in positions a total of 20,282 persons as against 52,969 persons in the same period in the year 1920, according to a report prepared here today by C. MASTER MINDS CALLED TO AID OF U. S. SHIP BOARD

Partnership Effected With Private Owners To Place Flag On All Seas.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The United States shipping board through its chairman, A. D. Lasker, has announced the formation of a "partnership" with the private shipowners and operators of America for the upbuilding of the American merchant marine. Private owners will furnish master-minds of the shipping business to establish the fleet on the seven seas.

As a starter, private shipping business canvassed their own ranks and selected the three men to act as operators of the government-owned fleet at a total salary of $95,000 a year.

They are:

J. Barston Smull of New York, vice-president of J. H. Winchester & Co., the largest ship-brokerage company in America, who was the unanimous choice of private owners and operators.

William J. Love of New York, assistant American manager for Furness, Withy & Co., Ltd., one of the largest shipping firms of Great Britain.

A. J. Frey of Los Angeles and San Francisco, who managed the operation of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company at the time that company had the largest fleet of steamships on the Pacific ocean.

TO BUILD UP FLEET.

These ship operators will be installed as vice-presidents of the emergency fleet corporation, which is being revived under the Lasker plan, for bringing the fleet to a state of efficiency that will make its sale possible when worldwide economic conditions are ready. Chairman Lasker will sit as chairman with the board of operations in deciding all questions of policy.

This plan was submitted to President Harding at the White House by Lasker and two of the operators, Smull and Love. The President, like the Shipping Board itself, gave his approval and promised his support for any legislation necessary to make complete the revival of the fleet corporation.

From now on the Shipping Board will function exactly as the Interstate Commerce Commission does toward railroads, it was explained. The Emergency Fleet Corporation, with the Shipping Board officers as its executives, will deal exclusively with the operation of the ships, as originally intended. There will be five vice-presidents—the three operators, the general counsel, Elmer Schlesinger, and one yet to be named.

SETTLEMENT OF CLAIMS.

The fifth vice-president will be charged with full responsibility for the sale of ships and salvage. The settlement of the $200,000,000 of claims outstanding against the board will fall within the jurisdiction of the fourth vice-president, who is the general counsel of the Shipping Board.

Sanborn Named New Member of Park Directors

Is Florist and Landscape Engineer; Will Beautify City Hall Plaza.

Edgar M. Sanborn, Oakland florist and graduate of the University of California College of Agriculture, was today appointed by Mayor Davie as a member of the Board of Park Directors, succeeding Dr. S. H. Buteau. The council ratified the appointment immediately.

Sanborn is the son of the late H. M. Sanborn, a pioneer Oakland resident. He graduated from the University in the class of 1906 and took charge of the Berkeley branch of his father's floral and seed business. Sanborn laid out and planted many of the landscape grounds around big Oakland homes.

Sanborn is a member of the Oakland Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce, Athenian-Nile club and Merchants' Exchange.

The new park director believes in the beautification of City Hall Plaza because, he says, it is the one central spot where visitors can be impressed with the beauty of the city.

"I am pledged to the mayor to make the plaza the most beautiful rose and flower garden in the United States," says Sanborn.

Evacuation By Allies May Be League Topic

PARIS, July 12.—(By Associated Press.)—The Allied Supreme Council probably will meet toward the end of this month, either in Boulogne or in Paris, it was announced today by the French foreign office. The Upper Silesian question will be uppermost in the discussion and it is expected Great Britain may bring up the question of the evacuation of Duesseldorff, Duesburg and Ruhrort as a recognition of the disposition of the present German government to carry out the terms of the Versailles treaty.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

BERLIN, July 12.—War clouds are again rolling up along the Polish-Russian border, according to Warsaw despatch to the Neue Berliner Zeitung. It is charged in Warsaw that Soviet Russia is interfering unduly in Polish affairs. George Tchitcherin, the Russian foreign minister, is reported to have sent a note to Warsaw accusing the Poles of violating the Riga peace treaty.

Two Perish in B. C. Fire; Loss $100,000

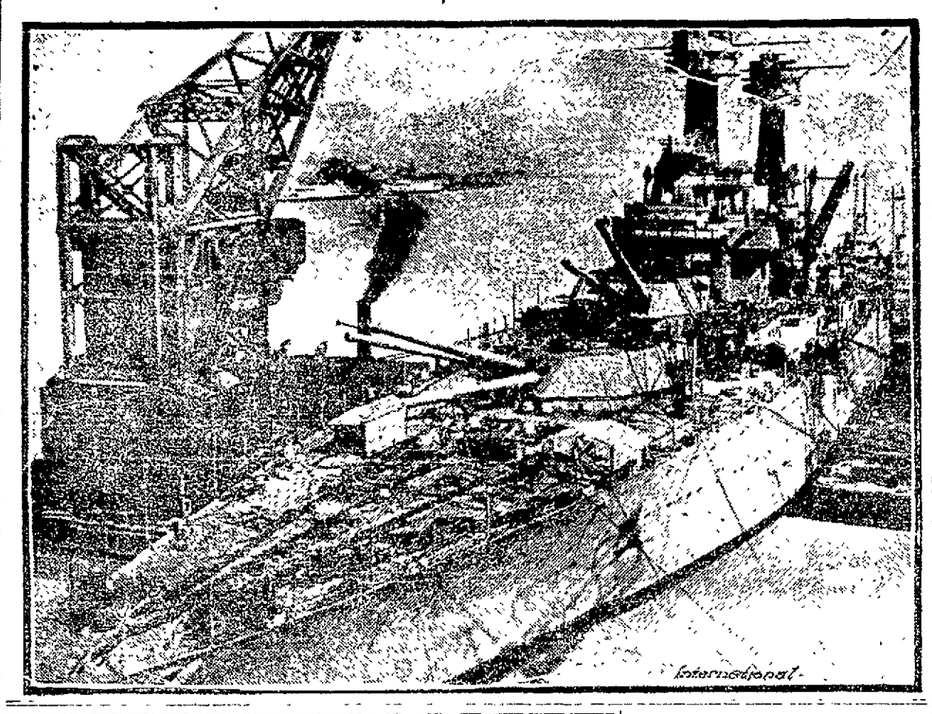

ASHCROFT, B. C., July 12.—At least two lives were lost in a fire at Williams Lake, B. C., which started Sunday night, apparently from an overheated oil stove, and was brought under control today after it had destroyed the postoffice, telegraph office, a business block and several dwellings, inflicting damage estimated at $100,000.

WANT SHADE TREES.

NEWMAN, July 12.—Having united in a move to obtain shade trees along the new highway between Gustine and Newman, the chambers of commerce of the two towns will urge the matter before the supervisors of Stanislaus and Merced counties.

Women Plan Crusher for Jazzy Dress in Schools

Fade out the georgette waist, gauze silk stockings, abbreviated skirts, expensive fabrics and French heels for high school girls. The newly organized Soroptimist club would put the crusher on girlish vanities. Business and professional women of the city assembled at the weekly luncheon of the club yesterday at Hotel Oakland pledged support to Mrs. Georgia C. Ormsby, school director, in her campaign for the adoption of a uniform dress for girls in Oakland's high schools.

"The matter of dress especially in high schools, is a most serious problem for girls," Mrs. Ormsby declared. "Taking their minds off of clothes, will give opportunity to them for mental development. Girls should be dressed for their business of study, as the nurses are for their profession."

MOTHERS FAVOR IT.

"Objection to school uniforms is made that it would take away all expression of individuality. School dress never expresses a girl's individuality," the speaker commented. "I have not found one mother who opposes the high school uniformity of dress. The teachers favor the movement. No opposition has developed from the girls themselves."

According to Miss Alice Brookman, executive secretary of the Young Woman's Christian Association, a standard dress for high school girls would naturally solve the problem of the georgette waist and open-work stockings. In many "Y" clubs a uniform dress is adopted, according to Miss Brookman, to afford all girls an opportunity to meet on the same plane.

UNIFORM DRESS URGED.

Mrs. Mary Hughes Patterson and Mrs. Doris C. Tilton advocated standard dress for the sake of the young women themselves.

Among other speakers were Mrs. Sylvia G. Sternberg, Sue L. Ballard, Dr. Mary Green Linteker.

The Soroptimist club has been incorporated under the laws of the State of California. Its membership will include a representative of each profession and business in the city. The charter list will remain open several weeks. Upon its close, a constitution and by-laws will be adopted and officers elected.

Governors of Three States To Attend Salinas Rodeo

SALINAS, July 12.—Announcement was made today by the committees in charge of the tenth annual rodeo of "Governor's Day," which will be on July 28, the rodeo beginning on July 27 and ending July 31. For Governor's Day, Mayor George A. Daugherty has invited Governor William D. Stephens of California, Governor Campbell of Arizona and Governor Boyle of Nevada. The executives of these States are expected to be present, as the ranchers and cattlemen both of Arizona and Nevada will be heavy participants.

Variety will be given by the presence, it is expected, of Douglas Fairbanks and Mrs. Fairbanks, who was Mary Pickford. Fairbanks has been a star feature at southern rodeos and is a rider of note who takes a keen delight in participating in rodeo contests.

The success of the rodeo features is practically assured from the number of entries listed, and the different committees will make particularly effective efforts to have the agricultural and stock fair, in conjunction with the rodeo, the most extensive ever held. Entries are being received from Monterey, San Benito, San Luis Obispo and Santa Cruz counties, and the committees request that farmers and stockmen of these counties, as well as other counties, enter their animals and products at once.

The famous and colorful cowboy and cowgirl costumes that were more or less abandoned during the war period rodeos, will be revived. Many of the cowboys have signified their intention of garbing themselves in the typical, picturesque rancho costumes, including sombreros and highly colored shirts. The effect is expected to be spectacular when the opening parade is held on the morning of Wednesday, July 27. The committee announces that it will feed all horses that are ridden in the parade, the riders being admitted free, even though they do not participate in any other events.

"Skeeter" Bill and Dorothy Morrell will direct, each night of the rodeo, an old-fashioned Wild West "cow-camp ball."

NATIVE SONS PLAN MASQUE FUNCTION

The masque ball which the grand parlor committee, Native Sons of the Golden West, will give in Arcadia dance hall on Thursday night will celebrate the Fall of the Bastile and initiate a series of functions for the benefit of the $6000 fund for the entertainment of delegates and visitors here next year. National, international and state flags will combine with parlor banners and colors in the decorations.

Past presidents' association, N. S. G. W. and N. D. G. W.; Alameda County Extension committee, N. S. G. W., and all of the Alameda county parlors are sponsoring the benefit. The committee on arrangements includes: E. F. Garrison, Athens Parlor, No. 195; J. P. Cronin, Fruitvale Parlor No. 252; Chester H. Case, Oakland Parlor, No. 50; Louis Pierrotti, Piedmont Parlor, No. 120; Charles F. Carrigan, Athens Parlor No. 195.

Officers of the 1922 Grand Parlor committee are: Harry G. Williams, grand first vice-president, Oakland Parlor, No. 50; William J. Hayes, grand second vice-president, Berkeley Parlor, 210; Frank C. Merritt, grand historiographer, Brooklyn Parlor, No. 151; E. F. Garrison, treasurer, Athens Parlor, No. 195. Subcommittees have been named from the 17 Alameda county parlors.

GARBAGE CONTRACT SIGNED.

RICHMOND, July 12.—The contract with the Richmond Scavenger Company, whereby the city gives the company exclusive right to collect and dispose of garbage here for the next ten years, was signed by the mayor and city clerk last night. A change in the original contract, providing that the scavenger company must furnish all oil required to properly burn garbage, was approved by both parties.

ON LIBRARY BOARD.

RICHMOND, July 12.—W. D. Mason and George B. Fredenburg were last night reappointed members of the Richmond public library board. The appointments were made by Mayor E. J. Garrard and approved by the council.

WOMAN TRAINS FOR GUN WORK

Prosecuting Attorney Fred Donohue told Mrs. Jacob M. Schaffer that if she ever desired to join the police department he would recommend her highly for the position. The offer was made by Donohue after she had related how she had held Leslie Walker, colored, covered with a revolver while her husband notified the police.

When asked if she would have shot Walker if he attempted to escape she answered "I certainly would have."

Schaffer heard a noise in one of the lower rooms on the night of July 4. He took his revolver and went into the room and covered the burglar. He then handed the gun to his wife while he telephoned to the police. Walker was held to answer to the charge of burglary in the Superior court by Police Judge Mortimer Smith with bail set at $2000.

Contract For New School Is Awarded

PATTERSON, July 12.—Contract for Patterson's new grammar school has been let and work is to be commenced at once. The structure will stand on North Fifth street, between L and M streets. It will consist of two offices, a library, two lunch rooms, a manual training and science room. It will be equipped with every modern convenience. The school will be ready for occupancy by January 1.

FICTION TO BE TOPIC.

Present Day Fiction" will be discussed by Mrs. Nalbro Bartley, well-known writer, before the Thursday luncheon of the Business and Professional Woman's Club. The weekly luncheons are held at Hotel Harrison. Mrs. Gladys Barndollar, president, will preside as chairman.

A picnic dinner is being arranged at Hinkel park on July 28.

Fire Destroys Brentwood Pig Grower's Plant

Pedigree Records of Thoroughbred Hogs Are Lost With House.

BRENTWOOD, July 12.—A spectacular fire of unknown origin destroyed the residential property, barn, cook house and vacant house belonging to William Houghken. The property is situated about four miles east of Brentwood. The Houghkens were away on a vacation trip and the men in charge were up to the hog ranch and on their arrival on the scene were occupied in getting the live stock out of the barns. Houghken lost all records of his pedigree hogs.

A few volunteer fire fighters went from Brentwood, arriving in time to save a small outhouse that was already on fire. The chemical engine responded, but was not put into operation, as the flames were nearly spent. A wagon, hayrack, buckboard and other minor tools were pulled out of the flames and taken to safety. The loss, covered by insurance, is estimated to be between $10,000 and $12,000.

Brentwood and Oakley played rather a slow game of ball on the home diamond Sunday afternoon, the visitors winning out in a 7-6 score. The locals were one man short and put in an Oakley player on the first sack, and it was quite evident that he could stand a little more practice. Three errors were chalked up against him, all of which were easy chances. Oakley played a good game with two new players, Evans in center and Mittwall, pitcher. This ends the first half of the season's series, won by Concord. The first game of the second half of the series starts next Sunday and the winner of that plays Concord a three-game series for the championship of the three "C" league of the county.

The remains of Peter Hansen, who was drowned at Clifton court last week, were discovered Sunday and brought to Brentwood by Undertaker George Shafer. They were laid away in the Union Cemetery Monday morning after Dr. Cook held a post-mortem examination. He had no known relatives in this country. He was about 50 years old.

Hayward Items

HAYWARD, July 12.—Owing to the unavoidable absence of Judge Frank Mitchell, Jr., yesterday, several speed cases and some civil suits were carried over for one week.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Joseph Silveira of Castro Valley will take place in All Saints Church tomorrow. The deceased has been a resident of the valley for a number of years, and leaves many friends in this section. Interment will be in the Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

The recent hot spell has done considerable damage to the apricot crop in this region, according to officials of the local canneries. Low prices offered by the canneries, partly on account of the condition of the fruit, has stimulated the sale of 'cots through the commission merchants. A few of the local growers are shipping their crops to other points along the coast.

The rumor that Hayward was to have a daily paper has been heard on the street once more, but no verification of the statement can be obtained.

Local grammar schools will open on the day following the close of the Eden Township Farm Products Show, August 15. The site election for the Hayward grammar schools is called for July. Unless building is begun at once, following that election, there are going to be some two or three hundred children in Hayward for whom school will never open this year, states Jacob Harder, clerk of the school board of trustees.

With Mae Pimentel, candidate for queen of the Eden Township Farm Products Show, from the California Conserving company, going to Oakland to sell tickets and obtain votes in the contest, and Zelda, another of the contestants, getting yards of publicity in the towns east of Hayward, it would seem as though the contest was spreading over the entire county, states J. Y. Viery, chairman of the committee in charge of this feature. Record crowds are expected at the coming show.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Moody are spending a month's vacation in the northern part of the state. They are making the trip by automobile and trailer, camping en route. They will return some time in the first part of August.

STILLMAN GAINS VICTORY IN NEW REFEREE RULINGS

"Dearest Honey" Letter From Guide Is Restored To Record of Case.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., July 12.—Surrogate Daniel J. Gleason, referee in the James A. Stillman divorce and legitimacy action, last evening handed down a decision, ruling on nine points of law raised by Colonel William Rand, counsel to the banker.

The findings of the referee, final and subject to reversal only upon appeal to the higher courts, were regarded as a distinct victory for the banker. Gleason, after a study of all the evidence thus far presented sustained seven of the nine points raised by Colonel Rand and, according to one authority, virtually concluded that the banker had proved that he could not have been the father of Baby Guy Stillman. This view, however, may be upset when the defense later presents evidence that the banker and his wife had lived under one roof.

LETTER BACK IN RECORD.

The judgment of the referee, given to newspaper men here with the consent of all attorneys in the case, restored to the record of the case one damaging bit of evidence against Mrs. Stillman—the "dearest honey" letter of May 20, 1919, from Fred Beauvais to Mrs. Stillman, known in the suit as exhibit 11 and exhibit 12. The return of this communication to the record was a reversal of a previous Gleason ruling.

The referee's ruling also made a permanent part of the case the "rolled oats and bacon" letter, dated February 11, 1919, which, up to now, was in the record only on "the basis of present proof."

The nine points of law were presented in typewritten form to Referee Gleason by Colonel Rand several days after the last Poughkeepsie hearing. As they came from the referee the wording of the nine was practically the same — except that alongside the sustained points the word "admitted" appeared. This notation did not appear beside points two and three, since there was apparently no question of decision to be made on these—both of them being merely statements of fact by Colonel Rand.

RUSSELL'S WORDS OUT.

The result, however, of failure to sustain the statements of fact was interpreted as definitely removing Dr. Russell's testimony, and as disallowing attempts to introduce by letter or conversation any alleged admissions by Stillman of Fred K. Beauvais on the paternity issue.

Farmer Starts Serious Fire; Is Held in Jail

El Verano Man Causes Loss of Cottage and Poultry Plant.

SANTA ROSA, July 12.—Charged with having started a fire that burned over 200 acres of land, destroyed a five-room cottage, three large chicken houses, and a number of sheds and outhouses, W. T. Higgs, of El Verano, is held in the county jail.

Higgs says he started the fire to burn away grass surrounding his property to prevent accidental fires from sweeping the ranch. He forgot to watch his fire and it got beyond control. A squad of men, led by Deputy Fire Warden Jack Murray of Sonoma, and the Boyes Spring chemical truck stopped the fire from reaching a line of valley resorts.

Council Acts Upon Macdonald Avenue

RICHMOND, July 12.—Steps looking to the immediate improvement of the Macdonald avenue subway under the Southern Pacific tracks was taken by the city council last night. It was pointed out in the council meeting that the pedestrian subway should be constructed first to avoid blocking pedestrian traffic and forcing a detour of two blocks. This tunnel is to be constructed by the Southern Pacific company. It was also pointed out that it would be necessary to do the grading and street work in two jobs, taking one side at a time, in order to prevent a tie-up in street car service.

The council appointed City Manager J. A. McVittie and Street Superintendent H. D. Chapman a committee to confer with the railroad company and the street car company upon the method of doing the work. An effort will be made to have the pedestrian tunnel started at once in order that it may be completed before the other work is started.

Picture Studio Is Menaced By Fire

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—The studios and property of the Metro Pictures Corporation were saved from destruction by fire early today, after a desperate battle with flames which destroyed the big plant of the Cahuenga Valley Lemon Association.

Loss to the lemon packing plant was estimated at $50,000.

The motion picture studios, adjoining the burning plant, seemed doomed immediately after the blaze broke out shortly after midnight, but were saved by the joint efforts of a platoon of police and the Hollywood fire department.

Midnight Frolic Figures In Alleged Conspiracy

BOSTON, July 12.—A midnight frolic of four years ago at Mishawum Manor, a road house in Woburn, said to have been conducted by a woman known as "Brownie Kennedy," whose guests included several motion picture producers, was described yesterday at the hearing on a petition for the removal of Nathan A. Tufts, district attorney of Middlesex county. The hearing, resulting from charges preferred by Attorney General Allen, who alleges among other things, that Tufts was concerned in a conspiracy for which the motion picture men paid $100,000 to escape prosecution threatened on account of their presence at the Mishawum dinner party, is being held before the full bench of the supreme court, with five justices sitting.

James M. Curley, who at the time of the dinner was mayor of Boston, was mentioned, with several others, in a deposition made by Hiram Abrams, one of the motion picture men, but no charge of conspiracy was made against him. Abrams said that it was as the result of a communication from Curley, saying that a "serious matter was likely to arise," that he came to Boston about two months after the dinner and later was present at an interview with District Attorney Tufts. Abrams, who is president of the New England baseball league, received the message while in Portland, Maine, for the opening of the baseball season.

FOLLOWS ARBUCKLE DINNER.

The affair at Mishawum Manor took place, according to the charge, on March 6, 1917. It followed a dinner to "Fatty" Arbuckle, held at Copley Plaza hotel, in this city. About 20 to 25 persons were present at the Woburn party, Abrams said, in this deposition, and there were 10 or 12 women at the house. The company remained from midnight until about 4 a. m. The bill for the dinner amounted to $1050, and Abrams said he paid it.

Daniel H. Coakley, Boston attorney, who had been brought into the case, after a conference at the Hotel Touraine, on Abrams' return from Portland, had telephoned District Attorney Tufts asking for an interview, Abrams said. The meeting took place at Tufts' office, in the Cambridge court house. Coakley telling the district attorney that they had come to "discuss that drunken affair at Woburn, and that if he could prove the men were innocent, he hoped Tufts would drop it. The district attorney replied, according to the deposition, that if the complainants could be "gotten off his back" he would not prosecute. Abrams mentioned Jesse Lasky, Adolph Zukor, Walter E. Greene and "A. B." Berman, as other men with whom he had discussed the affair. At a conference of some of the men at New London, it was agreed, he said, that all of the complaintants could be satisfied and lawyers' fees paid for $100,000.

Assistant District Attorney-General Henry F. Hurlburt, who conducted the case for the prosecution, contended that in the conferences the men were carrying out Tufts' wishes, although, he said, no part of the money had been traced to the possession of Tufts.

PAYMENT OF ATTORNEYS.

plainants could be satisfied and lawtaling $100,000 were discussed by Abrams in his deposition. A receipt from David Stoneman for two checks, aggregating $85,000, bearing the name of Daniel H. Coakley, also was introduced.

Hurlburt explained to the court that "Stoneman was a party to the conspiracy."

"He was go-between," Hurlburt said, "and received money from Hiram Abrams and doled it out to the others."

The receipt thated that the money was "in full settlement of a case growing out of an incident at Woburn" and included an agreement to procure a full release from all parties interested.

Several releases were submitted in evidence, some running to Abrams, Lasky, Greene and Zukor, and another to Hiram Abrams, et al. The signers included Frederick B. Lord of Providence, Frederick Tierney of Worcester, Teresa M. Sears of Boston and Bessie McDonald of Boston.

Financial Needs of City Prove Puzzle to Baccus

Now that the figures for all the departments are in the hands of the commissioner of finance, Commissioner Baccus is confronted with the job of finding out just how much is desired to run the city for the fiscal year.

It can't be done.

There are two large sums which cannot be determined till the courts and the assessor are finished with certain jobs now before them. Until those amounts are decided, the actual amount of the Oakland budget will be vague and the complete compilation may have a little guesswork in it.

One of the sums is the "cash basis fund." Some time ago the Council decided to set aside a fund from which all immediate bills against the city might be quickly paid, so that the city could take advantage of all cash discounts. This fund was decided to be 2.5 cents on the assessed valuation of the city. Nobody knows exactly what the assessed valuation of the city is until the assessments are finished. Last year the sum was about $10,000.

The other vague sum is the $117,000 "contingency fund" against which water rates, now in dispute, are charged. Some of the water rate cases are in the courts. If the consumers win their cases, much of this $117,000 will be saved to the city. If the consumers lose, perhaps only a little may be saved. There exists at present little data upon which the city's contingency fund may be based, for next year.

Aside from these two sums, it is admitted, the budget estimate for the city is now in shape to be pruned.

Hindu Farmer, Freed, at Once Is Rearrested

Beats Charge of Improper Housing; Held For Nonpayment of Wages.

MARTINEZ, July 12.—S. T. Kahlly, Hindu farmer of Orwood, stands acquitted today of violation of the housing act charged to him by State Housing Inspector Antone Scar, although he admitted on trial that 91 persons, 66 of whom were children, were housed in a shack 34x36 feet on property which he has under lease. Kahlly's defense that he was not the owner of the property and that the labor was furnished him under contract gained him an acquittal. The case was the first to be tried before a jury in Justice of the Peace F. L. Glass' court here for many months.

Scar swore out a warrant for Kahlly's arrest after several investigations. He testified that in a second shack on the farm he found ten persons living in a building 15x30 feet. Sanitary conditions he described as "almost unbelievable."

Although Kahlly defeated the charge against him he did not emerge from the court room without troubles, for he had no more than gained the door when rearrested on a warrant, sworn out by Fortuoso Rebrego, charging non-payment of wages.

Quitting of Counsel Of Robber Explained

Interference in the conduct of his trial by Tom Foley, convicted bank robber, was the cause of the retirement from the case of Attorney James Wesolo, it was stated by Wesolo today. At the time that Wesolo quit as Foley's counsel, it was given out that the bank robber, as he had done on former occasions with other attorneys, had exhibited pique and discharged his attorney. Wesolo's withdrawal followed undue interference of Foley in the conduct of the case.

Tracy Girl Makes Long Tour By Auto

TRACY, July 12.—Writing from her former home at Denton, Tex., Miss Marie De Lee, former Tracy girl, states that she reached that place without incident, in company with her mother and two sisters, after a 12-day auto trip, covering over 2500 miles. The trip was taken for the benefit of Mrs. De Lee's health.

Woman Faints In Heat, Finds Kindly Friends

Taken From Train At Newman, Restored To Health and Family.

NEWMAN, July 12.—Taken from the train overcome by heat, Mrs. Brown, a travel-stained passenger from Seattle, with a baby of six months in her arms and a boy and girl, aged 4 and 7, clinging to her skirts, found friends and relief here. She was on her way to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Crawford at Kerman. In an unconscious condition Mrs. Brown was removed to the lawn of the station grounds, where Railroad Surgeon Armistead treated her. Mrs. Armistead and Mrs. Pearl Gleaves, the latter a Red Cross nurse, assisted and took charge of the tired and hungry little ones, who were amply provided with food and cooling ice cream. Word was sent to Kerman, and resulted in a brother and sister of the stricken woman rushing here with an auto. Following her recovery she was taken to the home of her parents.

THIEVES MISS FUR COAT.

The burglars who entered the home of Mrs. Mary Champan, 1017 Poplar street, took clothing valued at $50, but overlooked a fur coat valued at $500 and jewelry valued at several hundred dollars. The entrance to the house was gained through a rear window.

ANGEL CITY SEEKS CONTROL OF STATE SAYS RIVERSIDE

Appeal Made To North Voters To Prevent Political Dominance of South.

RIVERSIDE, Cal., July 12.—An appeal to the voters of San Francisco and of the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys, seeking their aid in preventing the city of Los Angeles "from obtaining political dominance of the state through the forthcoming reapportionment, was made here last night by a committee representing the "southern interior counties of California."

The appeal issued by the committee primarily concerns itself with the hydro-electric situation in the state and asks the aid of the other portions of the state in order to prevent Los Angeles from obtaining control of hydro-electric sites, which, it is charged, imperil the welfare of the southern California counties.

The appeal was signed for the committee by C. E. Brouse, chairman of the "interior counties committee."

ALIEN LAND LAW IS APPROVED BY JAPAN EDUCATOR

SEATTLE, July 12.—Japan, seeking an outlet for its increasing population, looks not to America, but to Eastern Siberia, Iso Abe, dean of the department of politics at Waseda University, Japan, declared in a statement made public here today. Professor Abe sails for Japan next Thursday after accompanying the Waseda baseball team on its American tour.

Discussing the California Japanese question Professor Abe said: "To me the California issue is a simple one. California has a perfect right to put the bars up against the coming of immigrants. Our government would undoubtedly take the same attitude as California if our empire were in danger of being flooded by foreign peoples. It is the right of private ownership. The system of private ownership may be superceded, but until that time the California attitude is the correct one."

Robbers Loot Two Homes in Alameda

ALAMEDA, July 12.—Burglars who entered the home of Mrs. Edith Latimer, 1355 Grove street, last night found the "pickings" so easy they went next door to the home of W. P. Thompson, 1357 Grove street, and cleaned that out, too. They secured $85 in jewelry at the Latimer home. The amount of their loot at the Thompson home is not known, as Mr. and Mrs. Thompson are out of the city. Mrs. Thompson's mother, who was notified, could not estimate the loss.

Arrests Promised in Robbery Case

That he expects to arrest the man and woman today who on Sunday night beat and robbed James C. Debaca of San Francisco on the highway between Alvarado and Hayward, was the statement made by Deputy Sheriff Joe Soares.

Debaca was returning from a dance in Alvarado Sunday night when a man and woman in an automobile offered him a ride. Shortly before reaching Hayward, they beat Debaca up, robbed him of his watch and $300 and threw him out on the side of the road. When he recovered, Debaca crawled into Hayward and notified the authorities.

"Mysterious Malady" Kills Former Ace

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—Emley Watchhorn, only son of E. E. Watchhorn, president of the Union Oil Co., died here today of what physicians declared to be a mysterious malady, "possibly induced by sunburn."

Skin Disease and Constipation Relieved

Oakland, Cal., Feb. 11th, 1921.

I had skin trouble for over four years, pimples and eruptions all over face, neck and parts of my body. They were annoying and itching terribly. I also had constipation. In vain I spent much money with doctors, including the best known specialists in America, and tried various remedies until my friend who was cured of throat trouble by drinking the Fong Wan Herb Tea, urged me to try it. I took a treatment and now I am well, have gained several pounds, and my face looks clear. I would recommend any one to take the herb tea for any suffering.

OHIO ELK HEADS ORDER; ELECTED AT L. A. SESSION

50,000 in Big Antlered Herd Welcomed By Governor and City Officials.

LOS ANGELES, July 12. — William W. Mountain of Toledo, Ohio, was today elected grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks at their grand lodge session here. He was the unanimous choice of the Grand Lodge and succeeds William Martin Abbott of San Francisco. Other Grand Lodge officials chosen were:

Fred C. Robinson, re-elected grand secretary; P. J. Brennan, re-elected grand treasurer; James F. Duffy, Providence, R. I., elected grand esteemed leading knight, succeeding C. A. Bookwalter, Indianapolis; Fred A. Morris of Mexico, Mo., elected grand esteemed loyal knight; Reed S. Walker, Tulsa, Okla., elected grand lecturing knight, succeeding J. F. Schrader of Allegheny, Pa.; Dr. John Lysart, Kingston, N. Y., re-elected grand chaplain; Colonel Robert Gordon, Atlanta, Ga., elected a member of the board of grand trustees in place of George L. Locke. It was expected that Atlantic City, N. J., would be selected as the scene of next year's reunion.

Governor William D. Stephens, city officials and local lodge officers extended formal welcome and William M. Abbott of San Francisco, grand exalted ruler of the herd, officially opened the sessions of the lodge today.

Americanism was the topic of Grand Exalted Ruler Abbott's reply to the welcoming speeches. The opening session was a public session and an extensive entertainment program supplemented the speeches.

50,000 ELKS IN HERD.

Several days of active business sessions will be sandwiched in between the multitude of pleasures arranged for the 50,000 visiting Elks.

Among the reports ready for presentation to the grand lodge is that of the Elk war relief commission, made public today, marking the close of activities of this work of the lodge. Out of $1,000,000 which the lodges donated for this work, assets of $616,040 remain, including a reconstruction hospital at Boston. More than 36,000 cases of financial relief were reported by the commission.

MEMBERSHIP 767,661.

The annual report of Grand Secretary Fred C Robinson, presented today, shows there are now 1421 lodges of Elks with a membership of 767,661. The total assets are $50,463,156.99 and there has been dispensed in charity $1,566,234.63.

Twenty-one new lodges were added in the past year with a net increase of 121,983 in membership.

A letter from President Harding, made public by Grand Exalted Ruler William M. Abbott, to whom it was addressed, said:

"My Brother Abbott: I always feel myself very much interested in the good fortunes of the order because I know, from actual association, the highly patriotic character of all the work of the Elks, and know full well of its supreme contribution to the cause of the republic during the period of the world war.

"I need not say that I have an especially warm personal regard for you, and wish you the best of everything in your official work for the great order of which you are the supreme head."

PROGRAM LENGTHENED.

The week originally set apart for the program for the Grand Lodge was found too short to contain all the events that the local Elks wanted to present to their visitors, so the affair extended itself over into Sunday and Monday and will continue through next Sunday. Arrival of delegates and their registration at Grand Lodge headquarters continued briskly today. While this was going on those already settled for the week took part in "Santa Monica day," play and work, beginning with a ride from Los Angeles to the bay city; then a concert and automobile rides to scenic points were scheduled, to be followed by water sports, airplane stunts, beach and pier amusements, a noon barbecue, and a return to the city for the drill contest at Exposition park.

DRILL CONTEST.

The first afternoon event was a dress parade of the drill contestants, followed by a band concert, a formal guard mount, and then a banquet and open-air concert at Westlake park and another concert at a downtown auditorium.

While these events were in progress the delegates and officers of the Grand Lodge went into session to consider reports. The list of new officers was complete and unopposed and it was also understood that Chicago would be selected without dissent as the national headquarters.

S. F. PLANS WELCOME.

Visiting Elks attending the Elks' convention now in progress in Los Angeles will be welcomed on their arrival in San Francisco by a special committee of supervisors, to be appointed by the mayor. A resolution to this effect was approved yesterday at the supervisors' meeting. Colonel James E. Power will act as chairman. A special program of entertainment for the visiting Elks will be arranged.

Gear in Reverse and Auto Goes Into Bay

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—When Joseph Rovia, a salesman of 3632-A Twenty-fourth street, drove his machine on the Northwestern Pacific ferry steamer Tiburon at Sausalito at midnight, he left his gear in reverse. When he started his engine on the arrival of the ferryboat on the San Francisco side, shortly before 1 o'clock, there was a sudden spurt and the machine backed through the chain and dropped into the bay. Rovia jumped just in time to land on the lower deck. The car lies in forty feet of water and efforts were started at daylight to bring it to the surface.

Six Babes Left in Two Trips By Stork

(Special to Oakland Tribune.)

STOCKTON, July 12.—For the second time the stork has left triplets at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Coddy of this city. Two girls and a boy are the latest. One of the girls weighs five and one-half pounds. At another visit the bird left twins. Seventeen children have been born to the Coddys, four of whom are dead. Two of the first triplets failed to survive long. The Coddys are Syrians.

Drill Team of Oakland Lodge of Elks to Give Exhibition at Club Rooms Thursday

Marchers to Be Fitted With New Uniforms Before State Reunion at Santa Cruz in October

As the crowning feature of the "party" that will be given on Thursday evening by the Oakland Elks drill team at the club rooms on Fourteenth street, a touring car will be given away to some attendant of the affair.

The car has been on exhibition at the Elks club rooms for some weeks, and many longing eyes have been cast upon it. The drill team of the local Elks Lodge has arranged a dance and entertainment for Thursday evening next, and all Elks have been invited to be the guests of the team on that occasion and to bring their wives or sweethearts and friends as well.

The drill team is getting ready to be fitted out with new uniforms in anticipation of the annual state reunion, to be held at Santa Cruz next October. The boys are drilling regularly, under the careful tutelage of Col. J. K. Ritter, the original commander of 171's drill team.

The TRIBUNE Kiddies made a great hit at a recent social session held by the Elks, and as a compliment to them were asked to pose with the touring car as a background.

Board Places Filled by Alameda City Manager

ALAMEDA, July 12.—Appointments to the city planning commission and the social service board were announced today by City Manager Clifton E. Hickok.

Hickok's appointments to the city planning commission were R. E. Boffhard, W. J. Hamilton, Lothial M. King, H. F. Schlichting and W. G. Tibbitts. In addition to the appointments by the city manager, the board is composed of Hickok, City Attorney W. J. Locke, City Clerk W. E. Varco, City Engineer Burnett Hamilton and the five councilmen.

The appointments to the social service board follow: Mrs S. J Ackerman, Mrs. A. Fouchy, William P. Hamilton, H. D. Maynard, Rev. Henry H. Shires and Mrs. Beulah E. Spunn.

While the social service board is still an unofficial city organization the planning board was created by a city ordinance on June 22. Today's appointments were the first by a city manager.

Sister of Decoto Falls From Horse

Mrs E. J. Buswell, sister of District Attorney Ezra Decoto, suffered painful injuries yesterday at Wilson Inn, a summer resort in Napa county, when the horse she was riding stumbled and fell, throwing her to the ground.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Decoto today went to the resort to bring Mrs. Buswell home thus necessitating the cancelling by Decoto of an appointment to address the Oakland Advertising Club.

Mrs. Buswell is a widow and lives with the district attorney at his home at 392 Bellevue avenue.

Tricked Into Illegal Wedding, She Claims

Mrs. Beatrice Hohenstein was tricked into her marriage with Geo. Hohenstein when she still was legally the wife of Chester Clarke, according to her suit for annulment of the latest marriage filed with County Clerk George E. Gross today.

Mrs. Hohenstein says she was divorced from Clarke in Tacoma, Wash., August 16 last, but was ordered by the court to refrain from remarriage for six months. She claims Hohenstein told her he had legal advice that she could marry at once, as she had moved to another state, but that she later learned this was false.

Fireman Held For Causing Explosion

EL PASO, Tex. July 12.—Fireman Charles F. Robinson was bound over to the grand jury under $5000 bail, which he furnished, following his preliminary hearing yesterday at Marfa in connection with the death of Engineer William Bohlman and the explosion of a Southern Pacific locomotive last Friday morning.

Following the hearing, Earl Stirman, brakeman on the train, was arrested at Alpine by Texas Rangers and held for investigation. Stirman had told of seeing a tall, dark man fleeing from the scene of the explosion.

J. C. Fuller, county attorney, said the evidence against Robinson was purely circumstantial.

CHARITY BALL, AD. CLUB PLAN

Proposals that the Oakland Advertising club hold a big Charity Ball every year for the purpose of raising from $25,000 to $30,000 for charitable purposes, were made at the Ad Club meeting held in the Hotel Oakland today by Benjamin F. Shapro, vice-president of the Associated Charities and a club member.

The proposition was applauded by some 200 members present and was indorsed in a speech by Walter Cribbens, a past president.

Other speakers at the meeting were Lew Newburgh, Horace Pinkston, George Cummings, Roy Hammond and Glen Barnhart.

District Attorney Decoto, who was scheduled to speak on the "Thirty Strong Gang," was unable to be present because of an accident to his sister.

Hope for Lower Taxes Lies in Dawes' Shears

Appropriations Reach Nearly Sum Spent By Nation Last Year.

By HERBERT W. WALKER,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 12. — Hope for a substantial reduction in the amount of Federal taxes depends almost entirely on the "economy axe" of Charles G. Dawes, new budget officer, it was shown today with the final enactment of the last appropriation measure—the naval bill.

Congress, a summary shows, has authorized the expenditure of approximately $3,585,000,000 during the present fiscal year which began last July 1. Last year, for the same purpose, a total of $3,717,271,392.90 was appropriated, the reduction thus being only about $132,000,000. This represents a reduction of only 13 days governmental spending, as the expenditures have been averaging $10,000,000 a day.

Army Officer Wins Wife, Says Husband

When a certain United States army officer was away from her Mrs. Mabel A. Horton wrote him that she "missed his hugs and kisses," it is charged by her husband F. B. Horton, who is now lost to her through a divorce decree given to him by Superior Judge T. W. Harris. Also she has lost her six-year-old child, whose custody was given to the husband.

Horton said his wife had been corresponding with the army officer for several years and that she paid no attention to his protests against the love messages. Mrs. Horton is to receive $80 a month alimony.

Cleanly.—"Did the captain do anything to clean up the precinct?"

Peggy to Settle For $500,000, Is Rumor in Chicago

Attorneys For "Follies" Star and Rich Lumberman Are Reticent.

CHICAGO, July 12—Peggy Hopkins Joyce, violet-eyed artist's model and "Follies" star, will receive a settlement of $500,000 in a lump sum of alimony from her millionaire husband, James Stanley Joyce, the lumber baron of Clinton, Iowa, and Chicago, according to rumors current here among friends of the couple, before the final hearing of her bill for separate maintenance and his cross-bill is brought to a close before Judge Joseph Sabath in the Superior Court next fall.

Both counsel for pretty Peggy and the attorneys representing Joyce were reticent in regard to the rumor of settlement, saying that they did not know such an arrangement had been made.

Edward McGuire, head of the McGuire & White Detective Agency, was more emphatic and declared that in his opinion Peggy would not get a cent of the lumberman's money.

At the office of Mayer, Meyer, Austrian & Platt, Joyce's counsel, it was stated that Austrian was even now preparing an appeal from the ruling of Judge Sabath, who has allowed Peggy $56,200 for temporary alimony, attorneys' fees and the cost of refuting the charges her husband has made against her. This appeal, it was said, would be filed within the next week.

Peggy's attorneys, the firm of McCormick, Kirkland, Patterson & Flemming, denied that the offer of settlement had, so far, been made to them, although it was admitted some mutual friend of the couple may be attempting to arrange a settlement.

Idle Oil Workers Being Sent From Tampico Region

Mexican Government Undertakes Measures To Prevent Disorders.

TAMPICO, Mexico, July 12.—(By the Associated Press) — General Ceasar Lopez Y. Lara, governor of Tamaulipas, is taking steps to avoid disorders in the Tampico oil region due to unemployment. Upon orders from President Obregon he has organized an office to look after the situation and is concentrating the unemployed in this city for the purpose of sending them to the interior of the country.

The total number of men out of work does not exceed ten thousand.

Tampico was quiet yesterday.

"The labor problem does not exist in Tampico," said the general yesterday, "as the unemployed are being sent to points where labor is lacking."

Labor leaders are assisting the governor in mobilizing the unemployed throughout the oil region. The Mexican government has placed at his disposal money, rolling stock, motor trucks and barges.

Oil companies on June 30 were employing twenty-five thousand men, and it is believed sixty per cent of them will be discharged. The local authorities are employing a large number for road construction. The oil companies generally have stopped the building of plants and are limiting production. Exportation of oil has been cut down since July 1, only 180,000 cubic metres of oil being exported since that time. Of this amount one hundred thousand cubic metres was shipped to the United States.

The Mexican government has ordered the oil department to permit filing of claim pre-emptions in the federal zone, hoping thus to secure employment for a large number of men as soon as new drilling starts.

Mrs. Nicholl Denies Charges of Husband

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—Misconduct with two other women, named as Minnie Shay of this city and "Jane Doe" of Oakland, are charges contained in the cross-complaint of Mrs. Lillian Nicholl in answer to the divorce complaint of John H. Nicholl, Eastbay capitalist, who filed an action for legal separation from his wife on May 4.

Mrs. Nicholl asks $500 a month separate maintenance.

ACCUSED MAN RELEASED.

BERKELEY, July 12—Henry Villa, arrested here recently with a party of fourteen young men and women following a "too ardent" Fourth of July celebration, after it is alleged he threatened the life of J. S. Rooney, one of the arresting officers, was arraigned in court here today and released on his own recognizance.

LENNON'S SECRET BRIDE TO DEFEND HIM AT HEARING

Will Uphold U. S. Attorney's Denial of Plot To Beat Legion Candidate.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—Mrs. Margaret Lennon, for several months secret bride of Assistant United States Attorney Thomas Lloyd Lennon, who arrived here recently from Chicago will appear before the American Legion investigating committee tomorrow night to deny charges that her husband is the instigator of a forged telegram which was used to defeat Charles H. Kendrick as a candidate for commander of San Francisco Post No 1, at a recent election.

The fact that Lennon was married secretly while on an eastern business trip in April, was not known until an investigation of the charges were begun, and the assistant United States attorney telephoned his wife in Chicago last week to come to San Francisco to appear before the Legion investigating committee.

STORY OF INTRIGUE.

Charges and counter charges, secret hearings by the investigating committee and the employment of detectives, who sought to break down the girl, who at the time was not known as Lennon's wife, revealed a story of intrigue which had its climax yesterday in a meeting of the Legion investigating committee, before which Lennon was called as a witness.

There it was learned that Lennon had brought his bride, the former Mrs Margaret Porter of Chicago, to San Francisco to deny the charge that either he or she were implicated in the sending of the telegram to the San Francisco Post in which Kendrick withdrew his candidacy for commander.

MARRIAGE IN INDIANA.

The investigation which brought the announcement that Mrs Lennon has come here to defend her husband's name disclosed that the marriage ceremony was performed in Gary, Ind., on April 21, while Lennon was en route to Washington on business. She is the daughter of Mrs Grace Doggett of Chicago.

The telegram that caused the controversy and the investigation was addressed to Jesse C Coleman, commander of the post just prior to the election, and follows.

"Received word today am to get national Legion appointment. As can not hold two offices don't want commandership. In order to prevent resigning if elected must ask you to withdraw my name in nomination tonight. Return in three days. Disregard former wire.

"CHARLES H KENDRICK."

"PETTY PLOT," SAYS LENNON.

"This is just a petty Legion political plot," said Lennon, discussing the charges today. "Last year in San Diego I opposed the attacks that were being made on Fred Bebergall, who was a candidate for re-election. These attacks were launched by the same men who are involved in the present conspiracy. Bebergall was elected by an overwhelming majority and I was told some day I would be put in the gutter—Bebergall along with me—or that the threat-makers would go to the gutter themselves. On joining San Francisco Post, No 1, I was informed that the fight was still on and that these people would get Bebergall and me yet.

"Here is a copy of the wire in question which I voluntarily gave the committee, knowing that if I did not give it to them they would have no way of getting it:

"San Francisco, Cal., June 15.

"Marge Porter:

"Do not telephone (deliver by messenger), 5476 Everett ave., Chicago, Ill.

"Send the following day letter at 4 o'clock, Chicago time, the day you receive this. Jessie C. Colman, Commander San Francisco Post, American Legion, 1033 Market street, San Francisco:

"Received word today am to get national legion appointment and as cannot hold two offices don't want commandership in order to prevent resigning if elected must ask you to withdraw my name nomination tonight; return three days; disregard former wire. Signed, Charles H. Kendrick. End of wire.

"Marge, do this for me right. I know you will not flivver. Letter follows explaining. Love.

OTHER TELEGRAMS SENT.

"This wire was sent to my wife without my knowledge. I knew nothing of it, until a few days later I received a wire from her telling me of the arrival of the other telegrams withdrawing somebody named Kendrick. The last telegram I also offered to the committee, but up to date they have shown no inclination to investigate it.

"After the charges were made I telephoned Mrs. Lennon to come here to testify what she knew."

ADVENTISTS VIEW MATERIALISM AS WORLD MENACE

Admonitions Feature Sessions Held By Sect in Local Camp.

Among the warnings issued to the thousands who are visiting the huge canvas pavilion at the Seventh Day Adventist convention and encampment at East Seventeenth and Fruitvale avenues are admonitions to return to the old-fashioned Bible religion that, according to the Adventists, being the only hope for the world at the present time. They express the condition that the present world crisis is the natural and logical outgrowth of an age whose materialism is of the grossest kind.

MANY DELEGATES.

Among the many delegates to the convention and encampment are Adventists from Eureka, Fortuna, Arcata, Ukiah, Healdsburg, Santa Rosa, Sebastopol, San Rafael, Sonoma, Calistoga, St Helena, Napa, Vallejo, Vacaville, Martinez, Byron, San Francisco, Mountain View, San Jose, Morgan Hill, Santa Cruz, Monterey and other localities.

A veritable tent city has been erected on the grounds where the encampment is being held. Among other features is a tent cafeteria which serves vegetarian meals to a thousand persons, a tent hospital, a tent Sunday School and tent stores handling Bibles and other literature of a religious nature in various languages.

PROMINENT WORKERS.

There are many prominent ministers and other religious workers present at the encampment and convention, including R. D. Quinn, field secretary of the general conference, Washington, D. C., F. C. Gilbert, widely known as an evangelist and writer, Professor C. L. Benson, College View, Neb.; J. W. Christian, president of the Pacific Union Conference, L. V. Finster, president of the Philippine Islands Conference, and Luther Warren, an evangelist from the Southeastern California conference.

Fast Working Thief Loots Parked Car

ALAMEDA, July 12. — A fast worker looted H. E. Craven's automobile last night as it stood in front of 1309 Pearl street. Craven, whose home is at 1342 Regent street, had volunteered to help a friend overhaul a car. They worked late on the job. Craven went out to his own car at 12:45 a. m. to get some tools. At 1:15 a. m., when he started for home he found a thief had taken the windshield wings, pump, jack, dash light and dash clock. The engine was still in place but a spare wheel on the back was loose.

C. OF C. TO ELECT.

MARTINEZ, July 12. — A president, vice-president and treasurer will be named today by the reorganized Chamber of Commerce. Five new directors are also to be named by the ten directors chosen by the membership last week.

Alameda Scout Chief Resigns For New Work

Clinton W. Kelly Will Enter Private Business After Summer Camp.

ALAMEDA, July 12—Clinton W Kelly, Boy Scout executive in Alameda since April, 1920, has resigned to enter business. He will continue to reside in Alameda.

Kelly's intention to leave Scout work has been known by the executive committee for several months. He was persuaded to remain in charge of the work until after the summer camp and until after the planned hike to Yosemite park. The required number of Scouts for the Yosemite trip failed to sign up and Kelly thereupon requested to be allowed to quit at once. The executive committee accepted [illegible] with much regret [illegible] Saturday, July 9.

Professor Edward R. Albert, principal of Washington [illegible] assumed the duties of Scout executive until a successor to Kelly can be secured. For three years previous to Kelly's coming to Alameda Albert was acting Scout executive, and it was largely due to his efforts that Alameda council grew to proportions where it can afford to have a paid executive officer. After Kelly's arrival Albert was made Scout commissioner, the highest office in local Scouting, being a [illegible] supervising officer.

This spring the Scouts undertook a campaign to rid the city [illegible] possible of [illegible] examinations, graduations and the summer camp interfered with the work, but Albert is now planning a resumption of the campaign and is asking the co-operation of householders in reporting cases requiring attention. There is no charge made for the poison nor the services of the Scouts.

Berkeley Recalls Former Bridge Plan

BERKELEY, July 12.—Plans made for the bridging of San Francisco bay several years ago were revived today at a meeting of the city council, when Allan C Rush, an engineer of Los Angeles, asked the council to consider his ideas for a span. The matter was referred to the bridge committee, composed of Mayor Louis Bartlett and Councilmen Charles D Hayward and George Schmidt.

Years ago, when Rush made his plans for a bridge across San Francisco bay, he got permission from the United States government to cross Goat Island, which was to serve as a natural pier. The patent office has issued the engineer 150 patents on his plans.

Rossi Identified As One of Bank Robbers

Positively identifying "Little Goog" Rossi, alias William Alberton, as one of the robbers who on October 13 entered the Alvarado bank, shot President August May, robbed the bank of $23,000, locked the employees in the safe and escaped, Theodore Lyddecker, Miss Christina Anderson and May today testified before Superior Judge Lincoln S Church in the criminal proceedings.

That the three convicted Alvarado robbers have again been brought here from the penitentiaries and that they will testify that Alberton alias, Rossi, was not present at the robbery, was the statement of Attorney James Wesolo, representing the defendant. The convicts are Jack Beebe, Larry Fitzgerald and J. A. Sullivan.

Babe Ruth Clouts Thirty-Third Homer

ST. LOUIS, July 12.—Babe Ruth made his thirty-third home run in the third inning with two on bases ahead of him.

COUNTY OFFICERS PLAN TO COLLECT ALIEN POLL TAX

About $200,000 Is Estimate Due This County Under Recently Adopted Law.

County Assessor I. Harrison Clay and County Clerk George E. Gross today began preparations for the collection of the $200,000, estimated to be due from poll tax on male aliens.

Clay and Gross authorized County Treasurer F. W. Foss to have 10,000 receipts for $10 each printed for use when the season for poll tax collections begins August 1. It is estimated that there are more than 20,000 aliens subject to the tax in Alameda county, but inasmuch as the Japanese association of Alameda county is planning to test the constitutionality of the law as soon as the period for registration has ended, July 31, it is deemed wise to print only half that many receipts, since more easily can be ordered later.

It was agreed by Clay and Gross that if any alien who has not registered sends his tax to Clay, who is authorized to collect the money, while the registration of the aliens is under the direction of Gross, he will accept it without taking action as to the failure to register.

Gross reports that the registration of Japanese through the latter's associations in Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and the eastern end of the county is proceeding rapidly. The Japanese may register at the association offices from 1 to 9 p. m. These association headquarters are at 412 Eighth street, Oakland; 2119 Haste street, Berkeley, and 2556 Pacific avenue, Alameda.

Jo A. Wagner, chief registration clerk, announced today that about 2500 aliens of all nationalities have registered thus far.

OPPOSING TALKS ON STAND STIR ANGER OF COURT

"It is evident that perjury has been committed by one side, or by both sides," said Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell, after both the prosecution and the defense had rested in the case of Robert Cunningham, who was charged with disturbing the peace.

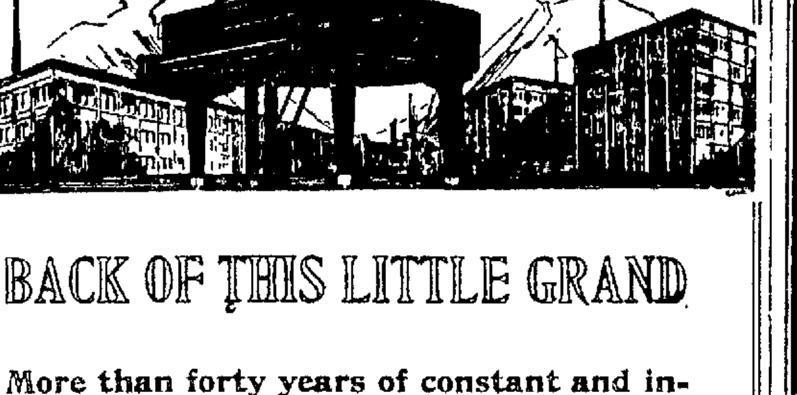

Cunningham was arrested on a complaint which was sworn to by E. C. Hahn, a neighbor, who was at one time a councilman from the old fourth ward and at present bookkeeper for the street department.

According to the testimony Hahn made strange noises in front of Cunningham and his wife while they were in the back yard. It also was charged that on one occasion Hahn used profane language. Hahn told the court that he was in the back yard painting when Cunningham made several remarks. He then went inside and telephoned to the police. A number of neighbors testified for both sides.

Judge Tyrrell in finding Cunningham not guilty of the charge further stated that when the neighbors stoop to perjure themselves in neighborhood fights the courts of justice ceases to function.

WOMAN RECAPTURED.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—May Smith, accused of violating the state poison law, made a dash for liberty as she left Police Judge O'Brien's court today. She broke away from the prison matron and ran down the stairs and out into Kearny street. She was captured and returned to the city prison.

HAROLD LLOYD IN HILARIOUS NEW ONE ON GREAT 3-FEATURE BILL NOW AT NEW FRANKLIN

Screen's funniest funmakers, "Among Those Present," on same bill with "The Woman God Changed" at the New Franklin

Donn Byrne's powerful story of the dancer who killed, fled and experienced a miracle of the tropics which saved her from the hands of the law, heads another mighty 3-feature programme at the New Franklin Theater with Harold Lloyd's "Among Those Present" and Tony Sarg's unusual shadowlaugh, "Why Women Love Cavemen," as extra added attractions.

"The Woman God Changed" is Cosmopolitan's first superfeature since "Humoresque." It was photographed in the Bahamas, made by Robert G. Vignola, and played by an unusually large all star cast, with Seena Owen and E. K. Lincoln.—Advertisement.

AS TO THE NEW TREATIES.

When Congress adopted its resolution ending the state of war between this country and Germany and Austria it made a very pointed suggestion to the President. While admitting that the negotiation of peace treaties rests exclusively with the President, who may consult with the Senate in such negotiations and must have the consent of the Senate before a treaty is finally concluded, Congress expressed in the most definite terms its idea of what the new treaties should contain as a fundamental.

If the President makes treaties with the former enemy countries, it is the desire and intent of Congress that he should preserve to the United States all the rights acquired as a result of its participation in the victorious war, as a result of the armistice agreement of November 11, 1918, and as a result of the Treaty of Versailles. There is no doubt about the desires of Congress in this connection. There is a plain statement of them in the text of the peace resolution.

The best way to serve the purpose of Congress is something with which the State Department and the President now are concerned. They will have as free a hand as they wish in procedure and the instrument they adopt. Only after a formal treaty has been signed by representatives of the President will it be necessary to seek the consent of the Senate.

In this connection it is interesting to note that, in its issue of July 5, the New York Sun printed an article from its Washington correspondent to the effect that it was strongly intimated at the State Department that Secretary Hughes still believes ratification of the expurgated Treaty of Versailles to be the only feasible way for the United States to straighten out its relations with Germany and Austria and the Allies. All the rights, privileges and advantages upon which Congress has laid stress are described specifically in the Treaty of Versailles and the Treaty of St. Germain. The whole question is disposed of in those two documents specifically and conclusively. Plainly if the treaties could be adapted to present needs a great deal of trouble would at once be saved.

Congress, even to the irreconcilables of the Senate, has never objected to the advantages, benefits and guaranteed rights of the treaty agreements. It was only the obligations and the hypothetical shadows of obligations that provoked opposition. Expurgation of the treaty to make it acceptable to the Senate would, of course, involve the elimination of the League of Nations covenant in all its important provisions. This done and the Treaty of Versailles should not be intolerable to any American whose heart was with his country during the war.

Obviously the Sun's correspondent is reliably informed as to the sentiment of the State Department. Mr. Hughes, prior to the passage of the peace resolution, made bold and emphatic assertion of the intention of the government to demand recognition for and to preserve its rights under the Treaty of Versailles. The whole foundation of our issue with Japan over the island of Yap is based on the treaty provision that the former overseas possessions of Germany is ceded to the "Allied and Associated powers."

There will be the usual objection to adoption of the Versailles agreement into the new treaties between the United States and Germany and Austria-Hungary. The irreconcilables, those who prefer to speak to the gallery to addressing their talents to their country's interests and those who would like to see the enemy countries wholly escape from the penalties and obligations of the Versailles treaty will be opposed to it.

But the instruction of Congress is so sweeping and comprehensive—demanding that all the rights, privileges and advantages acquired by the war, the armistice and the Treaty of Versailles be preserved—that the inclination of the President to accept the Versailles treaty minus the League covenant is inevitable.

Efforts to favor ex-service men in Federal appointments have been somewhat confused as to postmasters by the civil service requirements, that applicants must be at least thirty years of age. In a Kansas case the Civil Service Commission refused to waive this regulation. A member of Congress from that State appealed that it be set aside, but neither that nor the fact that the applicant had undoubtedly reached the age of discretion, being twenty-seven years old, nor the further fact that he was worthy and presented voluminous favorable petitions, had effect. The limitation applies to first, second and third-class postmasters. They must be over thirty and under sixty-five years of age.

THE MOVE FOR WORLD PEACE.

President Harding has made his first official move to establish the "peace of the world" on a safe foundation, in accordance with his pre-election pledge to seek an understanding among the great powers. It takes the form of an official enquiry of the governments of Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan as to whether they would be willing to consider an invitation from this government to attend a joint conference for the discussion of the question of limitation of naval and military armaments. If a favorable reply to this enquiry is received a formal invitation for such a conference will be issued by the President.

Great Britain, through Premier Lloyd George in the House of Commons yesterday, has already announced its hearty welcome to the President's overtures. That government will lose no time in sending a favorable reply. France likewise will join the proposed conference, but will be prepared to insist upon some reservations as to the curtailment of her military establishment until the situation relative to Germany becomes somewhat clearer. This is to be expected. Both Italy and Japan are certain to accept.

It is, therefore, reasonably certain that within the next six months or a year the five great naval and military nations will be in conference on the subject of reducing armaments. It is too early to predict the outcome. Too much depends on happenings in the immediate future, before the conference can be assembled. There must first be a clearing away of certain clouds on the horizon before safety for this country may be seen in limitations on national defense.

Next to Japan's program of naval expansion and her policy of aggression in China and Siberia, the attitude of the British government, as reflected by its prime minister, is the most discouraging factor connected with the hope of an international peace program. Mr. Lloyd George sticks to the idea of special alliance—the Anglo-Japanese alliance in particular. In the very breath with which he expresses his pleasure at receiving the message from President Harding on disarmament he rejoices at the existence of that alliance, and praises the benefits and added strength it has brought to Britain and Japan.

Yet the Anglo-Japanese alliance is useless and meaningless unless it is designed against America. It can now have no other purpose but defense or offense against this country. It is not necessary to the peace of the Far East; it is the only thing that disturbs the peace of the Far East, except Japan's military operations in Russia and China.

The idea of limitation of armament is sound and cheering. Unless there is a halt sometime to the increasing burdens of national preparedness bankruptcy is inevitable. But it must be remembered that this country has only aimed at its defense, at maintaining reasonably adequate safeguards against attack from a foreign enemy. And while the conference on the limitation of armaments would be welcome as a gesture in the right direction, hopes should not be lifted too high.

The sincerity of the European nations and Japan must first be examined in the open and tested by their record. The record of Japan and Great Britain at present is not good. They are bound together in an alliance and the combined navies of both is practically twice as large as the American navy. It would be good strategy for them to induce the United States to stop her national defense program now. Their advantage in naval strength would continue.

The policy of Japan in Pacific Russia must also undergo a change before trusting friendship between that country and the United States is safely possible. The Yap cable question and the interference of England and Japan in American business ventures in the Far East must be considered. There are other vexatious questions which cannot be ignored in considering the armament question.

Yet there is no danger that cannot be dissipated by forthright performance by Japan and Great Britain. If they come to the conference with perfectly clean hands all may be well. If they do not it will be more economical to stand on guard.

The phantom ship suspected of being responsible for the disappearance of some twenty merchant vessels since the first of the year is reported to have been sighted in mysterious action off the Atlantic Coast. The report has not been officially confirmed, but if it should actually be located and brought under control, there would be a possibility of turning the tables on the many who have sneeringly discounted the theory of a pirate ship preying on commerce.

A headline reads: "Scanty Skirts of Women Here Outstrip Europeans." Some contest!

NOTES and COMMENT

As to Federal appointments for California which are long overdue and much in doubt, the silence at Washington and the loquacity in San Francisco are outstanding features. Friends of aspirants at this end have for months been predicting and assuring, but have not been sustained in many of their promulgations from the place whence action must proceed.

An immured Arkansan moonshiner makes a new and novel plea for probation. He gives two reasons why he should be let out. They are twins, and arrived after he had been shut away from welcoming them. It may be said that less appealing reasons than these have been urged.

The penchant for sidestepping taxes is inherent. They all do it. The former kaiser protests the demands of the Dutch taxgatherers at Doorn on the ground that he is unwittingly in Holland, theoretically a prisoner there, and should not be liable to taxation as a free citizen is. Considering how he got there and is permitted to stay, and what might happen to him if he was made to go, there is some wonder why he did not pay up and keep quiet.

There is quite a contingent which will read without commiseration of the Stockton men who had to pay $767.67 as an aftermath of their practical joke. They sent a woman an owl in a bag, and though the point of the attempted joke is not explained in the account, it produced a shock that affected her health, and a magistrate imposed the fine. It is seldom that the practical joker endears himself to anybody, but more seldom that he meets such righteous retribution.

There is an interesting aftermath of the big fight in the persistence of the purists to the extent of disclosing the identity of some of those present. It is known that a considerable delegation from Congress attended, some of whom would not want the fact known to their constituents. Most of these represent Eastern districts. It would not hurt Western Congressmen so much, though it might not do some of them any good.

The diamond jubilee celebration appears to have been most enjoyable to all who participated. The time for preparation was short, and the program was not loaded down with perfunctory features. Being the first anniversary observance of an historic event it appealed to the public sentiment as shelf-worn celebrations are not likely to do. It was something different.

What has long been realized as a possibility has now happened—the falling of an airplane on a crowd. It happened in West Virginia, but serves as an example for all communities. The flying of airplanes over thickly inhabited centers, and very especially over crowds, is a practice the prohibition of which is seen from this to be absolutely necessary.

The postmaster-general has decided to identify the postoffices of the country with signs. Sure enough. Why wasn't this thought of before? All private business places are thus indicated, and no business deals with the populace so universally as postoffices. SWEEP 'EM UP, SWEEP 'EM UP!

THE BRITISH EMPIRE

The prime ministers of five self-governing British dominions and representatives of India are gathered in London to take part with the prime minister of Great Britain in what is considered one of the most important consultations in British history. In connection with the conference the National Geographic Society has issued the following bulletin:

"The British empire is at once the greatest and most peculiar 'empire' which the world has known. Its flag flies over more than a fifth of the land surface of the earth and over about a quarter of the inhabitants of the globe. This vast territory, amounting to nearly thirteen million square miles, is six times the size of the Roman empire at its greatest extent, more than three times the size of the present French 'empire,' and once and a half as large as the next greatest empire of modern times, the Russian. If all the land of the British empire could be formed into one tract it would require the entire continent of Africa and half the United States to cover it.

"Portions of the British empire are strewn in between the oceans of the world like protruding flagstones and pebbles in a pond. A giant with seven league boots that could cover 1000 miles at each normal step with an occasional leap of 1200 miles could walk a large part of the distance around the world dry-shod and touch only British territory.

"The first 1000-mile step from England would be to tiny Gibraltar, less than two square miles in area, the smallest, yet strategically one of the most important units of the empire. A 1200-mile hop to the east would reach Malta, the island headquarters of the British Mediterranean fleet. As compensation for the longer leap, the wearer of the seven league boots could next take a short step of 700 miles to the northwestern corner of Egypt, and for the next 1200 miles to the southeast could traverse British territory in as leisurely a manner as he pleased. From the southeastern boundary of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan on the Red Sea to the island of Perim, a second Gibraltar at the sea's mouth, the step would be only about 500 miles. Aden lies only a hundred miles to the east and the Aden protectorate stretches for 800 miles farther to the eastward, a narrow fringe along the south coast of Arabia. From the Kuria Muria islands, which mark approximately its eastern limit, to the nearest part of India is a 'step' of only 700 miles.

"India forms a land bridge for nearly 3000 miles to the southernmost point of Burma. From there to the nearest point of British territory in the Straits Settlements is a bare 300 miles. From Singapore at the southernment point of the Straits Settlements to British Borneo is less than 400 miles.

"To reach isolated Australia by thousand-mile steps on British territory the giant pedestrian would have to make use of tiny Christmas island, about 800 miles south of Singapore. The distance there to the nearest point in Australia could be covered by a single 1000-mile 'step.'

"From eastern Australia a 1000-mile step would reach Norfolk Island. Thence a half-step would reach New Zealand. From Norfolk Island the giant pedestrian could pick his way with ease by steps ranging from a few miles to 1000 miles along the route of the British trans-Pacific cable for a distance of more than 3000 miles to Fanning Island. This infinitesimal island is practically the easternmost outpost among the units of the British empire that are closely connected with one another. East and northeast is a vast expanse of the Pacific without islands. To the southeast, where a halting island bridge exists, many of the islands are in possession of France. This lack of British islands in the eastern Pacific is strikingly shown by the fact that the British trans-Pacific cable extends under water from Fanning Island to Canada, a distance of 3453 miles, the longest stretch of unrelayed cable in the world. Beyond the Pacific breach lies Canada, the greatest of the empire's units, and to the south of it are the important West Indies possessions.

"The British empire is in a sense not an empire at all. There is no 'emperor of the British dominions,' only an 'emperor of India,' but by common usage the great group of dominions, possessions and protectorates has come to be called 'the empire.'

"The empire is made up of strikingly different units. At the end of the scale are the self-governing, responsible dominions—Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Newfoundland and South Africa—which function much as they please under a governor general who does not govern and a royal veto which is never exercised. At the other end are crown colonies such as British Honduras and the Gold Coast, which are governed entirely by officials appointed in London, Egypt, which is under a single high commissioner; North Borneo, which is administered by a trading company; protectorates such as Zanzibar and Uganda, which are under only tenuous control, and the settlement of Wei-hai-wei in China, which is held under a ninety-nine-year lease."

About YOUR HEALTH

Why Near-Sighted Persons Need Most Precise Eye Care.

By ROYAD S. COPELAND, M. D., Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Near-sightedness, or myopia, is an eye defect for which there is but one remedy—glasses. For years men have sought other means of relief. They have tried massage and suction, pressure and various exercises, but all to no purpose. Operative procedure has been employed in high degree of myopia, but, in spite of all experimentation, spectacles seem the only thing.

Near-sighted persons are called "myopes." Myopes have large eyes. The eyes are so large, or so long, that the retina—the seeing part of the eye—is too far back to receive the focussed rays of light.

The effect is the same upon vision as would happen to the picture if the projecting machine of a motion picture theater were too small for the room. The screen is far away that the images reaching it are blurred and indistinct.

The myope is never sure of what he sees. He cannot make out objects across the room. He fails to see his friends on the street.

Fortunately, there is some recompense for the near-sighted person. He can see to read the finest type near-by. Even when he gets long past the age when the normal man is requiring strong reading glasses the myope reads his newspaper with his unaided eyes.

Once in a while we hear about some very ancient person who can read without glasses. For instance, a woman of 90 reads her Bible without artificial aid. Such a condition is possible in the beginning of cataract, where the lens of the eye has changed its shape. The common reason, however, is the existence of pronounced near-sightedness. While the distant vision is excessively defective, the near vision is excellent.

To correct the vision of a myope, strong concave lenses are employed. These are used for distance. Unless the degree of myopia is very high no glasses are needed for reading. If there is an excessive amount of near-sightedness, it may be necessary to have a second pair of glasses. In such a case the reading glasses are very much weaker than the distance ones.

Weak concave lenses have the effect of increasing the definition of distant objects. The things look somewhat smaller, but seem more distant. This optical illusion is fatal to comfort and the highest good of the eyes. Persons who are really far-sighted or normal in vision are deluded by the apparent improvement made by the weak concave lenses. This is one of the most common mistakes made in glass fitting.

The lesson to be learned from this experience is that glasses should not be self-fitted. They should be prescribed by some one who understands the science. Otherwise, more harm than good may result.

Myopia is sometimes progressive, increasing from year to year. Severe and protracted illness may cause marked aggravation of the visual defect.

Since certain eye diseases are more common in myopes than in others, it is important not to neglect your near-sightedness.

WOMAN AND MEN STUCK UP IN RESORT

Six Bells Cafe, Over County Line On San Pablo Avenue, Visited By "Stocking Cap" Bandits; Escape in Auto

Three persons, one a woman, were held up and robbed at the Six Bells Cafe in El Cerrito in the latest crime which the police ascribe today to the 'Stocking Cap' burglars who have terrorized the night life of the county line neighborhood. The two escaped in a small automobile with $90 and are still at large.

The bandits, masked with stocking caps, entered the cafe last night, held up Harry Milne, proprietor, and Joe Chevotawith, who runs a repair shop next door. From the former they took $50 and from the latter $40.

When Mrs Milne hearing the commands of the robbers for her husband to keep still and to 'fork over his money,' entered the room she sized up the situation and screamed loudly for help. Chevotawith rushed in to the rescue and was lined up beside Milne and his wife.

Had it not been for a faulty cartridge, Chevotawith would have been shot as he ran into the room according to Milne, who says that one of the bandits leveled a revolver at the shoemaker and pulled the trigger.

The robbers are described as being short. They wore gray caps, Mackinaw coats and masks made of stockings.

This is the second hold up recently in El Cerrito. Not many weeks ago the Fairmont cafe, on Fairmont avenue, was visited by bandits and the proprietor and several customers who were playing cards were robbed of several hundred dollars in cash and valuables.

Mayor Asks $3080 For Special Work

A supplementary budget was tendered Commissioner Baccus today by the department of public affairs, headed by the mayor, who asks $3080 to conduct special work by his department for the coming year. The estimate includes $2700 for the employment of certified public accountants to go over various books of the city departments, and dues which the city must pay as a member of intercity organizations. The dues are $60 for its membership to the League of California Municipalities and $320 for the Associated Municipalities.

City Hall Woman Wears Wedding Ring

To the surprise of her many friends at the Board of Education headquarters at the city hall, Miss Esther Clifford of the information department appeared yesterday wearing a wedding ring. The former Miss Clifford is now Mrs. Warren W. Smith. The ceremony was performed in the presence of the bride's friends and relatives Sunday at 1 p. m., at Grace church, Rev. Sylvester Buck performing the marriage rites. Smith is an automobile dealer. Mrs. Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Clifford.

Elopement Adds Spice To Vacation To Southland

MRS. HUGH W. MARTIN (Marion Lamont Church), who became bride of Berkeley banker in elopement yesterday. McCullagh photo

Hugh W. Martin and Marion Church of Berkeley Surprise Friends.

BERKELEY, July 12.—Plans for a 'lonesome vacation' in Los Angeles were quickly changed yesterday into a honeymoon at Monterey by Hugh W. Martin, a paying teller of the College National bank. Ostensibly departing to take a train for Los Angeles alone he joined Miss Marion Lamont Church, to whom he had been engaged for several months and the two were married before leaving the city. The wedding culminated a high school romance.

The bride is the 18-year-old daughter of Mrs. A. I. Church, 1637 Josephine street and graduated from the high school this spring. Martin graduated from the high school two years ago.

The couple secured their marriage license in Oakland. They were accompanied by James Marren and Miss Louise Yeaman, high school chums. The four proceeded to the home of Reverend J. M. Van Every, a retired Presbyterian minister at 748 Walker avenue, Oakland, where they were married.

Child Had Diamonds, Embezzlement Denied

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—What was declared a novel defense was offered by David Bloom of 820 Buchanan street, when he brought into court his 4-year-old son Edison and his 6-year-old daughter Ruth to prove to Police Judge McAtee that he was not guilty of embezzlement when his case was called this morning. Bloom was accused of the misappropriation of two diamonds which it is alleged he was given on consignment by Friend & Co., jewelers of 704 Market street, and which he failed to return.

Edison, taking the witness stand and promising to tell the magistrate the truth, lisped that he had been playing with the pretty stones and doesn't remember what he did with them. Ruth corroborated her brother's story, saying that she had seen him with the diamonds. Bloom himself said he had left them in his trousers pockets and he was certain they were around the house somewhere and would turn up. The stones are valued at $250. The case was continued for investigation by the probation officer.

GIRL SAVES CAMP CHUM FROM DEATH

Story of Near-Tragedy and Heroism of Girl Camper in Sierras Told Upon the Return of Vacation Party

Miss Edna Rondelle, 3420 Wilson avenue, in saving from drowning Miss Velma Parrott, 2638 Maple avenue, became the season's first heroine in the Oakland municipal recreation camp in the high Sierras. Presence of mind combined with her cleverness as a swimmer averted the first serious catastrophe in the mountain recreation ground. The young women, who are employed in the Mazda lamp factory, did not send word of the accident which had elements of tragedy in it, until their return to town.

Several girls climbed to the springboard over 15 feet of water to pose for pictures when the plank gave way under their united weight. The incident was a joke to all save Miss Parrott who had not learned to swim. Seeing her distress Miss Rondelle grasped at her and brought her safe to shore.

TROUT PLEASE WALTONS

Trout in the streams within the municipal recreation camp average 10 inches and are fat and stocky according to C. A. Phillips and George J. Over, ardent sportsmen. Worms are the favorite bait at present, the trout later passing them up for flies and spoon.

Three cups of water at a drink is the minimum for visitors to the Hetch-Hetchy section campers report.

Two hours and 20 minutes was the record climb from valley to Glacier Point made by the Campfire Girls who were chaperoned on a special side trip from the Tuolumne camping ground into the Yosemite. The hikers averaged 15 years of age. The day was hot.

Walking trips have been made by the Oakland vacationists in the high Sierras to Hetch-Hetchy tunnels and Bowers Cave. The Hetch-Hetchy dam site has been visited by several groups.

The municipal camp record is being broken this year by local residents who have been eager to spend the season in the mountains at a minimum expense.

CAMP COMFORTABLE.

The vacation grounds are maintained under the recreation department. Floored tents, electric lights and many conveniences contribute to the comfort of the guests.

Information as to the camp and its recreational advantages may be obtained from the department's headquarters in Oakland city hall.

An open-air theater has been made for the evening entertainments which have been contributed in turn by Campfire girls, Crockett girls, De Fremery park girls, Mazda lamp factory girls and other volunteer talent. Huge bonfires built at either side of the impromptu stage afford light.

City Moves to Secure Power Sites in Sierras

The first move toward Oakland's participation with other cities in acquiring Sierra water rights was taken today when the City Council by resolution authorized the mayor to enter into a contract with the Associated Municipalities to organize a joint municipal hydro-electric power commission.

The federal government does not control non-navigable streams but it owns vast tracts along the streams. Some time ago a federal law was passed barring municipalities from viewing property in filing upon desirable lands alongside dams. The cities of California decided to the advantage of this and quite desirable hydro-electric sites Oakland was asked to participate.

All the cities of the state are being assessed according to population, explained the mayor.

The resolution empowers the city as one of the essential to investigate sources for electric generation, make estimates of cost of construction, secure options, when necessary, enter into contracts, apply for federal rights, promote the enactment of necessary laws and employ engineers and other experts, always provided that no debts be incurred over the money on hand. The resolution was adopted without argument.

Financial experts claim that a new departure in California will have this future interest in the electrical power business.

The council by resolution appropriated $250 toward the national convention of the American Physical Education association, July 18-23, and by ordinance appropriated $1000 toward the interstate convention of Lions clubs, July 11-...

Wife Deceived Him, Declares Husband

L. J. Reichel was informed on June 7 last that he was the father of a child on June 7 he married the child's mother. On June 12 his wife informed him that he was not the father and that she had married him in order to conceal from her parents the identity of the baby's real father. These are declarations in the divorce complaint of Lochel against Mrs. Ruby Reichel filed with County Clerk George D. Gross today.

Man Says Wife Went With Fruit Dealer

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—For a long time Archie Irwin, business man of 173 Sweeny street, marveled at the luscious fruit and tasty vegetables which his wife served him twice a day. At first he was apprehensive of the expense but she informed him that she had a friend in the fruit business who gave the delicacies to her. Today in a suit for divorce against Josephine Irwin the husband sets forth that his wife left home on June 10 and names the fruit man as the probable cause. He says he found a note on his return in which his wife said: "Sell everything and don't mind about the doctor and druggists bills. Goodbye."

Holding a Husband

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

"So—you—dared."

Hugh Grantland's tone was icy as he towered above the man whom I knew only as "Tim."

He had given me only the briefest of nods when he had appeared so abruptly in the doorway of Bett Kane's kitchen, and there crept over me the snubbed-little-girl feeling which I often experience when the officer is intent upon some business. Maj. Grantland has more than most men what Dicky terms a "single-track mind," and I saw that in this instance the track was a particularly narrow gauge one.

Tim threw me a beseeching glance.

"Twasn't no harm, major," he said, shrinking from the tall officer, whose long, sinewy hand was outstretched toward his coat collar. "The lady'll tell you it wasn't no harm."

"That makes no difference." The hand was tightened on the coat collar now. "You had your orders from me. You have chosen to violate them. Now you will take the consequences. Come along."

For a panic-stricken second or two I thought Maj. Grantland meant to inflict physical punishment upon the man before my eyes. Then I saw that he was simply impelling him toward the door, and I guessed that the destination of the luckless taxi driver was the nearest jail. I had surmised before that the secret of Hugh Grantland's hold over the man was the knowledge he probably possessed of Tim's peccadilloes. Curiously enough, in the actual consummation of the thing he had feared, Tim appeared to lose the terror of Hugh Grantland which he had exhibited all through his interview with me.

"I guess I'm the goat, all right, all right," he said, with rough bravado. "You tell me if I come near the lady you'll put me in stir, and the dame, she hands me the same spiel it a don't deliver her letter for her, so what's a fellow to do? And if I have to do a stretch, I'd rather do it because of obeying her than you—she's better looking."

MAJ. GRANTLAND'S DEMAND.

He grinned impudently as he spoke, and I wondered at his temerity—Hugh Grantland's temper is not to be wantonly roused without risk—but the officer, though he paused at Tim's words and looked at him searchingly, gave no evidence of anger.

"So—she, too, had something on you!" he said grimly. "Well, that explains things somewhat." He paused a moment reflectively, then spoke sharply.

"Where is the letter? Give it to me."

Tim looked at me with evident relief at being able to shift responsibility.

"The lady has it," he said.

With a dexterous movement Maj. Grantland shoved him into a chair.

"I don't think I need to tell you to stay there," he said meaningly.

"You don't." Tim answered dryly.

I braced myself for the demand I was sure would come next from Hugh Grantland's lips. And I was not mistaken. He strode toward me, towering above my chair, holding out his hand.

"I cannot tell you how humiliated I am that this thing has happened," he said. "I gave you my word that you should not be subjected to any annoyance because of that woman, and here you have actually been given a letter from her. Let me have it, please, and I will deal with the matter."

Thankful, indeed, was I that when he had entered the room I had swiftly, unobtrusively crushed the letter into a pocket in my gown. I knew him to be ruthless where what he considered his duty was concerned, knew that he was perfectly capable of taking the letter from either my hand or handbag if he should make up his mind it was to my interest for him to do so.

MADGE HESITATES.

But though I owed Hugh Grantland for my life, though I knew that I had no friend in all the word more single-minded, more devoted to my happiness than he, yet I had a sudden inexplicable reluctance to give him the letter pleading for pardon which Grace Draper had sent me.

What I meant to do with the letter, whether or not I should grant the plea of the girl who had wrought me so much evil, I had as yet no idea. But one thing I realized clearly: The matter of pardoning Grace Draper must lie between myself and one other person and that other person was not Maj. Hugh Grantland.

Germany is now studying the Danish folk high schools, and is establishing them in all parts of the country.

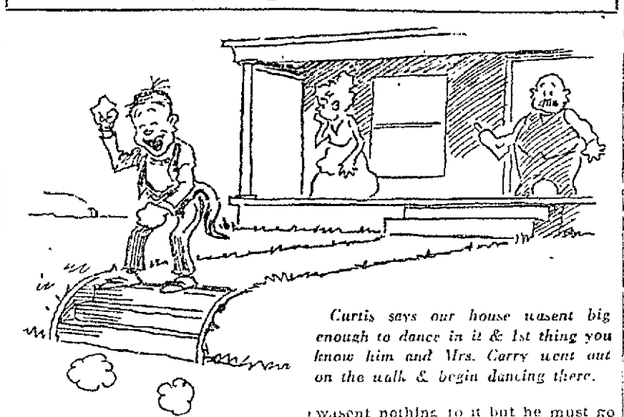

New York has four schools for mental defectives in which 5000 children receive special supervision and guidance.

Teachers' councils are now organized in 86 cities in the United States and 45 more have advisory bodies of teachers in some form.

The aspen leaf is said to quiver because the Cross of the Crucifixion was made of this wood. The fact is that the leaf is broad, and placed on a long leafstock is so flexible as scarcely to be able to support it in an upright position. The upper part of the stalk is flattened, and, being at right angles with the leaf, is peculiarly able to be moved by the faintest breath of air.

Welcome to Our City

By Ring W. Lardner

Curtis says our house wasent big enough to dance in it & 1st thing you know him and Mrs. Carry went out on the walk & begin dancing there.

Brother Charley. well Charley Im so sore I can hardly write but I want to tell you what kind of bums we got living next to us I mean the Hamiltons and the Carpenters that lives on the other side of the Hamiltons and before they get threw with me they will wisht they hadent of monkied with Fred Gross & I guess I dont half to tell you that they cant no body try there funny business on me and get away with it.

Well Charley I guess I better tell you what come off & the papers was all full of it this A. M. & I called up the chief & says I wouldent be down to day and he says all right & I aint sick or nothing but I know theys some bums down to head quarters that would shoot there mouth off a bout what was in the papers & I would probly get sore and shoot some body full of holes.

Well Charley last night was the night we give our party & of corse we knowed when we got the party up that the Hamiltons & Carpenters would get sore on acct of not getting ast to the party but we dident intend to leave them know nothing a bout the party a head of time but leave them read a bout it in the Allison paper when it comes out next Sat. But they found out a bout it some way & of corse they was sore but instead of taking it like a man they act it like a baby or worse than that because they couldent no baby be mean enough to do what they done.

Well Charley the peopl all come that we ast & we set down & played cards a while & evry body was having a pretty good time but I finely got dry and dident see no use of wailing till the card games was over before I give the boys some thing to molsun there throtes so I went out & mixed up a few high balls & I made them pretty stiff & the gents was tickeled to death to get a hold of something to drink before it was time for the refreshmunts & Curtis says it taste it like more so I mixed them up some more & 1st thing you know Curtis was throwing the cards all over the floor & he hadent only had 2 so Carry called me over to 1 side & says it wasent right to not finish Curtis up when he had such a good start so of corse then the game husted up and Grace dident have the refreshmunts ready yet but my part of the refreshmunts was ready so I wasent going to leave the Co. with out nothing to do so I brot in the stuff & left the gents mix up there own & after while about 4 of them cleared the tables out of the way & begin dancing & of corse we dident have no music so Curtis pretend it like he was the orchuster & begin hollering & singing for the others to dance to & we was geting a long all O. K., but pretty noisey but no harm done till Curtis says our house wasent big enough to dance in it & 1st thing you know him & Mrs Carry went out on the walk & begin danceing there & him singing all the wile & hollering like a wild man & pretty soon wasent nothing to it but he must go up stares & put them back to sleep & he hit more of the stares with his jaw than he did with his ft. & him trying to get the babys back to sleep was a bout like as if I tried to do it by blowing the fire whistle in the ear & I & Grace had to go up & get him out of there room & wile we was up stares the door bell rung & I come down & every body was in the house again by this time so I opened up the door there was a bum there that says he was the night watch man & says who owns this house & I says I own it come in & have a drink & he says nothing doing & the best thing you can do is get your hat & cote & come a long wit me I says what for he says disturbing the piece & I says who was so & he says thats none of your business so I says you bet its my business & you got to show me your arent & and who sined it before I will go a long with you & that had him stoped & evry thing would of been O.K. only just then Curtis come down the stares and buted in bet. I & the oficer & told the oficer to beat it & the oficer told him to shut his mouth & then what does Curtis do but take a crack at the guy & the guy started to pull his club & then I horned in & took it a way from him & he says Well I dont need no warent now but your arested for resisting a oficer & I says whose going to arest me & he says you will find out so then he went a way & I thot we was threw with him & we shut the door & Curtis was ready for a nap by this time so we layed him on the sofa & Grace brot in the stuff to eat & we was laughing and jokeing a bout the smart aleck constable when the door bell rung again & there was the same guy & 2 others with him & I hadent no sooner opened up the door then he pulled his gat on me.

Well Charley to make it short I had to go a long with them & they wouldent even leave me call up down town to head quarters & get Jack & some of the boys to come out and show them whose who & they wanted Curtis to but when they seen him layed out on the sofa they past him up & I was the goat & I couldent let on how sore I was because Grace & the rest of the women was haveing histeriks & evry thing else so I says good night to Grace & smiled at her & the rest of the women & told them to not worry & then I went away with the 3 guys & they locked me up.

Well Charley I dident get no sleep because I was trying to figger out who put up the job but it come to me all of a sudden this A.M. that it was Hamilton & Carpenter & when I ast the oficer was it them he wouldent say nothing so you see it was them & I will make them swett for it.

Well Charley I was tooken up before the justice the 1st thing this A.M. & the justice was a good fellow & they wasent no body there to complane agin me only the oficer & when he found out who I really was he wouldent say nothing & says he was sorry he pulled me in but it wasent his falt. So they left me go & I come home & Grace is pretty near sick because it was in the papers how we was giving a party & doing the foxey trot out in the middle of the st.

Well Ive wrote you a long letter Charley but I guess I had some news for you even if it was bad news but the next bad news will be a bout them stiffs that pulled it off.

Kindest to Mary.

PETTY JEALOUSY

The little petty jealousies, if we could but get rid of these,
The world would be a happier place with less of hate and strife;
If we'd but do a kindly deed, and let the credit go to seed,
We'd lose a thousand frowns and sighs which mar the joys of life.

If only we would plod along, regardless of the little wrong,
Or having done a worthy thing not stop to reap the praise,
If only we could come to see the shallowness of vanity
And value service more than pride, we'd come to happier days.

But no, we feel that we must be rewarded oft by glory's fee,
For all we do we must demand the little gifts of fame;
Love turns to hate, and peace to strife, and bitterness comes into life
Because we seek the petty praise and fear the petty blame.

Oh, let the fame and glory go! It is enough for us to know
That we have done a worthy thing—why seek for men's applause?
And even though the world goes by unheeding, it is vain to sigh,

Odd Bits of Humor

"What do you do when you find a poker chip in the collection basket?"

"Sometimes I get excellent results."

"As to how?"

"Last Sunday I found one, announced the fact, and seven gentlemen sent up money to redeem it."

"Yes, sir," replied Farmer Corntossel. "I told Josh that no matter how fascinatin' his Greek and Latin might be, he must not let 'em interfere with his studyin' the traffic regulations."

Redd—Hear your wife had an accident when she was out in her car yesterday? Greene—Oh, it didn't amount to much. Redd—Neither she nor the car hurt? Greene—No.

"We know what matrimonial bonds are." "Yes?" "Well, what would you call divorce papers?" "I dunno—what would you call them?" "Why, I'd call them [illegible] bonds."

The first daily newspaper in the world is said to have been established by a woman, Miss Elizabeth Mallet, in London, March, 1702. She published and edited the Daily Courant, which she founded "for the purpose of doing greater justice for women in general through the elimination of impertinences which the ordinary papers contain."

As a newly devised educational plan, students of the summer school of the Kansas State Normal School will go to school in the woods, local manufacturing centers and mills, stockyards and stores, where they will gather material and make observations. The information thus gained will furnish largely the basis of investigation and study in the classroom on the other days.

The COUNTRY of UPSIDE DOWN

By Jack Burroughs

Chapter 24

The Firemen's Chorus

SHORTLY after the Gingersnap Phone had finished reciting Josiah Jingle-Jangle's poem, a commotion was heard in the hall. Alex opened the door to see what the trouble was, and found Reddy Quackenback waddling down the hall followed by a bell boy who was beating a gong.

"Outside, everybody!" Reddy was shouting. "The hotel will catch fire in an hour and a quarter from now!"

Alex gathered up his belongings and he and the Gingersnap Phone joined Reddy in the corridor.

By 3 o'clock the guests were all safely out of the hotel and most of the furnishings were piled up in the vacant lot across the street.

An agent for a fire insurance company happened to be walking past at the time and the manager of the hotel stopped him and said: "My hotel is going to catch fire immediately. Will you be so kind as to insure it for me?"

"Why certainly," replied the fire insurance agent, obligingly. "Will you have one of our pink policies tied with blue baby ribbon, or one of our lavender policies with gold letters?"

"That's a hard problem to decide, on the spur of the moment," returned the hotel manager.

"You'll have to decide, nevertheless," the insurance man declared, "and you'll have to decide right away, too, if you want to have your place insured. We're not allowed to make out policies after a place catches fire."

"Pink and blue make a lovely color combination," said the Hotel Manager, and so do lavendar and gold. Which shall I choose? Dear me! Which SHALL I choose?"

He began pacing up and down like one distracted, his red face growing redder and his gold watch charm thumping against his white vest at every step.

"What shall I do?" he muttered again and again. "What shall I do?"

"I'll tell you what to do," said Reddy Quackenback, waddling up to the troubled hotel man. "If you can't choose between the two, take one of each kind."

"Great idea!" the hotel man cried.

"Marvelous brain," commented the insurance agent, and he made out the two policies without further delay.

Meanwhile, in the hotel kitchen, the chef, who was making griddle cakes, tossed one of the cakes too high and it draped itself over one corner of a portrait of Superdreadnaught B. B. Bumble, which the chef kept hanging with its face to the wall.

The chef climbed upon a table to dislodge the griddle cake and in doing so upset a pan of grease upon the stove. The grease blazed up and set fire to a dish towel and soon the whole kitchen was in flames.

The chef ran into the street shouting "Fire! Fire!" and everyone took up the cry—everyone except the man with the broken jaw, who was still busy trying to induce his friends to take him to the Upside Down Hospital.

Alex turned in the alarm at the nearest box and as the fire engines and trucks came rumbling and snorting in response to the call the firemen lined up on the sidewalk to sing an introductory chorus just as is done in comic operas. Here is part of the song they sang:

Oh, what's the harm of a fire alarm
When the flames are roaring high?
So tap the gong, and we'll sing our song
While the smoke clouds dim the sky.
Burn the welcome off the mat;
Singe the whiskers off the cat;
From Shasta, burn to Ararat;
Sing roast, sing frizzle, and fry!

What wrong is there, when the flames they flare,
To howl for water and hose?
So clang the bells while our chorus swells
And we strike a graceful pose.
Burn the pictures on the wall;
Burn the hatrack in the hall;
Burn from Gaasterland to Gaul;
Sing ah and a couple of ohs!

We shall not blame the ruddy flame,
Nor the sparks that snap and sizzle,
For a fire must learn the way to burn
Or its life becomes a fizzle.
Burn the water from the bay;
Burn the alphabet to "K";
Burn from Cairo to Cathay;
Sing roast, sing fry and frizzle!

Daily ALMANAC

by Ad. Schuster.

TUESDAY, JULY 12.

Alexander Hamilton died July 12, 1804, the day after the duel with Aaron Burr. Benjamin P. Shillaber, humorist, whose "Sayings of Mrs. Partington" won him fame, was born on this day in 1814. It was in 1842 that Clara Louise Kellogg, the first American singer to win favor abroad, was born. Czar Nicholas was slain by the Bolsheviki on July 12 in 1918.

THE PICTURE.

We start out with all of the pigments
But little enough of the skill,
Some carry a vision of beauty,
Some see but the space they must fill.

The high-lights tell of the triumphs
And the shadows speak of the pain—
With all that we learned in the painting,
We can't do it over again.

When we come to the finishing touches
'Tis ours then to mellow or mar,
And the painting will stand as the record
Of the sort of a man that we are.

In the millions of canvases hanging
Are hidden the hopes and the fears,
And each is the life of the artist,
The picture he made with his years.

SPEAKING OF FAMOUS SIEGES.

(Marysville Appeal)

Tom Nubert is out again after a siege with a broken nose.

After looking long at a sunset on the Potomac, Mrs. Harding, we read, requested the Marine Band to play "The End of a Perfect Day." While the instance may show that the first lady has a democratic taste in music, there will be many who will ask why she spoiled a perfectly good sunset.

It would seem that most organizations hold their conventions in the summer so the speakers can talk about the women's dress.

Handkerchiefs a yard square are being worn in Paris. It wouldn't take more than a quarter dozen to be three sheets in the wind.

Sign in Berkeley: "Finan haddie, formerly sold to epicures for 25 cents, now 10 cents."

THE END OF A PERFECT DAZE.

Now we are back from our vacation
All our money's spent,
Look at our purse with palpitation
See the awful dent.
Well I guess 'twas worth it
Take it all in all,
Hiking with sore feet
Through the timber tall.
It's good to be home, we said,
With comforts all around.
Sleeping in a wall-bed
Surely beats the ground.
We took a little flivver
It went like all possest,
She failed to cross a river,
You can guess the rest.
Now that I have returned
It's running through my mind
The gasoline we've burned,
Is paid by daily grind.
But I'm glad to get here again
With my face tanned so brown,
For I cannot long remain
From dear old Oakland Town. —T. C. V.

Cry on Geraldine's Shoulder

We build Loyalty.

I want to make a confession. Now that it's all over I can talk about it. For many years I guarded a dark secret about myself. Outwardly I tried to appear a Worthy Citizen, but inwardly I was convinced that I was a Bad Lot. For I felt that I wasn't naturally loyal to those I loved!

I detested disloyalty. Fair weather friends seemed to me the most despicable of human creatures. Yet in spite of that I would grow deadly weary of my friends. I would see their faults and long to be free at times from the bonds that bound us. Other people did not seem troubled this way. They stuck to those they loved like adamant. So I believed that I had been born with a hideous moral deformity.

And then I found out what Loyalty really is. Not something that you get ready-made like the shape of your nose, but something you work for constantly and build up bit by bit through a thousand small decisions and victories over your selfishness. I found that it was natural for folks to grow weary of each other—that my most "loyal" friends grew as tired of me as I of them. I discovered that Loyalty is gained as all the other valuable things in life are gained —by hard work and deliberate willing.

So now I feel better. If you can achieve a beautiful quality like Loyalty by struggling, I may stand a chance—for I'm a grand struggler.

There's no problem in the following letter. It's just the story of a tired heart and I wonder if it will move you to pity as it did Jerry. How I wish I could help you, Weary. But why give up so easily, Pal. Yes, I meant "easily." Death and loss come to us all—but if we're "game" as you say you are, WE CARRY ON. It isn't American to throw it all up and take to the road. That's a slacker's part. This nation needs every one of its REAL men in the working ranks now, just as it needed them in the fighting ranks a while back. I realize there are a thousand things to wreck a man's faith and even drain his patriotism just now. Sometimes it looks as if things would NEVER straighten out—as if we never would have good jobs again and easy hearts. We surely never will if we all throw up the sponge. Buck up, Pal. If the girl was worth while, MAKE A MAN OF YOURSELF IN HER DEAR NAME.

A Sad Story

Jerry—List you to the troubles of a Tramp? You've awakened my nobler self and quickened the memories of the dead girl I loved. I crave no sympathies from you or your readers. I've fallen in the battle of life—"stung"—as my friend, the Newsboy, says, but I die game. I write simply to beg American boys to value highly the love of a good and sweet American girl, to be on the square is to be American.

I was raised in a village on the beautiful Ohio river and in 1914 moved to Chicago to take a position there as a young Bank Clerk. A young girl, modest of mien and exceedingly beautiful (too good for me, I thought) and Assistant Cashier for a large concern, used to bank money twice a week for the firm. Sometimes she would be a few cents over and I'd hand back the money with a smile, saying "I'd like to be those nickels." She simply smiled a silent departure.

One day, however, she spoke in open response, "I just love to come to you because you are so kind." I said, "Read the sign," which was lettered "Be courteous to all." "To all is right," she said. "I watched the attentions you showered on that old lady before me." "Somebody's mother," I said, "mine is dead." "Well, I already love yours," she said. "That means you love her son," I responded. Then followed courtship and engagement. Happy, happy days!

In 1917 Mars called me to the colors of the U. S. A. Then I realized the intensity of her love for me. "Jack you are one in a million, it breaks my heart; but go, Uncle Sam is calling." Gladly, yet sadly, I left for France. Oh! how her letters cheered me at the Front. Suddenly they stopped, what was wrong? Her mother wrote me in the Argonne. Died of "Flu," dead! girl o' mine dead; I was dazed. I envied the dead on the field of battle. The boys pitied me. She was dead. The light went out of my life. She was dead.

After the Armistice I returned with my regiment to the States, and got an honorable discharge. Disheartened I took to the road, bowed, bent and broken. "Jack, go straight," I seem to hear her say. I'll do it for her, I'd say. Now I'm just a regular "Bo." Gee! she'd feel bad; but I'm on the square. A farmer just fired me because his daughter took a liking to me. She was a lovely girl, but I was just a "Bo." What do I care; all the kids like me, they can tell, they say "you ain't a regular one." They meant a real Bo. That's the inside for the Cop that kicked me off the train. I don't blame him. 'Tis life, Geraldine, 'tis life.

WEARY.

Lying to Children

Isn't it funny, Folks—we grown-ups expect perfect honesty from each other as a matter of course and yet we'll tell Gilt Edge Whoppers to the kiddies without blinking. I heard one the other day at the baseball game. (Are you a fan? Oh. Boy, I'll say that Jerry am!) She was the nicest little mother you'd want to meet, and the baby was the most adorable he kiddie, as full of wiggles as a sunbeam is of shine. The wiggles started it. You can't attend to an eight-sided wiggle and watch three men on base at the same time. So the little mother fell back on the Whopper. "THE CAT WILL GET YOU IF YOU DON'T SIT STILL!" said she. Say Pals, you could fairly see that baby grow green around the gills! There wasn't a cat within a mile, but he saw them glaring at him from every seat. He was still for at least three minutes, with a stillness that could only have been produced by a dread of cats which would last for the rest of his natural life, in all probability. Something else would also last soon as he got around to figuring it out—THE KNOWLEDGE THAT HIS MOTHER LIED AND THE CONCLUSION THAT, SINCE SHE LIED, LIES WERE BOTH DESIRABLE AND EXCUSABLE. I wonder if the three men on base were worth it? Yet that's a method of child-taming that has the sanction of the best homes. Here are a few timely remarks on the subject that I wish the little cat-getting mother might read:

The Letter

Hello, Jerry Dear:

How are you this morning? I pop in on you every once in a while, don't I? I was reading "Bebe's" letter to you in last night's TRIBUNE. I'm so glad that she, like myself, is so happily married. Among other things she says that husbands and wives must be truthful to one another. How right you are, Bebe; a house of lies cannot prosper. I've heard wives lie to their husbands over mere trifles. They think they are keeping their self-respect in his eyes, but if they would only stop and think, how contemptible they must look to him when he finds it out.

This also applies to husbands. Now I'm going a step further. How about keeping your promises and also telling the truth to the kiddies? Some women will tell the most barefaced lies in front of the kiddies. Do they think the kiddies have no reasoning power? They think, "My mother lies; I guess it's all right." And to promise a child anything and not keep your promise—that's an awful thing. How can a kiddie have faith in a mother like that? When I promise the kiddies anything they know they will get it. If I'm busy and try to put them off for a few minutes they say, "Mother, you promised right away." So I drop whatever I'm doing to keep my promise. I impress three things firmly in their minds, that is, to tell the truth, to keep a promise and not to take what doesn't belong to them. They keep these rules now, and I do hope they will always do so.

So mothers, keep your kiddies' faith in you. You are the ones who set their feet in the right path. No matter how small the kiddies are, don't imagine they don't notice anything, for you just bet they do.

Now, Jerry, after that sermon I ought to feel better, don't you think so? I have a bowl of honeysuckle on the table here and it sure does smell good. The kiddies each have some in a glass on a chair by their bedsides (copy cats). Do you suppose if I brought a bouquet of it in next time I come to Oakland they would send it up to you, Jerry? I know you like honeysuckle and blue skies and lovely green hills, Jerry, and so do I, and I have all of that here. Whenever you get blue or depressed, Jerry (which we all do at times) come out here and stand on the top of a hill and forget your troubles.

Well, Jerry, guess you are too busy to listen to this kind of talk, so I'll say no more now, only you have a mind and a heart as big as the world.

Sincerely,

M. B.

A Personal Word

IVAH K. Your being interested in me doesn't mean that you will take my advice, does it? "No." I thought not, but anyway I dont like to think of a 17-year-old girl being married. Also, I get the feeling from your letter that you haven't tried very hard to get along with either your father or grandmother. Am I right?

A FAITHFUL LITTLE GIRL. You surely are a faithful little pal, but don't "sacrifice." The boy ought to be thankful to have a kindly home place to visit and good company. Don't give up your principles for the sake of his petty disposition.

VIVIAN. Time is your ally. When he thinks of you, he probably thinks of your first husband and doesn't like the idea of your ever having been close to anyone but him. In the baby girl he sees her father. Show your love for him all you can, tell him that you love him, that your past was hateful and ask him to help you forget it. In time I think he will.

Geraldine

WORKERS ACCEPT CUT BUT REFUSE 'AMERICAN PLAN'

Attitude of Both Sides Keeps 15 Bay District Planing Mills Closed.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—Employees of the fifteen planing mills which have announced that they will operate under the American plan today, declared their willingness to accept the 7½ per cent reduction in wages, but refused to work in any mill in which non-union men were employed. As a result the mills remained closed today and, it is said, do not contemplate an early opening.

The Builders' Exchange announced today that it had crews working on 126 jobs, large and small, and that 1500 non-union men were registered for employment. The policy of watchful waiting, the Building Trades Council announced, would be continued.

Hearing of the arguments on the demurrer filed in the cases of Charles W. Gompertz and William H. George, charged with violation of the Cartwright anti-trust act, has been postponed until Thursday by Police Judge Sylvester McAtee. Gompertz is president and George chairman of the Builders' Exchange. They were arrested on warrants sworn to by Charles Nelson, a contractor, who charges they refused to sell him building materials until he agreed to pledge himself to the American plan.

WINS GUERNSEY BRIDE.

MARTINEZ, July 12. — Cecil Flambard, Shell company employee, and his bride, the former Miss Mary Sigwart of the Isle of Guernsey, arrived in Martinez yesterday. They were married in England on June 8. The bride was a boyhood sweetheart of Flambard's whom he had not seen in eight years.

College Girl Likes Fire Lookout Work

EUGENE, Ore., July 12.—Miss Dorothy Dickey, junior at the University of Oregon, seems to have a high aim in life, and so far she has been successful in the accomplishment of her desires. She is to be a forest fire lookout on Horse Pasture Mountain, 6000 feet above sea level, again this season following her competent observation work at the same post last year.

From July 10 until some time in September—depending upon the start of the fall rains—Miss Dickey will occupy one of the two major lookout posts in the McKenzie River district, located about eighty-five miles from Eugene. In order to reach her place of employment she must travel fifteen mile of the distance on foot, with a pack-horse to carry her belongings.

Last summer the university girl was the first observer to locate sixteen forest fires.

"I can hardly wait till it's time to go again," Miss Dickey said when asked if she liked her work. "It isn't lonesome up there. We have visitors almost every day. Last year four days was the longest time we were without a caller. My mother and sister stay with me and we have a good time."

Without wasps fig trees would not produce fruit.

GANGSTERS LOSE APPEALS, MUST SERVE SENTENCES

Rulings of Judge Ward, Trial Court Magistrate, Are Upheld.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—Edmond (Spud) Murphy and Allen McDonald, serving indeterminate sentences with maximum penalties at fifty years and life imprisonment, respectively, in San Quentin penitentiary, will be forced to serve out their terms as the result of a decision today by the District Court of Appeals.

Their conviction for felonious assault and other actions growing out of the Howard-street gangster cases was upheld in every detail. The court, in a very lengthy opinion, finds there was no misconduct at the time of the trial and upholds the various important rulings of Superior Judge Louis Ward, who presided.

CONSPIRACY EVIDENCE.

The court finds that there was evidence of conspiracy on the part of the accused to lure Jessie Montgomery and Jean Stanley, the alleged victims, to the so-called vice shack.

The decision follows closely the briefs submitted by Attorney-General U. S. Webb, upholding his contentions at almost every step of the way. The defendants were found guilty, together with K. O. Kruvosky, Thomas Brady and James Carey. Kruvosky has made no appeal, but efforts are still being put forth by the attorneys for Carey and Brady to bring about their release.

HISTORY OF CASE.

The men met the girls on Thanksgiving eve and were arrested following orgies at the Howard-street house. Subsequently Detectives Miles Jackson and Thomas Dorman were killed by other members of the alleged gang at Santa Rosa, the sheriff of that county losing his life at the same time. Their assailants were lynched by a mob almost immediately following.

Picture Suppressed By Berkeley Council

BERKELEY, July 12.—Sensation was created in the meeting of the city council today when an advertisement describing a motion picture was read to the council by Commissioner Charles D. Heywood, after protest had been made against it by Leonard Ver Mehr, realty broker.

The protest of Ver Mehr was made in the interests of the residents of the Elmwood Park district, he said. The picture was to have shown at a theater at College and Ashby avenues but after hearing the advertisement describing the plot of the picture, the council voted to suppress the showing of it in Berkeley.

Two Arrests Made By New Dry Squad

The first two arrests for violating the national prohibition act since the dry squad was discharged last Saturday, were made last night by Policemen Louis Kersch and J. P. Thompson, who were working in plain clothes under the direction of Captain Frank Lynch of the Central station.

The first man arrested was Elmer Shelden, a bartender at 400 Jefferson street, who was selling "jackass" brandy for 25 cents a glass. Shelden was arrested on Saturday night on the same charge. The other man arrested was Frank Nunes of 538 Peralta street. The police took a small quantity of brandy from the place.

Children Made Liars, Asserts Evangelist

Mothers who send children to front doors to deceive bill collectors are training young liars as well as young thieves, according to "Black Billy Sunday," who is holding revival services in Beth Eden Baptist church, Filbert and Eighth streets, last night. "Chickens Will Come Home to Roost," was his subject.

"Speaking in Tongues or Religious Delusions," will be discussed tonight. "What Must I Do to be Damned?" is the theme announced for tomorrow night.

Kaiser's Yacht Too Big For Pool at Doug's Home

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—In re the estate of William Hohenzollern, insolvent.

William, or William's creditors, would sell his private yacht, Meteor V, now at Kiel, for $170,000.

Furthermore, they would sell it to one Douglas Fairbanks of the U. S. A.

The latter today received a letter from Hans Sarnow of the Nord Deutsche Bank, Hamburg, offering the palatial yacht to Fairbanks "for immediate delivery." It is of finest Krupp steel, built in 1914, and is 37 meters over all.

But Fairbanks has his own ideas on the matter.

"What could I do with the thing?" he confided to the United Press. "It's too big for the natatorium at my place in Beverly Hills and I don't want it cluttering up the property room at the studio.

"No thanks; tell Bill I guess I'll get along without his yacht."

Vollmer Gives Talk To Electric Club

Chief of Police August Vollmer of the Berkeley police department addressed the weekly meeting of the Electric Club at Hotel Oakland yesterday. He discussed recent developments in criminology, showing that crime works in well-defined lines in each individual case. The same individual works in the same manner and in that way the author of a crime leaves tell-tale evidence.

Chief Vollmer is a recognized authority upon the subject, and at present is conducting a study class of officers from Utah. He is also associated with the State University in this work.

The Electric Club is composed of contractors, dealers and those interested in electrical development. George B. Furniss is president, with Lee Gilpin and Bert Rea vice-presidents and Clark Baker secretary. The executive committee is Curlis Collins, Bud Haroux, Walter Martinez and John Gregort.

Schools To Be Given Good Examination

MARTINEZ, July 12. — A survey of Contra Costa's schools, particularly on the type of construction and facilities, is to be made this fall under the direction of Dr. F. W. Hart of the University of California, it was announced today by Superintendent of Schools William H. Hanlon. Hart addressed the annual trustees' convention held here Saturday and his remarks appealed to school officials to such a degree that it was felt advisable that a survey of county schools be made. In making this survey Dr. Hart will submit recommendations on types of buildings that should be provided in all districts of the county, schools that will prove capable of caring for future as well as present needs. Districts planning immediate construction of new schools will be the first to be surveyed. It is estimated the cost of the survey will be about $2000 or 24 cents per pupil.

Porto Ricans Sign For Hawaiian Work

SAN JUAN, P. R., July 12.—Plans for recruiting laborers here for work in the Hawaiian cane fields have been postponed as a result of articles in the newspapers in opposition to the undertaking. The original plan was for some 1300 laborers to sail this month.

Royal D. Meade, who has been in charge of the work here, said that while there had been some delay the original plans would be carried out. Several hundred laborers already have agreed to go wherever transportation is available.

Harry Moll Freed Of Battery Charge

After hearing the evidence against Harry Moll, charged with battery, Police Judge Mortimer Smith found him not guilty. He was alleged to have attacked an 8-year-old girl. In the testimony it developed that the only interest that Moll took in the child was natural and was prompted by his love for small children.

TERCENTENARY OF PILGRIM LANDING TO BE OBSERVED

Pageant Will Depict Scenes At Plymouth Since the Earliest Days.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., July 12.—Pilgrim and Indian will meet again on the shores of Plymouth bay this summer, central figures in a pageant to celebrate the tercentenary of the forefathers' landing. The pageant, which will depict scenes from the legends of the Norsemen, the chronicles of the colonists and the history of the World War, is being prepared as the feature event of a program of observance to which latter-day Plymouth has given over its entire summer.

Helmeted Vikings, adventurous mariners of England, Holland and France, gaily clad courtiers of King James, Puritans in sober raiment and stolid Dutch burghers will pass and repass on land and water. Out in the harbor the little ship Mayflower will swing at anchor and a great Norse galley will cut the waves. Voices uplifted in speech and song and music from a hundred instruments will aid in carrying an audience of thousands back over the centuries.

CAST IS REHEARSING.

Fourteen hundred men, women and children of Plymouth and the little country towns nearby, have been rehearsing at feverish pace under the direction of George Pierce Baker, professor of dramatic literature at Harvard university. The pageant was devised by Dr. Baker as the great public event of the celebration of the tercentenary of the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth on the twenty-first of December, 1620.

The celebration was opened in a more formal way and with an audience necessarily limited on the precise anniversary in December last, when a commemoratory oration was delivered by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge. The tercentenary commission reserved for a season less uncomfortably reminiscent of the hardships of the first Pilgram winter, the out-of-door features.

It is expected that President Harding will be the guest of the commission on August 1 and will view the pageant that night.

The somewhat archaic canopy which bent its arches over Plymouth Rock for a long period and which has been familiar to many generations of school children through the illustrations in their history books, was removed this year. The rock, split by frost and previous movings, was carefully rejoined and restored to its original place on the shore of the harbor. An architectural background and a landing stage will make the approach to the rock impressive and beautiful.

DISARMAMENT IS URGED FOR U. S. BY ENDEAVORERS

NEW YORK, July 12.—Adopting as its new slogan, "A Warless World by 1923," the sixth world's Christian Endeavor convention closed its sessions last night by calling upon President Harding and Congress to "give us disarmament, by agreement if possible, by example if necessary; and give us no narrow partisanship at all in this black hour."

"We insist," said the declaration adopted by the more than 16,000 delegates from all parts of the world, "that as speedily as possible the United States be permitted to take its place of leadership in such a council, association or league of nations as shall induce or compel all peoples to learn war no more, but brotherhood and the concern for the real welfare of each.

"Since no nation can ever again live or die to itself, and since national neighborhood is geographically accomplished, let the United States see to it that her sons who died for world peace as well as for world freedom shall not have died in vain."

Union To Give Vote Result Tomorrow

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—Announcement of the referendum vote being taken by the members of the Marine Firemen's, Watertenders' and Oilers' Union on the settlement plan which is aimed to bring the marine strike to a close, will be made tomorrow. Union officials are of the opinion that the vote will favor acceptance of the plan and owners, acting on this assumption, are making their craft ready to put to sea.

It is said that if the men return to work 125 steam schooners will be released in the coastwise lumber trade. The marine cooks, waiters, sailors and stewards have already voted to accept the new proposal.

Postoffice 'Vererans' Replaced by Motors

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 12.—Five veterans of the postoffice force were retired July 1. They are horses. Two motor cars take their places and with this change the local postoffice department is completely motorized.

Man Saves Family From Blazing Auto

Hurling his wife and three babes into the brush along the roadside and then leaping from his blazing automobile, Otto Tinneman, 6431 Benvenue avenue, saved himself and family from death or serious injury.

While he was driving to Russian River Terrace, 12 miles from Santa Rosa, dripping oil caught fire and blazed hotly as his machine was going down a steep grade. The wind fanned the blaze until the car was enveloped almost totally in the fire. At the bottom of the grade Tinneman stopped and rescued his family and saved himself.

The car was damaged badly, the fire being extinguished by passing autoists equipped with hand fire extinguishers.

Ocean Waves Reject Would-Be Suicide

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12. — The treacherous breakers on the ocean beach which have taken so many bathers out to sea despite their struggles for life, refused to welcome H. G. Miller, 35 years old, when he attempted suicide at midnight. Walking into the water, he threw himself forward in the surf but was repeatedly washed back again onto the land. Finally his lungs filled with water and he was thrown up in a dazed condition on the beach. There he lay until daylight, when the motorman on a passing Haight street car sighted him. The motorman runs past the Park Emergency hospital and stopped long enough to notify the surgeon on duty.

Miller was brought to the hospital at 7 o'clock and resuscitated. He said he was a carpenter by trade but had been working as a hotel clerk. He was despondent because of a nervous breakdown and lack of money. Recently he had been living at the New York house. He will recover.

Sammy Hale of the Beavers is right behind Hack Miller with .370, while "Don" Brown of the Bees is hitting .350 and Jim Poole of the Beavers .330.

Of the men who went away from the Coast League for a couple of years and returned and who are showing up well with the stick are Joe Wilhoit of Salt Lake, Ray Bates of Seattle, Pick of Sacramento, Pinelli of Oakland, Hannah of Vernon and Strand of Salt Lake. They are all hitting above .300.

Siglin Is Doing Great Work For the Bees

One of the greatest surprises in the hitting line this season is Heinie Sands, the little San Franciscan with the Salt Lake Bees. His weakness with the stick was the cause of him not being a regular the last couple of seasons, but today he claims an average of .348, is second among the runmakers and third for honors in hitting home runs.

It must cause Walter McCredie a headache each time he takes apeek at the work which Paddy Siglin of the Bees and Koehler of the Oaks are doing. He got rid of both those men last season, and Siglin is today one of the most valuable men in the league. He is hitting .355, the best run maker, the best two-base hitter, and is tied for third honors for hitting home runs. The unofficial averages including games of last Sunday follow:

Siglin Is Best Run Scorer in P. C. League

Jack Knight Is Second in Driving Out Hits For Two Bases.

Paddy Siglin and Heinie Sand, both of the Salt Lake club, are holding first and second places respectively in scoring the most runs, but Hack Miller and Claude Cooper are giving them a hard fight for their position, and so is Bert Ellison of the Seals.

Marty McGaffigan, who is barely hitting over the .200 mark, is leading the base stealers with Billy Lane of Seattle only one behind him, while Maury Rath of the Seals is leading the sacrifice hitters, but has several just a peg ahead or two behind him.

If Pete Compton of the Sacramento club keeps up the good work, he might have a chance at equaling or bettering the Coast League home run record, for he has fourteen to his credit, and the season is only a week more than half over. Jimmy O'Connell, the young Seal first sacker, is Compton's nearest rival with eleven, and Jimmy has more to brag about than has Compton, for he has hit two of his homers over the right field fence in Oakland. Hack Miller is tied with four others for third place in hitting homers. He busted nine for the circuit.

No Oaks are listed among the leading three-base swatters, while Carroll of the Angels leads with nine, and Rod Murphy of Seattle is second with eight.

Jack Knight, the veteran on the Oakland infield, is putting up a great fight to be the best two-base swatter in the league. He is second with thirty-three, while Paddy Siglin at present leads with thirty-four. Hack Miller is also among the leaders with thirty.

Southpaws Are Leading the Oak Hurlers

Reinhart of Angels Is Leading Moundsman in the Coast League.

Two southpaws, George (Lefty) Winn and Harry Krause, are leading the Oakland pitchers, but they will have to keep up the good work in order to hold that honor, for Ray Kremer, right-hander of the Oaks staff, has been winning just as regularly as they and he is within one game of tieing Krause. Winn has won eight games and lost three, while Krause has won eleven and lost six. Kremer has won ten and lost six. Buz Arlett is still one win shy of putting him at the 500 mark, but he hopes to go over that mark this week by pitching two games.

Reinhart of the Angels has the best record in wins and defeats with only two defeats marked against his nine wins. Couch and O'Doul of the Seals are tied for second honors, but O'Doul is really the best, because he pitched in just one less game than Couch and was responsible for twenty-two less runs.

In the runs responsible for system of rating pitchers, Krause belongs ahead of Winn, for he was responsible for but forty-one runs in seventeen games, while Winn has sixty-three charged against him in eleven. The pitching records follow:

Jack Dempsey Is Headed For Oakland

According to a despatch from Salt Lake City Heavyweight Champion Jack Dempsey is headed for Oakland, via Los Angeles. The champion went direct to Salt Lake to visit with his folks after the Carpentier battle and his plans thereafter were indefinite. At Jack Kearns' home on Perry street they have received no word regarding Dempsey's coming but Jack has a way of dropping in unexpectedly. He will probably remain in Los Angeles a few days before coming here as he has many friends in the southern city. Manager Kearns is still in New York—that is as still as Jack can be.

Wolfe and Tremaine Bout Called Draw

CLEVELAND, O., July 12. — Judges were unable to agree on a verdict last night in a 12-round go between Jack Wolfe and Carl Tremaine of Cleveland, so they called it a draw. It was one of the most vicious contests ever staged in Cleveland.

Bill Defoe of St. Paul gave Johnny Rini of Cleveland a boxing lesson in a scheduled ten-round go which the boxing commission stopped in the seventh to prevent unnecessary punishment.

Duncan and Mitchell Go Into the Lead

NEW YORK, July 12.—George Duncan and Abe Mitchell, British professionals, obtained a lead of 3 up over Jock Hutchison of Chicago, winner of the recent British open golf-championship, and Tom Kerrigan of Siwaney, at the end of the first half of a 72-hole match here yesterday. The match will be finished today.

AMERICAN LEGION LOSES.

The Calatone Water Company gave Hafey and Sanberg gilt-edge support and walloped the shoots of Cramer for ten safe hits to gain and 8 to 6 victory over Post No. 5 of the American Legion at the San Pablo playgrounds. Turney, Hoffman and Daniels were the heavy stickers for the water boys. Frank Short did some heavy sticking for the Legion nine. The score:

VALLEJO VS. NAPA.

VALLEJO, July 12. — The Vallejo and Napa baseball teams will clash here on Sunday in the first game of a series of five to settle the championship of Solano and Napa counties.

SANTA ROSA WINS.

SANTA ROSA, July 12 — The Santa Rosa Rosebuds defeated the Fort Bragg ball team by a score of 9 to 3 in a batting fest. Santa Rosa scoring 11 hits to Fort Bragg's 9. Schmidt and Cunningham were the battery for Santa Rosa, Moore and Llewellyn being the Fort Bragg battery.

TY COBB MAKES GOOD

Just as long as Ty Cobb can keep his Tigers in the first division the Detroit fans are satisfied. Ty has his boys hovering around the fifty-fifty mark and he says he will not go any lower. Ty is seen on the left talking it over with one of his hired men.

Charles Stickney Wins Match in Portland Tennis Tournament

PORTLAND, Ore., July 12. — Phil Bettens of San Francisco featured in the first day's play of the Oregon state tennis tournament here yesterday, defeating Max Wood of Multnomah club, Portland, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-0, and in the first round defeating Kenneth Smith, Portland, 7-5, 6-2. Bettens' serving was fine and his hard drives won many points.

Charles F. Stickney of Oakland, Cal., defeated Deo Mallet, Portland, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-2. Preliminary rounds in both men's and women's singles were completed yesterday.

Larry Kopf's poor showing with the bat gives Sammy Crane another chance to try his hand at short for the Cincinnati Reds.

New White Hope Craze Turns Up a Scrappy Cop

NEW YORK, July 12.—A Washington policeman was in New York today seriously considering his chances of winning the world's heavyweight boxing championship from Jack Dempsey. He is Henry Darneille, 21 years old, the undefeated heavyweight champion of the United States Navy destroyer fleet during the war, but otherwise unknown in boxing circles.

Darneille was pronounced by physicians to be in perfect condition physically, and his followers believe that his build, which is very similar to the present champion's, together with his natural, although undeveloped fighting ability have placed him among those who can properly aspire to defeat Dempsey. The Washington policeman won local fame on the Fourth of July when he quelled a disturbance in Capitol Heights. With his bare fists he knocked down every man in a mob that rushed at him, and Washington newspapers number the casualties at about 100.

Bates and Levy Win Singles and Doubles

TORONTO, July 12.—Bates and Levy, University of California tennis players, were successful in singles and doubles of their first round in the Canadian championship tournament. Second round play begins today.

AVENUE MERCHANTS VICTORS.

The Twenty-third Avenue Merchants journeyed out to Dimond and trimmed the Dimond Improvement Club's wings to the tune of 15 to 5. Murphy was easily the star of the game, as he struck out fourteen of the Dimond batsmen and allowed but five scattered hits. Repose and Martin did fine work with the stick, each scoring a home run with two men on. The score:

Baseball Gossip

The Chicago White Sox were whitewashed by the New York Giants—score 4 to 0. Babe Ruth hit his thirty-second homer of the season off Dick Kerr. Bobby Meusel also hit a homer. There was a man on base for each circuit smash.

Tobin, former Bee and lead-off man of St. Louis Browns, hit three out of five and scored two runs. One of his hits went for a homer. The Browns beat Washington 5 to 4. Erickson pitched part of the game for Washington, but escaped charge of the defeat.

Pennock held the Detroit Tigers to five hits, and the Red Sox scored a 6 to 1 win in the first game. Oscar Vitt failed to get a hit for the winners, as did Blue, Jones and Young for the Tigers.

Heilmann hit a single and Bassler a triple, while Veach's homer gave the Tigers their only score.

In the second game the Tigers took a 7 to 3 beating, but this time Heilmann got three hits, Young two, and Blue one, while Jones again went hitless. Red Oldham and Howard Ehmke were the chuckers for the Tigers and allowed twelve hits between them. Ehmke got charged with the defeat.

Oscar Vitt again went hitless for the Red Sox, making it nine times he failed.

The Brooklyn Dodgers scored four runs in the ninth inning and defeated Pittsburg 9 to 8. Olson hit a double and single, and Johnston a single for Brooklyn. Zach Wheat hit a homer and two singles.

The Phillies defeated the Cards 9 to 8. Bill Pertica stepped into the box in time to get charged with the defeat. Le Bourveaux served as a pinch hitter for the Phillies in the ninth and got a hit that aided in the scoring of two runs which won the game.

The Cubs defeated the Giants, 7 to 2, Cheeves of the Cubs allowing four hits. Phil Douglass pitched part of the game for the Giants. Zeb Terry hit a homer and single, and Hollocher two singles for the Cubs.

McQuillan allowed the Cincinnati Reds three hits so the Braves put over a 2 to 0. Rixey of the Reds allowed but four hits, so the Boston fans saw a great pitching battle. Bohne went hitless, but played great ball at second. Southworth of the Braves also went hitless.

GOLF STARS OF THE WORLD GATHER FOR OPENING OF THE UNITED STATES TOURNAMENT

FOUR ROUNDERS TO STAGE PARTY IN THE AUDITORIUM RING

Good Card Arranged For Boxing Patrons Tomorr ow Night.

By BOB SHAND

The usual Wednesday meeting of the Scrap Club will be held at the auditorium Wednesday evening with sixteen debaters and a few thousand cash customers on the job. President T J Simpson has paired off the debaters with his usual good judgment and indications point to some fast battling, with a few gents taking an occasional wallop on the go-to-sleep point.

Mr. Edward J. Diggins, who did everything to Jimmy West last week but cut his throat, will be with us again. The former Olympic Club lightweight has been paired off with Johnny Nunes this trip. Last time out the customers regretted that a promising young lad like Diggins should be matched with an experienced and real hard guy like Jimmy West "He'll kill that amateur," opined Jimmy's friends. The sympathy was wasted, for West was lucky to get out of the ring with a few good breaths left in his anatomy. Diggins outboxed West to start with. Then he out-slugged him and when Jimmy tried some rough stuff the "poor little amateur" beat James at his own game. There won't be any sympathy for Diggins this week, for he has shown he can take care of himself in a pinch or even when there isn't a pinch

Nunes has been battling with much success in the well-known bushes and does not think much of Diggins chances Johnny has seen a lot of these amateurs come and go and he anticipates absolutely no trouble in slapping the Gerald Brown entry on the nose and making him act pretty. However Mister West thought the same thing

Frankie Howard who is no stranger to local fans will tackle Jack Davis on the same card After the way Davis belted Joe Tavis last meeting it takes a game guy to get in the same ring with him Howard saw the Davis Tavis brawl and doesn't think the ice cream merchant is so much of a muchness The way Frankie feels about it Davis can lick a lot of saps like Tavis but he can't whip a good man like Frankie Howard If it is a real warm day tomorrow and Davis has to de liver more than ten tons of ice cream it will be a bad night for Howard Delivering ten tons just puts Jack on edge for a four-round fight

George Gibbons To Box Tom Morton

George Gibbons the green heavy weight from the Point will make his second appearance in any ring when he meets Tom Morton The latter was resurrected by Pete Nolan who can produce anything from a flyweight to a heavyweight in two minutes Nobody knows where Nolan gets his fighters everybody knows where they go but there is a general belief that Pete keeps them out on pasture somewhere It is a large cinch that he can't feed em in town at the present price of C and E Morton has had a lot more experience than Gibbons but if the latter kid will only get mad just a wee bit mad Tom's experience handicap will vanish Gibbons has all the earmarks of a fighter and that doesn't mean he has a pair of cauliflowers on the north and south sides of his bean when he is walking east or west He gives promise of developing as he is game a hard hitter and big enough to whip anybody in the world

Several other prominent members of the Four-Round Club will help entertain Among them are

Bat Larson vs Chief Abernathy
Lee Macon vs Jimmy Dunning
Frankie Murphy vs Frankie Thomas
Johnny Derney vs Jack Coogan
Larry Fremont vs Marty Burman

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR WINNING TEAM AT U. C. THIS FALL

By B. H. LALANDE

Though the start of football season is some two months off many followers of the Califronia Varsity are now wondering how many of the men will be back when Andy Smith blows the first whistle in September. Anyone who walks through the Berkeley campus now may see a group talking here, a group there, and in fact wherever a bunch of regular college students congregate one, if close enough, can hear them debating the football prospects for next fall.

Andy Smith and Nibs Price may often be seen discussing something important, and according to those who are on the inside, this important something is none other than a plan of campaign for the Blue and Gold varsity this season.

If one can be influenced by what such an authority as Graduate Manager L A. Nichols has to say the Bear supporters will be looking for a repetition of last year's Bruin eleven for the former Blue and Gold high jumper points out that the same coaching will be on the job again with the same system which has been in vogue at the Berkeley institution for five years Further, Nichols states that nearly all of last year's varsity will register this fall, and that all the team will have at least a year experience playing under Andy Smith's system

Cort Majors Will Be Missed in Line

On the line the only regular who will not return is "Cort' Majors, last year's captain and guard 'Shrimp' Hall, who was substitute end on the 1920 outfit, graduated last Christmas With these two the only linesmen lost to this year's varsity, Smith and his assistants have an over-abundance of material

"Brick" Muller, last year's sensation, with "Bob" Berkey, will again be on the ends, while 'Jimmy' Cline, member of the 1919 team, and 'Brodie" Stevens, famous as the receiver of Muller's record-breaking pass, will keep the regular ends humping to keep their places on the eleven Then, too, there is 'Skink" Meil, O'Brien and Hufford of last year's frosh, who will be out as candidates for end positions.

"Wild Cat" Dan McMillan, famous now also as a member of the California crew which took second place at Poughkeepsie last month, will be back at his old place as long side tackle with "Stan" Barnes and "Bill" Dean fighting it out for the other tackle position.

At guard a new face will have to be found to fill Majors' place which by no means will be an easy task There is "Pat" Clark, Toney and "Bill" Gallagher to pick from unless Andy places the latter as an understudy to Captain Lathum at center Beside these three there are several members of last year's goofs, such as "Art" Best and "Tiny" Slack, who will be contenders. At short side guard once again will be found "Leo" Cranmer, two-year veteran of the Bear squad and one of the strongest men on the team.

"Fat" Lathum, the only Northern California product on last year's "wonder team," will, of course, be back at his regular place at center. Coast experts got quite a kick last fall in comparing the merits of "Swede" Righter of Stanford and Smith of Washington with those of the Alameda lad, and would continue to do so only for the fact that the Cardinal man will be among those missing next fall, having completed his curriculum at the Palo Alto college.

Charlie Erb Will Be On Job Again

"Charlie" Erb, the best field general on the Pacific Coast last year, will again be back at quarter, plutting fire into his teammates Since Charlie's famous fracas with Tarzan Taylor at Pasadena last New Years he has gained considerable confidence in himself and his trip to Japan this summer with the Varsity ball team has probably kept him in fine condition His only rival will be Tocher, for a while last year the quarter on "Dummy" Wells' 1924 eleven However, the latter in all probability will not be able to displace Erb for so much as one game, but Smith realizes the chances of injuries and will take no chances Moreover, Erb broke his leg this spring while cavorting about second for Carl Zamloch, and just how this injury will affect his playing is not as yet known and probably won't be until several scrimmages are held

Then there will be "Archie" Nisbet and 'Moury' Morrison again battling for the fullback position with the former having a little edge on the punting and the latter a trifle better in line plunging Very few teams in the country possess as good a fullback as either of these men make and when one coach is endowed with so much as two of their caliber he is, according to the critics indeed very lucky

Battle Will Be On For Sprott's Position

Now for halfback, who is going to fill the shoes of "Pesky" Sprott? This is the question which is bothering many of the Blue and Gold backers There was Carl Deeds, but he was disqualified at Christmas and did not return to summer session and whether he will be ellgible when he returns is a question for the faculty committee to settle If he will be able to don a Bear uniform, well enough, but suppose he can't Then what? His playing in the Stanford game last fall proved him to be beyond a doubt, one of the best halfbacks in the game There is Van Sant member of the 1923 Frosh, who received an injury at the first of last year which prevented him from getting an early start Then there is Dutch" Fells, who is heavier by far than either Van Sant or Deeds, and who proved himself a star in the few games he played in but also was on the injured list and did not get in any of the crucial contests? 'Don" Nichols, brother of the present graduate manager is another likely candidate for Sprott's place, but his lack of experience may keep him out.

With this array of talent and with the possibility of a dark horse looming up, Smith will not find it too hard to fill the position "Crip" Toomey, of course will be found at his regular position and the team then is complete

Practice, according to Nichols will start September 15 with Smith in charge, assisted by "Nibs' Price, "Walt" Gordon, "Boles" Rozenthal, "Bob" Watson "Dummy" Wells and maybe "Pesky" Sprott

WRESTLING SHOW TONIGHT KARASICK MEETS PINEAU

The wrestlers have their favorite holds oiled up and ready for use at the Shrine auditorium tonight where Al Karasick and Joe Pineau will head a card of three bouts Promoter Joe Khourmian has contorted the ring where the by fellows will perform and Joe says he is ready to receive his guests

The main event will find Al Karasick the local middleweight champion and Joe Pineau who claims the championship of New Mexico and Arizona in action Pineau dropped into town a couple of weeks ago and without knowing there were any grapplers here he issued a challenge to any middleweight in the country Karasick heard of the challenge and took it up Pineau did not think the gate would be big enough to warrant his appearance here but when Karasick offered to bet him $200 on the side them arch was consummated Of course Joe thinks he has something soft in the home town idol but a lot of other grapplers who held the same idea were speedily disillusioned when they went to the mat with the local boy

Karasick is in great shape for the fights bout and he may give the Arizonian a surprise The conditions call for two falls out of three with a two hour time limit prevailing

Two preliminary bouts will enter into the customers while the big fellows are getting into their wrestling togs Joe Moreno and Carl Martin will dash in the first bout and will be followed by Jack Bisseau of San Francisco and Young Crowley of the Moore shipyards Ladies will be admitted free The Shrine auditorium is at Twelfth and Harrison streets

Earl Makes Good

EARL SHEELY, former Salt Lake first-sacker now with the Chicago White Sox Chas. Comiskey thought he had grabbed a lemon when Earl failed to hit hard at the start of the season, but the big fellow has finally struck his stride and is making Comiskey smile

Public Links Player Leads All, Including Charles 'Chick' Evans

CHICAGO, July 12—E B Lloyd a Chicago public links player, yesterday set a record for the reconstructed course of the Westmoreland Country club and led the field on the qualifying round of the amateur championship of the Western Golf association with 35-36—71 2 under par for the 6504-yard course

Lloyd was closely pressed by James Manion of St Louis R E Knepper of Sioux City, Ia., champion who took 73 strokes each and H R Johnson St Paul, who took 74 strokes

'Chick' Evans defending his title for the fifth time, covered the links in 77 strokes

McCray's Pigeon Wins The Tribune Derby

The annual TRIBUNE Derby flown by the racing pigeons of the Pacific Homing Pigeon Club, from Seattle, Washington, to this city, was won by "Storm King," from the loft of J T. McCray. The bird arrived yesterday at 11 51-09 a m., the time consumed for the 700-mile aerial flight being 11 days

No other birds have been reported at time of going to press, although some of the other racers are probably in the vicinity of the Eastbay cities, as the weather has moderated to such an extent that the air racers can make up for lost time due to the heavy weather

To the winner goes the beautiful silver perpetual challenge cup donated by The OAKLAND TRIBUNE, and with the closing of this race the Old Bird Series for 1921 will be 'passe' until next spring

The young birds are already on the wing, and the largest entry of "baby" racers will compete in the events that start on September 3.

Three different types — but one quality throughout

From the makers of U.S. Royal Cords to the users of Fabric Tires

Their instinct for quality is as strong and insistent as any one else's.

Why, then, are they offered such hodge-podge stocks of "discount tires," "odd lots," "seconds," "retreads" and other so-called bargains of uncertain origin?

Sooner or later the public always seeks out quality. As a matter of self-protection—if for no other reason. The out-and-out opinion in favor of U.S. Fabric Tires has spread more this year than it ever did.

People have gotten very close to the U. S. policy. Felt it. Benefited by it. And passed the word along.

It's a policy settled to one standard for all U. S. Tires. Whether fabrics or cords. Small sizes or large.

All the original U. S. vitality and service comes through when you buy a U. S. Fabric Tire.

"Usco," "Chain," "Nobby." Three different treads.

Built by the same brains, the same policy, the same quality ideals that have made U. S. Royal Cords the standard measure of tire worth.

Horses Enter House, Interrupt Concert

LYNN, Mass., July 12.—Music may have power to soothe a savage beast, but its effect on a pair of nice tame milk-cart horses is not quieting. Miss Elizabeth Meslor was seated at a piano at her home when a pair of horses, drawing a milk truck crashed through the side of the house. After the animals were led out of the parlor the young woman resumed her playing.

Buried Loot Spurs Arizona Prospectors

BISBEE, Ariz., July 12.—Prospecting, an almost forgotten calling in this section, was resumed by many here recently when it became known that $17,500 stolen from the Bisbee postoffice, was buried in Sulphur Springs valley, near Bisbee.

Hardly a square mile in the valley has been overlooked by the "prospectors" who are searching for the money in the hope they will be rewarded by the government in the event of success.

Boston Frog Pond Again Open to Kids

BOSTON, July 4.—Boston Common's famous old "swimming hole," better known as the Frog Pond, is again open to the city's youngsters for paddling purposes. A new concrete bottom has been installed, transforming the pond into a basin.

CONDITIONS OF TRADE VIEWED IN THREE CENTERS

St. Paul, Pittsburgh and N. Y. Report; Commodity Trade Is Surveyed.

By Consolidated Press.
Special to Oakland TRIBUNE
By L. S. M'KENNA.

ST PAUL, July 12—The lack of confidence which has been holding back return of business to a normal basis is fast disappearing in this section Business men who a few months ago were pessimistic now see a turn in the tide and this sentiment is making things brighter in the Northwest

Trade conditions continue to improve in nearly all lines, and wholesale volume is a little larger than for a similar period last year Shoe factories are well employed and retailers who hesitated to place orders early now are finding difficulty in getting prompt shipments.

PITTSBURGH

By H. B. KAUFMAN.

PITTSBURGH, July 12.—The steel market is quiet and sales are in greater proportion than plant outputs In many instances purchases are being made from stock, but with reductions of stocks increase in production can be counted on. The price cuts of the Bethlehem Steel Company were not unexpected and further reduction in wages in the steel industry is not surprising. The leading sheet metal interests report the largest order for sheets designed for car roofs which has been received in a long time Oil producers plan extension of field development if their hopes that the proposal of a tariff on crude oil will advance prices are realized. Easing off of lake shipments has made an impression on coal production, leaving the market quiet and soft.

NEW YORK

By JAMES ALLERTON.

NEW YORK, July 12.—Many plants throughout this territory have to increase output Wholesalers, jobbers and retailers are busy. The retailers opened a vigorous advertising campaign designed to counteract any tendency to seasonal dullness. Some railroad shops have reopened with several thousand additional workmen to make car repairs The Delaware & Hudson shops put 1300 men to work. Woolen manufacturers and selling agents are looking forward to increased activity. Leaders in woolen lines express satisfaction with the business for fall and say they expect prices to continue at about present levels for the season next spring.

COMMODITY NEWS

DRUGS.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 12.—The first unit of the Atmospheric Nitrogen Corporations plant at Solvay will be finished and in operation August 1 with a large production of anhydrous ammonia a day. This is the first large plant in this country for commercial recovery of nitrogen from the air and hydrogen from water gas

DETROIT, July 12.—Parke, Davis & Co. report that the business in drugs, both foreign and domestic, is about 50 to 85 per cent of normal, orders being large in number but small in amount.

TEXTILES.

NEW YORK, July 12.—Investigation has shown that large quantities of lisle and mercerized hose of German manufacturers have been sold in this country recently. The goods are made, it is said, of yarns secured in England and elsewhere.

CANNED GOODS.

EUGENE, Ore., July 12.—An order for $25,000 worth of canned pears for shipment to England now is being filled here. This will clean up the fruit held in the Fruit Growers' Association warehouse here.

GRIDLEY, Calif., July 12.—Preparations are under way at the Libby, McNeill & Libby plant here for a peach pack which will exceed that of last season by at least 40,000 cases. Machinery is being shifted here from other plants of the company which will not operate this season.

ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT.

NEW YORK, July 12.—Electrical goods manufacturers have received word from Lima, Peru, that French and English goods receive preference there because they are better packed and arrive in better shape than American products.

ST. LOUIS, July 12.—Business is subnormal in electrical supplies in this territory, but prices, while low, are steady.

TOBACCO.

LANCASTER, Pa., July 12.—Cigar manufacturers have been steady purchasers of tobacco in this section, buying extensively of 1920 stock at 30 cents a pound for choice and 22 cents for lower grades. The 1921 acreage is reported fully up to expectations.

COAL.

NEW YORK, July 12.—It is understood that many coal mines in Eastern territory paid off their men the end of last week and told them to take all this week off as a vacation. Some pits, it is said, may not reopen at all during July.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 12.—Several railroad coal orders have just been placed here and indications are seen that the Southern roads soon will begin taking fuel more actively on renewed contracts. Prices to railroads are said to have been at somewhat lower prices.

JEWELRY.

NEW YORK, July 12.—New price lists by silversmiths recently issued show reductions in sterling silverware averaging 15 per cent. Silver plated toilet ware, silver plated hollow ware and novelties also were reduced. The lists state positively no further reductions will be made before January 1, 1922.

NEW YORK, July 12.—Diamonds never will be cheaper than they are today, according to Sir Ernest Oppenheimer of Johannesburg, who has just arrived here He bases this statement on the increase in labor costs and the fact that the mines are growing poorer with depth.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 12.—The demand for jewelry throughout the Southwest has shown a marked improvement in the last few weeks with steady and consistent buying on the part of the public.

FISH.

EASTPORT, Me., July 12.—Although the season is two months advanced, only one sardine cannery is in operation here. Stocks of sardines have been materially reduced, but the cost of canning is said to exceed present prices.

Cantaloupes Get Good Prices, But Workers Suffer

Picker Hands Complain of War Prices For Food and Lodging.

TURLOCK July 12—In the neighborhood of 120 crates of choice cantaloupes are leaving here daily by express, some for the eastern markets and the remainder to San Francisco. The quality is exceptional and prices are very satisfactory to the growers. Carload shipments will begin the latter part of this week.

While the growers are satisfied, as much cannot be said for the men employed as pickers and packers. They complain bitterly that room and board charges are as high now as during war times while wages have gone down The local union of the International Fruit and Vegetable Workers has appointed a committee to interview proprietors of eating places in an effort to obtain more favorable rates

Reno Stockman Hurt In Automobile Smash

LIVERMORE, July 12.—Quinton L Ferguson, prominent Reno cattleman and owner of the Bar-U ranch, is in a local hospital, suffering from several broken ribs and a fractured collar-bone, the result of an auto accident He will be out in a couple of weeks.

Ferguson who attended the rodeo, while leaving the home of his uncle, F. J Forman, lost a wheel from his car, throwing him onto the road He was picked up by a passing machine and rushed to the hospital

Alien Registration Will Begin July 21

SANTA ROSA, July 12.—Registration of Japanese in Sonoma county, in compliance with the alien tax law, will begin July 21. County Clerk W. W. Felt, Jr., has announced. Felt has been in conference with T. Asado, local Japanese "boss," and he says that he has the assurance of the "boss" that all Japs in this county will register on that day. Japs will be brought to Santa Rosa, where the work of registering them will be aided by an interpreter whom Felt has planned to bring to the county.

France Sends Much Brandy to Germany

PARIS July 12.—An increase in the exportations of wines and liquors from France in the first quarter of this year as compared with the same period of 1913 is a surprising discovery.

In the meantime France has lost two of her biggest customers for wines and brandies, Russia and the United States.

Of the brandies and liquors Germany took about half. Argentina, Turkey and England followed in that order.

Plan Would Strike At Race Suicide

PARIS, Jul. —A French lawyer suggests the following plan to remedy the tendency to depopulation and the shortage of homes: Building in the suburbs of cities concrete one-story houses costing about $1000 each; rent to young married couples for nine years with the stipulation that the birth of their first child shall reduce their rent one-quarter, a second child one-half, a third child three-quarters and the fourth will make the couple owners of the home.

Petaluma Notes

Petaluma's annual egg day celebration, August 20, is now absorbing the interest of our citizens, particularly H. W. Kerrigan, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Wide publicity is being given this festival and a very comprehensive program is nearly completed. From many sources come inquiries as to why not have a national egg day, to which Kerrigan replies: "That is our ultimate object."

EXPERT COUNTY BOOKS.

MARTINEZ, July 12. — V. L. Thompson and S. Kork, accountants of the Klink-Bean company of San Francisco, have started experting the county's books for the 1921 grand jury. Thompson was employed on the same task last year.

TO MARKET BONDS.

MARTINEZ, July 12. — H. H. Hunter of San Francisco is here making arrangements to put on the market $300,000 worth of first mortgage bonds issued by the Great Western Electro-Chemical Company of Pittsburg. The company recently completed installation of a bleaching plant costing that amount.

WOOL MARKET

NEW YORK, July 12—Wool weak. Domestic fleece, XX Ohio, 24@39c; domestic pulled, scoured basis, 18@67c; domestic Texas, scoured basis, 40@80c; domestic territory staple, scoured, 55@85c.

CLOTHING TRADE

NEW YORK, July 12—Pajamas are getting shorter. The latest models show the nether section of those garments reaching but a few inches below the knee with the trousers from the knee down, slashed and laced with a cord la Mexicaine. One of the new models is of silk tango Brisilia color embroidered with roses of heavy white silk floss and with a royal blue taffeta collar and pipes.

Serge is strongly emphasized in Paris as a material for the new fall dresses in the showing of the leading cutters, while cashmere, clocky silk and Chinese clocky also hold prominent places. Serges with a scattering of fine beads, others with stripes made up in a series of fine kinks and serges having deep color borders and scalloped edges are very popular. Motifs printed in dark blue on straw, silver on gray and black on pink offer striking examples of the Chinese clocky fabric.

The Three Guardsman has cast its romantic influence over the hat shops of Fifth avenue. The plumed hats of Athos, Porthos and Aramis have been copied with more or less faithfulness to detail for fall wear. Some of the more attractive models are of mulberry velvet trimmed with quantities of sand colored ostrich plumes which fall over the brim in the graceful curve that aided to make the younger Salvini, Sothern, Hackett and later Douglas Fairbanks, the idols of scores of feminine hearts.

NEW 'COT CROP ALREADY IS ON MOVE TO MARKET

Final Payment On 1920 Crop Made Half Cash, Half in Notes.

SAN JOSE, July 12.—The California Prune and Apricot Growers' association already has more than 1200 tons of dried apricots en route to eastern markets, according to information given out by officials of that organization today, and the work of drying and shipping is well under way both in this valley and in other parts of the state.

The 'cots shipped to date, the association states, are virtually all from the San Joaquin valley, having been shipped here before being headed for the eastern markets.

As has been stated before, the association is not making any guarantee of prices to the growers this year, but is bargaining with the independent growers and packers in the sale of the 1921 crop.

The growers, members of the association, were last Saturday mailed their second and final payments on the 1920 crop of apricots. They received half cash and half in notes on their second installments, it was stated. In explaining the use of notes in making part payment, the association gave out the following statement:

"Owing to the necessity of financing payment on the new crop, it is necessary for us to make this final 50 per cent in cash and 50 per cent in notes. We are trusting where you find it absolutely necessary your local banks will assist you on the security of these notes. If in any instance they are requiring any further information with reference to the association before attending same, please notify us and we will immediately take the matter up with them."

The association officials declared they expect no dissatisfaction with this arrangement.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, July 12.—The cotton market was less active in the early dealings today and first prices were 2 points lower to 4 points higher. The offerings were absorbed by shorts and commission houses and there was considerable hedge selling. At the end of the first fifteen minutes the market was dull, with prices about 2 points below yesterday's closing levels

The market was easy throughout the afternoon. The close was barely steady at a net decline of 13 to 36 points.

BIG PLANT SOON TO FIX NITROGEN OF ATMOSPHERE

Syracuse Project Recalls Prediction of Early Electrician.

By HOLLAND,
Exclusive to Oakland Tribune.

NEW YORK, July 12.—When one of the Niagara Falls hydro-electric power plants was in course of construction, George Westinghouse invited to inspect it a considerable company of men some of whom who were of high professional attainments, others had aided in financing the proposition, the governor of New York thought the enterprise of sufficient importance to visit it officially. At that time Westinghouse said that when this plan was completed large industries would be established at Niagara Falls and in addition to that the electric energy which would be generated there would be sufficient for lighting, heating and power purposes for the city of Buffalo. This energy would also be utilized by and by, he said, for industrial purposes in all Western and Central New York. He thought it likely that perhaps the greatest industry which made use of hydro-electric energy would in time be established as far east as Syracuse.

On August 1 this prediction is to be fulfilled. More than twenty years after it was made a great plant for the manufacture of nitrogen taken from the atmosphere will be in operation at Syracuse. This plant will be able to produce each day 20,000 pounds of anhydrous ammonia. It will produce nitrogen captured by a new process from the atmosphere and also will produce commercial hydrogen extracted from water gas.

BIG CORPORATIONS IN IT.

Some of the strongest corporations associated with the production of chemical commodities are interested in this undertaking. Already $3,000,000 has been invested. It is in contemplation to build nine more units from time to time. The initial cost of the complete plant will be not far from $30,000,000, it appears.

American inventors and men of science are understood to have worked out a new formula for taking nitrogen from the atmosphere. At one time the presumption was that we would be compelled to adopt the processes which are made use of in Norway. These processes were of important avail to Germany when the European war was in progress. In fact, had Germany been unable to obtain nitrogen by making use of the Norway process and presumably by buying some nitrogen from Norway, it would have been impossible for her to have carried on the war.

CAME FROM AMERICA.

The new process, the details of which are not fully published, will, it is understood, make it possible to take nitrogen out of the atmosphere and convert it to commercial use at much less cost than the Norway process.

The Norway process was first suggested by the results obtained by an American in the use of hydro-electric currents. This inventor, however, was unable to obtain financial aid. There happened to be in the United States at that time a small group of men of science who were Norwegians. They were much impressed by the American discovery and received permission to experiment with it in Norway. The waterpower in Norway is abundant. It was in this way the Norwegians secured to commercial advantage atmospheric nitrogen.

Now the establishment of this new and large plant at Syracuse appears to have been based upon discoveries and inventions made by Americans which differ from the Norwegian process. The industry will, when it is completed, be recognized as the largest single user of the electric current in Western and in Central New York. This current will be delivered from Niagara Falls 150 miles distant.

Soon after the Niagara Falls plant was completed Westinghouse's prediction that large industries would be speedily established there was found to be correct. The discovery made by Hall of a process for manufacturing aluminum by artificial means and by the utilization of hydro-electric energy was almost coincident in point of time with the completion of the Niagara Falls plant. Therefore the aluminum industries was established at Niagara and it has become one of the great American industries.

CARBORUNDUM PLANT.

A little while after this aluminum plant was established and put in operation Dr. E. G. Acheson, who had discovered carborundum and was manufacturing it at Pittsburgh, decided that it would be necessary to obtain a much larger amount of electric energy than he could obtain at Pittsburgh. He therefore established his plant at Niagara Falls but when he asked for the delivery of the equivalent of a hundred thousand horsepower in electric energy to his plant he met with some hesitation, there being doubt as to whether so large an amount in a single unit could be furnished by the company. It was furnished, however, and out of that grew one of the greatest American industries. With it is associated Mellon, now Secretary of the Treasury, who greatly aided in financing and building up this industry.

Now, however, electric energy created at Niagara Falls is being delivered to a plant 150 miles away and in such amount as to make this plant the largest single user of electric energy in Central and Western New York. The manufacture of nitrogen taken from the atmosphere to commercial advantage will, it is expected, make the United States independent of the world so far as one of the ingredients in the manufacture of fertilizer is concerned.

BUSINESS and FINANCE

Local attention was attracted today by a sharp advance in the stock of the Durant Motors Corporation of New York which has become an active issue on the New York curb market. The stock is allied to that of Durant Motors of California which latter issue, however, is not listed and is being traded in only privately.

The advance carried the New York issue up to an asked quotation of 27, as reported by E. F. Hutton & Co. The stock sold yesterday at 22 on the New York curb.

Officers of the California were well pleased over the showing of strength made in the parent concern.

Coupled with the trading in Durant Motors in the New York curb have come Dow Jones reports that it was the understanding of the market that the company had advance orders for 20,000 motor cars on its books, although it is not yet in production.

No statement has been made by the company in this regard, according to A. L. Watmington of the Oakland executive staff. Watmington indicated that the California company had made no such recapitulation and was inclined to ascribe the New York report to bull traders on the curb, although he said that the Durant advance orders were large enough to justify optimism.

FORESTRY POLICY MEETINGS AUGUST 3-6.

The National Chamber of Commerce committee on forestry policy has announced dates of meetings in Pacific coast states at which it expects to obtain expression views on forestry questions. Meetings will be held at Spokane, July 23 and 24; Seattle, July 26 and 27; Portland, July 28 to August 2, and in San Francisco, August 3 to 6. At this latter meeting all bay interests desirous will be heard.

CANNED FRUIT PRICES NEARLY HALF LOWER.

Definite opening prices of the California Packing Corporation on Del Monte canned fruits are expected within a few days but it has been definitely established by a tentative list just issued that they will mark important reductions from the 1920 level.

The tentative list generally is 35 to 49 per cent lower than last year. Peaches it is pointed out, have been cut enough to permit a 30-cent retail price.

That the tentative price list will be closely along the lines of the opening price list is made evident by a guarantee of the packers against jobbers' opening quotations that salesmen may begin to take orders.

The tentative schedule on the three standard grades is:

Apples	..	..	....
Apricots	2.65	1.80	9.10
Apricots, peeled	2.50	1.75	10.30
Apricots sliced	2.50	1.75	10.30
Blackberries	2.55	2.20	12.35
Cherries, black	...	...	....

" Royal Anne	2.65	2.15	11.75
Grapes, Muscat	2.05	1.75	9.40
Loganberries	2.75	2.25	12.35
Peaches, yel. free	2.05	1.60	8.56
Peaches, yel cling	2.15	1.65	9.15
Peaches, Melba halves	...	...	....
Peaches, Y. C. sliced	2.15	1.65	9.15
Peaches, White cling	2.15	1.65	9.15
Peaches, W. C. sliced	2.15	1.65	9.15
Pears, Bartlett	2.75	2.15	12.05
Plums, De Luxe	1.85	1.56	9.15
Plums, Egg	1.75	1.50	8.85
Plums, Green Gage	1.75	1.50	8.85
Raspberries	2.95	2.25	13.55
Strawberries	3.35	2.75	15.90

From this list some measure of the reduction may be pointed out. No. 2 tal strawberries which last year were $6.50 are seen to be $3.75; raspberries are cut from $6.65 to $2.95; Logans are $2.75 where they were $5 and blackberries are $2.25 instead of $4.15 of last year.

WINTER PROSPECTING PLANNED IN MEXICO.

Amplifying somewhat his statements relative to the high state or apparent value in western Mexican placer gravel deposits over which he holds a long term working concession, Ralph L. Vander Naillen, Oakland mining engineer, has announced plans for intensive prospecting.

This prospecting will be started in October by an operating party probably of about four-score workers over whom Vander Naillen will take personal direction. The party will spend the entire winter boring in the gravel beds of the four rivers covered by the concession to determine where to locate dredges.

The prospecting would be started earlier but that it is feared the Mexican summer rains seriously would interfere.

The operations, it is indicated are backed by ample capital.

"We have only made preliminary examination," Vander Naillen said. "The appearance is that the prospects are of the highest class but as to the ultimate actualities, only on further investigation will show. There were about thirty-five in our preliminary prospecting party this spring. This number will be about doubled in the coming operations."

Vander Naillen will spend his summer organizing for the winter work. The concession granted by the Obregon government, terms of which are disclosed only in part, gives several years for the completion of deep drilling and the setting up of dredges.

Some sub claims have been allowed but the vast area involved, many hundreds of square miles, will not be generally parcelled out to other than company prospectors until the closer examinations have been made, it is understood.

DOHENY LIST FEELS HARDING TAX STAND.

Definite stand taken by President Harding last night in opposition to any oil imports tax had a distinct effect in trading today, even while the market generally was dull. The chief gains were made by the Doheny stocks, the Mexican and Pan petroleums. The opening sale of the day on Mexican Petroleum was up 2 points. From yesterday's low of 93¾ the stock rose to a high of 102 today, and closed a half point above 100. Pan American sold up to 50 from a low of 48. Propaganda for an oil tariff had been one of the strong deterrents to recovery of the Doheny group. The market apparently believed that the stand of President Harding will settle the issue.

EGGS TAKE SHARPEST JUMP OF RISE.

Eggs took the sharpest jump yet recorded on their present rising market today, when they were quoted up to 5 cents a dozen to 44½ cents. Yesterday the gain on extra was only ½ cent. The gain has now been 7 cents since last Thursday and further advances are anticipated although some market men believed that after the quotation today, a recession might be felt before the continuance of the advance.

SHIPPING BOARD BIDS TO DISCLOSE NEW POLICY.

Sealed bids which are to be opened on July 30 at the offices of the United States Shipping Board in Washington for 285 Wooden ships owned by the board today were advertised here. The vessels are of nine types and range from 2500 to 4900 in deadweight tonnage. Inspection, it is announced, can be arranged through the board's bay offices.

The bids, says the board, must be for cash or satisfactory guarantee, and be accompanied by a certified check to the amount of 10 per cent of the bid.

All of the vessels were war built, but says the board announcement, "unsuited for the homogeneous fleet contemplated in the merchant marine act of 1920."

The sale is the first general one of importance conducted by the re-organized Shipping Board and is in line with the new policy to get off the board's hands and books, thousands of tons in deadweight ship property, even at the expenses of whatever losses it is necessary to set down. The wooden vessels, it is expected, will go at very low figures. It is considered probable by shipping men that the present offering will have to be followed by a number of others as there is little chance of a general demand now except at extreme bargain prices.

Deliberations of the board upon the permits will be watched as tending to indicate how far it is prepared to go in writing off war losses.

American merchant tonnage increased by more than 131 per cent since the beginning of the war, according to a statement issued today by the Bureau of Navigation at Washington. During the last fiscal year, the statement said, the increase was more than 2,000,000 gross tons including 1,090,000 gross tons in Shipping Board vessels.

The total documented shipping at the close of the fiscal year was given at 28,500 vessels of 18,350,000 gross tons, including 3723 seagoing vessels of 5000 gross tons or more, 238 of them being ocean passenger steamers. The Shipping Board owns 1798 vessels of 7,993,000 gross tons.

GREATEST OIL FLOW OF HISTORY IN MAY.

According to the United States Geological Survey, as reported by the National Chamber of Commerce, the production of petroleum in the country in May amounted to 41,920,000 barrels, the greatest ever recorded in one month.

The average daily production of 1,352,258 barrels represented an increase of 16,891 barrels over April. The estimated value at the wells of the oil produced during May, about $66,000,000, contrasted with $113,000,000, the value of the 36,503,000 barrels produced during May, 1920, emphasizes the shrinkage in value due to the precipitous fall in prices of crude oil that has taken place since the beginning of the current year.

Daily average consumption of domestic and imported crude oil during May, 1921, decreased 77,414 barrels, and the total daily average consumption of 1,354,419 barrels amounted to only 2161 barrels a day more than domestic production. Although imports decreased slightly to a daily average of 295,078 barrels, there was a net increase in stocks during the month of more than 8,000,000 barrels. Pipe-line and tank-farm stocks of domestic petroleum and stocks of Mexican petroleum held in the United States by importers on the last day of May, a total of 155,341,000 barrels, equivalent to 115 days' supply at the current rate of consumption, are the greatest on record. Imports of crude oil for May, which amounted to 9,147,416 barrels, show a decrease in daily average as compared with April of 39,719 barrelss, although for the first five months of the year imports increased more than 25,000,000 barrels as compared with the similar period of 1920.

NOTES.

The Southern Oil Corporation and the Kansas and Gulf Oil Company, Mid-Continental Field Producers, have merged. The Southern announced its capitalization at $3,000,000 and the Kansas at $10,000,000. R. S. Ayres, Chicago, is president of the former and H. L. Moured, Chicago, head of the latter.

New York Central earned $5.90 a share on stock in 1920 against $7.56 in 1919.

American foreign trade fell off more than $3,000,000,000 in the year ended June 30. Exports totaled $6,519,000,000, against $8,108,000,000. Imports $3,666,000,000 against $5,238,000,000 Dow Jones and Company reports, advancing government figures today.

Incoming orders of Endicott Johnson for last two months have been running 25 to 50 per cent ahead of last year in actual price results, and the factory is running up to capacity, it is stated.

HARDING'S STAND AGAINST TARIFF ON OILS IS FELT

Doheny and Other Stocks On N. Y. Change Stronger As Result.

NEW YORK, July 12.—Foreign oils were strong at the opening of today's stock market in response to reports of President Harding's disapproval of the proposed import taxes in raw and refined products of oil character.

Mexican and Pan-American Petroleums scored early gains of 3 and 2 points respectively. General Asphalt rose 2½ and Atlantic Gulf advanced 1½.

Baldwin Locomotive, Harvester, Studebaker, Endicott Johnson and Famous Players also strengthened substantially with Reading and North Pacific. The only laggard was Sears-Roebuck which fell half a point.

Mexican Petroleum increased its gain to 4½ points and Royal Dutch and Sinclair were added to the other strong and active oils. Equipments and some of the independent steels made material advances and Sears-Roebuck rallied easily.

Motors, coppers, leathers, textiles and tobaccos indicated extensive short covering and some of the minor rails hardened. There was some profit taking, with extreme reactions of 1 to 2 points before noon, due in part to the six per cent opening rate for call money.

Mexican Petroleum wavered in the later dealings, but other leaders held half way between high and low prices of the morning. The closing was steady.

On the whole trading was unusually dull and narrow. Oils and kindred issues strengthened on short covering. Sales only approximated 350,000 shares.

WAR COSTS FOUR BILLION IN LAST YEAR, U. S. FINDS

Treasury Figures Show Public Tax Go Three-Quarters To God Mars.

By RALPH COUCH,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—War, past present and future cost the United States nearly $4,000,000,000 in the fiscal year ended July 1. Treasury Department records showed today.

Seventy-five cents out of each dollar of the taxpayers went into bills arising from war or preparation for war.

Other nations are spending as great or greater percentage of their income for war. This explains why the people are bringing pressure on their governments to accept President Harding's invitation for a disarmament conference.

Tax collections for the year totaled $5,115,928,000, while disbursements for war purposes amounted to $3,836,928,000 without taking into account millions paid out in pensions by the pension bureau, by the war risk bureau and a score of other expenditures by departments which are not generally classified as war-conducting branches of the government.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 12.—Bullish crop reports from the Northwest brought about an upturn in wheat prices today. Opening quotations which ranged from ¼ to 1½c higher with September $1.18½ to $1.19 and December $1.22 to $1.22½, were followed by moderate additional gains, and then something of a reaction.

Emphasis on black rust developments in the Northwest, together with European drouth news served to increase buying later and to raise values sharply. The close was strong, 5¾ to 6½ net higher with September $1.24¼ to $1.24½, and December $1.27 to $1.27¼.

Corn after opening 1-8 @¼ to 1½c higher with September 60¾ to 61c, scored a further advance.

Oats started 1-8 to 3-8@½c up, September 38 3-8c to 38½c, and later hardened still more.

Corn, No. 2 mixed, 62c; No. 2 yellow, 62@63c.

Oats, No. 2 white, 35¾@37¼c; No. 3 white, 33¾@34.

The close:

Wheat—September, $1.24¼; December, $1.27.

Corn—September, 62½c; December, 61⅜c.

DRIED FRUITS

NEW YORK, July 12.—Dried fruits active. Apricots, 22@27½c; prunes, 30s to 60s, 8¾@15½c; prunes, 60s to 100s, 6@8½c; peaches, 13@17c; seeded raisins, 17@22c.

Consider These Points!

IF you have money to invest, it will pay you to consider General Petroleum Corporation Ten Year 7% Notes from the following important angles:

1. These Notes are the sole bonded debt of a soundly established corporation whose properties, according to latest balance sheet, are worth more than five times total indebtedness. Closed first mortgage security.

2. Earnings available for interest now running at more than eight times interest charges.

3. Every Note will be paid off at the fixed price of 105 and interest. A minimum of $500,000 par value of Notes will be redeemed each year, thus insuring excellent marketability.

4. At 99¼, the yield ranges from 7½ to 15 per cent, depending upon the year your Notes are redeemed. Exempt from personal property taxes in California and from 2% normal Federal Income Tax.

PACIFIC FOOD PRICES AND WORLD'S COMMERCE

"COT" PRICES UP UNDER PRESSURE OF FEWER FRUIT

Season of Best Offerings Now Declining; Tomatoes Cheaper.

Stiffening is beginning to be apparent in the apricot market. Prices in Oakland yesterday and today have gained materially.

The reason is the approaching termination of the best crops of apricots. Quantities of fruit in the Hayward region remain to come in, but this, it is declared, will be chiefly of second-class variety because of earlier damage.

Buying has been active and large offerings of culls have been absorbed by the market with the rest.

Boxes today brought up to $2.50.

The tide of tomato delivery is beginning to move toward the flood. Deliveries are being made here now from the south and from all valley sections. Stockton, Merced and San Pedro tomatoes are competing for buyers. There is a heavy local consumption but it was not enough today to keep prices from weakening materially. Southern crates could be had today for $2.50 and below while Stockton lugs sold down to $4.50.

Some offerings of fancy Oregon cherries are attracting market attention, but are at high price, boxes averaging a little above 10 pounds being quoted at $2.50. Other cherries except from a scattered offering now and then are practically gone from the market.

Bearish news is being circulated in the market among canned goods jobbers relative to canned peas. Higher prices are anticipated. The chief reason given is that the California Packing Corporation pack this year is being cut to fewer than 30,000 cases. There were more than five times that many canned last year, a large part of which pack was sold over this season. The situation also is affected by insect damage to the Wisconsin crop, an important one, and by comparatively recent frost damage in Colorado.

Higher prices are obtaining for Loganberries on the Oakland market. The offerings are coming in slower. There were steady sales at 45 cents a drawer today. Strawberries continue of poor quality.

The Waterfront

The seagulls of the bay cities have most all left here for their summer vacation, and are now along the Capitola and Santa Cruz beaches feeding from the campers there. The seals at the Cliff House have also deserted and have gone north in search of salmon. All will return as soon as the season is over. Only a few gulls remain in the bay, but not a single seal is on the rocks at the cliff.

It has been announced at Portland that all the marine unions there, except the engineers, have voted to go back to work on steam schooners tied up at Oakland Harbor, which will again enter the lumber trade. The Charles Nelson Company is to begin operation of eight of its lumber vessels in a few days.

The Japanese steamer Seine Maru, which is unloading coal at Oakland Harbor, will leave here on Saturday for the Columbia river, where she will load a cargo of 9000 tons of grain for the United Kingdom.

Twenty vessels arrived through the Golden Gate during the past twenty-four hours from all parts of the world. This is the largest list of arrivals for one day since the marine passed out during the same time-in strike was called. Fifteen vessels eluding five of the warships which were here over the holidays. These craft are bound for the Bremerton navy yard at Puget Sound.

The new motor ship Kennecott will hold an open hour for visitors tomorrow afternoon. She arrived here yesterday from the Atlantic coast, and is now unloading part of her cargo at Pier 23.

Three Japanese steamers are chartered to load grain, lumber and flour at Portland for the Orient and Asiatic ports during the month of August. They are the Koshon Maru, Orodono Maru, and the Mandason Maru, all now en route to the Pacific Coast with Oriental cargoes.

The steamer Western Front, en which had a fire in her bunkers on Sunday while at Portland, is reported today as still burning. She has been laid up at Portland since April 26.

The steamer Western Front, en route to London from Jacksonville, is reported on fire, and will be a total loss. The crew was taken off and placed aboard the British steamer Earle. The vessel was deserted six miles off Bishope Rocks.

Change of masters registered at the U. S. Custom House:

Captain Harold Warner, steamer West Calera; Captain L. F. Bowers, steamer Major Wheeler; Captain O. A. Doewertz, schooner Forester, Captain Joseph Santos tanker Kern, Captain Charles Young, gas launch Piru.

The following notice to mariners has been sent out:

California—San Francisco Bay—San Francisco Bay North End Gas Buoy 6, reported on July 8 to have dragged 800 yards 256 degrees (SW X W ¼ W Mag) from its correct position into 11¼ fathoms of water will be replaced as soon as practicable.

By authority of Commissioner of Lighthouses.

H. W. RHODES,
Superintendent of Lighthouses.

LET YOUR DOLLARS GROW IN AN OAKLAND INDUSTRY

The Shartzer Illuminated License Plate is the latest device to insure public safety from many angles. State Motor Vehicle Departments, Insurance Companies, and traffic organizations have long sought such a device that was practical and economical.

The Shartzer plate fills that want in practicability, and costs the State but 80 cents; yet gives the Company good profit.

The market is firmly established, more than 10,000,000 licensed motor vehicles in the United States alone. Some States have passed laws requiring illuminated plates and other States will shortly, without a doubt, as it means a big saving to the States and auto owners.

The Shartzer Illuminated License Plate Company is incorporated under the strict corporation laws of the State of California, and its affairs are in the hands of widely-known and competent men.

The Officers and Directors Are:

THOMAS F. SHARTZER, President, Master Mariner Southern Pacific Co.
C. DeWITT De MAR, Vice-President and Managing Director, General Manager Diamond Signal Co.
H. WILLIAM NELLE, Secretary and Treasurer, former Manager San Francisco Ad Club.

DIRECTORS

C. DeWITT De MAR — A. D. PLUHGOFF, General Manager J. W. Leavitt Co.
THOMAS F. SHARTZER — GEORGE C. GORDON, Merchant of Rio Vista
J. R. MILLAR, President California Cotton Mills
NORMAN DeVAUX, President Chevrolet Motor Company

The plant under construction is located in Oakland at 19th Avenue, on an arm of the waterfront, and the industrial experts who have studied the plans are loud in their praise of the design and substantial building, which is very modern in every way.

The Shartzer Plate is fully protected by the United States Patent Laws.

Capitalization $1,000,000, divided into ten thousand shares at $100 per share, all common stock, of which practically one-quarter has been subscribed (over $100,000 in the last ten days).

Stock can be purchased for cash in full, or if more convenient 20% cash and balance on terms not exceeding ten equal monthly installments without interest.

This is a very high class investment, promising exceptional returns to the investor who acts at once.

Wonderful opportunity for a few live wire salesmen, preferably those having experience in Auto and Insurance lines.

Portuguese Women's Order Shows Growth

NINE HUNDRED MEMBERS ADDED IN LAST YEAR

Treasury Shows $380,000 On Hand; Sessions Close Thursday.

Nine hundred members have been added to the roster of the Supreme Council of the Sociedade Portugueza Rainha Santa Isabel, the Portuguese women's fraternal order, during the past year, bringing the present membership up to 9050 throughout the State, according to the annual report of Mrs. M. C. Enos Freitas, supreme president of the order, which she presented to the business session of the twenty-first annual convention today.

Her report, together with that of other supreme officers, showing the strong financial position of the order was presented amidst the applause of the delegates. The treasurer's report indicated that there is $380,000 at present in the treasury of the order, and that up to the close of the fiscal year $529,000 had been paid to members in benefits since the founding of the organization, 21 years ago.

TO PRODUCE DRAMA.

Preparations were being completed today for the production of the historical drama, "D. Filipa de Vilhena," a classic of Portuguese literature, at the Auditorium tonight under the auspices of the S. P. R. S. I. and for the benefit of the famine-stricken people of the Cape Verde islands. The play, which deals with one of the most important events in Portuguese history, will be presented in the Portuguese language by a group of local amateurs under the direction of M. C. Simas.

All of the business sessions today were occupied with the presentation of the officers' reports. Tomorrow morning there will be the nomination of officers for the coming year and tomorrow afternoon will be presented an exemplification of the S. P. R. S. I. ritual by the present supreme officers. Tomorrow evening will be the banquet at the Hotel Oakland for the delegates and their friends, at which more than 300 will be seated at the banquet table.

BANQUET TOMORROW.

The banquet is an important annual affair with the organization and will be in charge of Mrs. Anna C. Martin of Oakland, secretary of the supreme board of directors.

Thursday business sessions are to be devoted to winding up the business affairs of the convention and the election of officers. These officers will be installed at public ceremonies to be held in the ivory ballroom of the Hotel Oakland Thursday evening, preceding the grand ball to be held in the Oakland auditorium. In charge of arrangements for the installation ceremonies are Mrs. M. S. Brazil, of Oakland, Miss M. F. Medairos of Petaluma and Mrs. M. C. Tavares of Sacramento. Arrangements for the grand ball are in the hands of a committee headed by Mrs. May Madaria of San Leandro.

The grand ball will close the twenty-first convention which according to assembled delegates has marked the close of one of the most prosperous years in the organization's history.

A group of the officers of the S. P. R. S. I. who are directing the twenty-first annual convention now in session here. Standing (left to right) are MISS M. F. MADEIROS, Petaluma, past president; MRS. M. LAWRENCE, Hayward, grand guard; MRS. M. DIAS, Oakland, finance committee; MRS. M. ANDRADE, San Rafael, finance committee; MRS. M. SILVEIRA, San Leandro, grand director; MISS L. RODRIGUEZ, Oakland, grand mistress of ceremonies, and MRS. I. LEWIS, San Leandro, grand treasurer. Seated (left to right) are MRS. R. SARMENTOS, Oakland, past president; MRS. M. C. E. FREITAS, San Leandro, grand president, and MRS. M. C. SIMAS, Oakland, first vice-president.

Great Fire Sweeps Hamburg Shipyards

BERLIN, July 12.—Fire which broke out in the Blohme & Voss shipyards at Hamburg last night caused damages amounting to many millions of marks. The timber sheds, with great quantities of building material, were destroyed.

Two Bank Robbers End Lives in Field

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

TERLTON, Okla., July 12.—Two men who robbed the First State Bank here of $1300 yesterday, were found dead in a cornfield by a sheriff's posse. It is believed that the men shot themselves.

Only 6 Per Cent of Preston Boys Fail, Says Teacher

Lack of education and improper supervision in the home were given as reasons for the large number of boys sent to reform schools and jails by R. A. Lang, investigator for the Preston School of Industry, to members of the Kiwanis Club at their weekly luncheon at the Hotel Oakland. For that reason, Lang said, courses of study and instruction in professional, business and mechanical training are provided at the Preston School so that the minds and education of the inmates of the school can be built up.

Only about 6 per cent of the boys released from the school when they have reached twenty-one years of age, ever return to the school for violation of parole, Lang said, in relating the work completed by the school. He cited statistics showing results of work for two years in which 910 boys were released from the school; thirty-four returned for additional instruction; eighteen sent to either jail or prison for committing serious crimes, and forty-seven wandered away to distant parts of the nation where nothing could be learned of their actions after they left the school.

When a boy is released from the school he agrees to the following rules and regulations, Lang said:

1. He must send in a quarterly report to the superintendent of the school.
2. He must have steady employment.
3. He must save his money and invest it.
4. His general conduct must be good.
5. He must keep out of trouble.

Just like the businessmen of the state build factories and work to maintain them in the business world, so the Preston School of Industry builds men from the neglected boys who have been shunted to one side of the community because they did not secure proper education and supervision in the home, Lang said in concluding his address.

LEAGUE LEADER FAILS TO ACCEPT CITY BOARD POST

Attitude of Leroy Goodrich Leaves Civil Service Office Unfilled.

Council sessions clicking off like well-oiled machines, a conspicuous absence of the friction that has characterized the meetings for a number of years, and the excitement attendant upon a change of city administration, cannot detract all of the attention of the city hall from politics.

It is given out today that Leroy Goodrich, head of the Good Government League, has been offered a place on the Civic Service Commission to succeed Ralph Beebe. Goodrich does not wish the place and the matter is still up in the air. There is some talk that another change is planned on the board and that an issue may be forced by Mayor Davie within a few weeks. Beebe has resigned. Major Harry Huber's term expired July 1 and he is now holding office pending the appointment of his successor or until he is reappointed.

OLD ISSUES REVIVED.

Clauses in the proposed charter for city and county government bear close similarity to two that were defeated by popular vote in Oakland, according to Commissioner W. H. Edwards. These sections, Edwards says, are the ones that provide that employees of the city shall have no right to appeal to the Civil Service Board when discharged, and one that the recall petitions must be made out before the city clerk and signed there, making all citizens travel to his office. When Oakland voted on these proposals, fostered by Commissioners Morse and Soderberg and former City Attorney H. L. Hagan, an overwhelming vote in opposition was recorded.

HARMONY BEWILDERING.

For a whole week there has not been a battle, spat, attack, insinuation, innuendo, fracas, disagreement, dispute, sarcasm, satire, rebuke or snappy remark in the City Council. The first week of the new Davie-Colburn-Carter-Baccus administration has been marked by peace, harmony and quick work, causing city hall employees to look lost and bewildered. They are not yet acclimatized to it.

The present beatific condition, it is asserted by old-timers, has not existed since the days of a bygone city administration, when all the commissioners met before Councilmeeting and settled their differences behind closed doors, appearing later in the Council with decisions all made on every matter which came up.

The former administration, assert the old-timers, showed splendid harmony, and its public sessions were quick and snappy, everything being "cut and dried" in the pre-Council session.

"INFORMAL" DISCUSSIONS.

Members of the present administration assert they will not go quite so far as to have regular pre-Council sessions at all times, although perhaps matters may be "discussed informally" before the Council meets.

Commissioner Frank Colbourn of the department of public health and safety started an innovation when he announced Saturday that the Oakland police force will not be kept in swaddling clothes and kept immune from the temptations of the wicked world, but will be "chucked" right into the maelstrom.

"I do not believe in keeping policemen from temptation," says Colbourn. "The best way is to put 'em right up against temptation. Then they can soon prove themselves."

The new administration, however, denies that it is planning to allow an "easy rein" and perhaps a "wide open town," as has been rumored in some quarters.

"The law," says Colbourn, "is the law. It is above administrations. It must be supported."

Warrant Issued for Rice, But Nobody Will Serve It

Threatened action toward straightening out the legal difficulties that have arisen with the issuance of a warrant in Oakland for the arrest of George Graham Rice, mining broker, and the Child Barclay company of Salt Lake, on charges of violating the state corporation act, resolved today into a series of fits and starts, occasioned brief reactions at three points on the bay, and then quieted down, as they used to say, to await eventualities.

It is a case of ring-around-the-rosey, with the Oakland Police department, the district attorney's office and the office of the State Commissioner of Corporations doing the nimble dance. In the meantime, all of the telegraph wires between Oakland and Salt Lake have been kept singing with queries from Rice, from the Child Barclay company, and from others desirous of knowing the status of the case, the intentions of the law, and what it is all about.

DECOTO PASSES ISSUE.

Informed today that everything had been left in his hands and that the state corporation commission was looking to him for action, District Attorney Ezra Decoto started the first of the day's reverberating queries. "How can I issue extradition papers when no one is arrested?" he asked. "I am ready to do everything I can to prove that extradition is possible, and I will act as soon as the warrant is served. Until it is served, however, there is nothing I can do."

The warrant, it was explained, is being dusted off daily in the office of the Police department, where it is a sore subject, a bone of contention, and a causus belli.

"We are not serving the warrant," said Captain Richard McSorley, "because we were instructed by Deputy Corporation Commissioner Easton to hold up the paper until we heard from him. Easton said he would be over today, the first thing in the morning, but he has not shown up. Everybody in Salt Lake and half the points east is telegraphing us to know what we are doing. Why doesn't Easton make up his mind?"

McSorley and the police department had a number of other views concerning the matter, all to the same general effect.

EASTON TELLS VERSION

Across the bay, Deputy Commissioner Easton today admitted that he favored a delay, and was the man responsible. "We wish to make a deeper investigation," he said, "and are holding up the warrant until we have it finished. This will make it easier and better for everyone concerned."

In the meantime Charles Fickert, former district attorney of San Francisco, has notified District Attorney Ezra Decoto that whatever turns up should be transmitted and translated across the bay, as he, Fickert, is attorney for Rice. The Child Barclay company has sent two night letters to the district attorney in which is quoted what purports to be a letter to Governor Stephens asking that he demand an apology from Corporation Commissioner E. C. Bellows for alleged defamatory statements concerning the company. One of the letters said that the basis for the criminal action against it is contained in a circular sent to various persons in California June 22, requesting them to buy Bingham Galena mining stock. The letter says:

"If we have violated any California laws, then every member of our Salt Lake stock exchange, and other stock exchanges in other cities, including San Francisco, are violating the law every day. We execute orders for listed stock that comes from anywhere.

"The sale of this stock was authorized June 18 by the State Securities Commission, and it is underwritten treasury stock. Neither we nor George Graham Rice have been in California in months, nor have we solicited sales, except for delivery in Utah."

15,000 Foreign War Veterans Are Invited

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—General William M. Wright, commander of the Ninth Corps Area of the Army, will be the guest of honor at a formal dinner to be given here on the night of July 20 by the California Commandery Military Order of Foreign Wars. Major-General Wright will be the principal speaker and will make an address on "The Organized Reserves."

Invitations were mailed today and a large attendance is expected from the 15,000 men in the Ninth Reserve Corps, of which 1400 are within 50 miles of San Francisco.

BODY NOT RECOVERED.

MARTINEZ, July 12. — Failing after a two days' search to find any trace of the body of Robert Harper, teamster, who committed suicide Friday night by drowning, a half dozen persons who have dragged Carquinez straits have abandoned their task. It is believed the body has been carried far down the tralts by the tide. Harper jumper from the municipal pier here.

SCHOOLS CLOSED WITH ONLY $1317 IN SALARY FUND

One More Day of Operation and Deficit Was Due, Board Is Told.

On the day when schools were closed, early this summer, the Board of Education only had $1317 in all salary funds, according to a report by Business Manager Lloyd Barzee last night.

The elementary salary fund was overdrawn $25.02, according to Barzee, and the high school fund overdrawn $69.82, but the city school support fund had some money left and the kindergartens had $13.61 on hand.

Barzee said that, considering the size of the department and the number of employees, the $1317 constituted a narrow margin which might have been swallowed up in another day of operations. The report was filed.

Bids for various articles of school furniture were awarded to several competing firms, and the rest of the meeting was routine. Director Daisy Short protested that there has been little information given the directors about bids and requested that each director hereafter be given a copy of such bids instead of voting on the matter as part of a routine. The suggestion will be taken up later.

Sufferings of Donner Party Sketched by Tribune Bureau

The ill-fated Donner party was the subject of a recent query to the Information Bureau of The TRIBUNE, when a reader asked: "Will you kindly give a brief history of the Donner party?"

The party started from Illinois in April, 1846. It was organized in Sangamon county, Illinois, by George and Jacob Donner and James F. Reed. The starting place was Springfield, Ill. Families from Iowa, Illinois, Tennessee, Missouri and Ohio formed the real Donner party, which numbered ninety members. The party started for California and almost half the members perished near Donner lake in the high Sierras, three miles from Truckee, Calif. The dead numbered forty-two and the survivors numbered forty-eight. The party was finally rescued by parties from nearby towns in California in the spring of 1847. Among the terrible hardships suffered by the party were starvation, snow storms and attacks by Pawnee Indians.

The TRIBUNE'S Information Bureau will answer all questions of a general nature except school or legal problems, debates, trade and firm names and queries as to the time of day.

The Bureau is open every day except Sunday from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m.

If answers are desired by mail, stamps must be enclosed. Quickest results can be obtained by telephoning to the Bureau. If you have any problems of a general nature to solve ask The TRIBUNE Information Bureau. Lakeside 6000.
